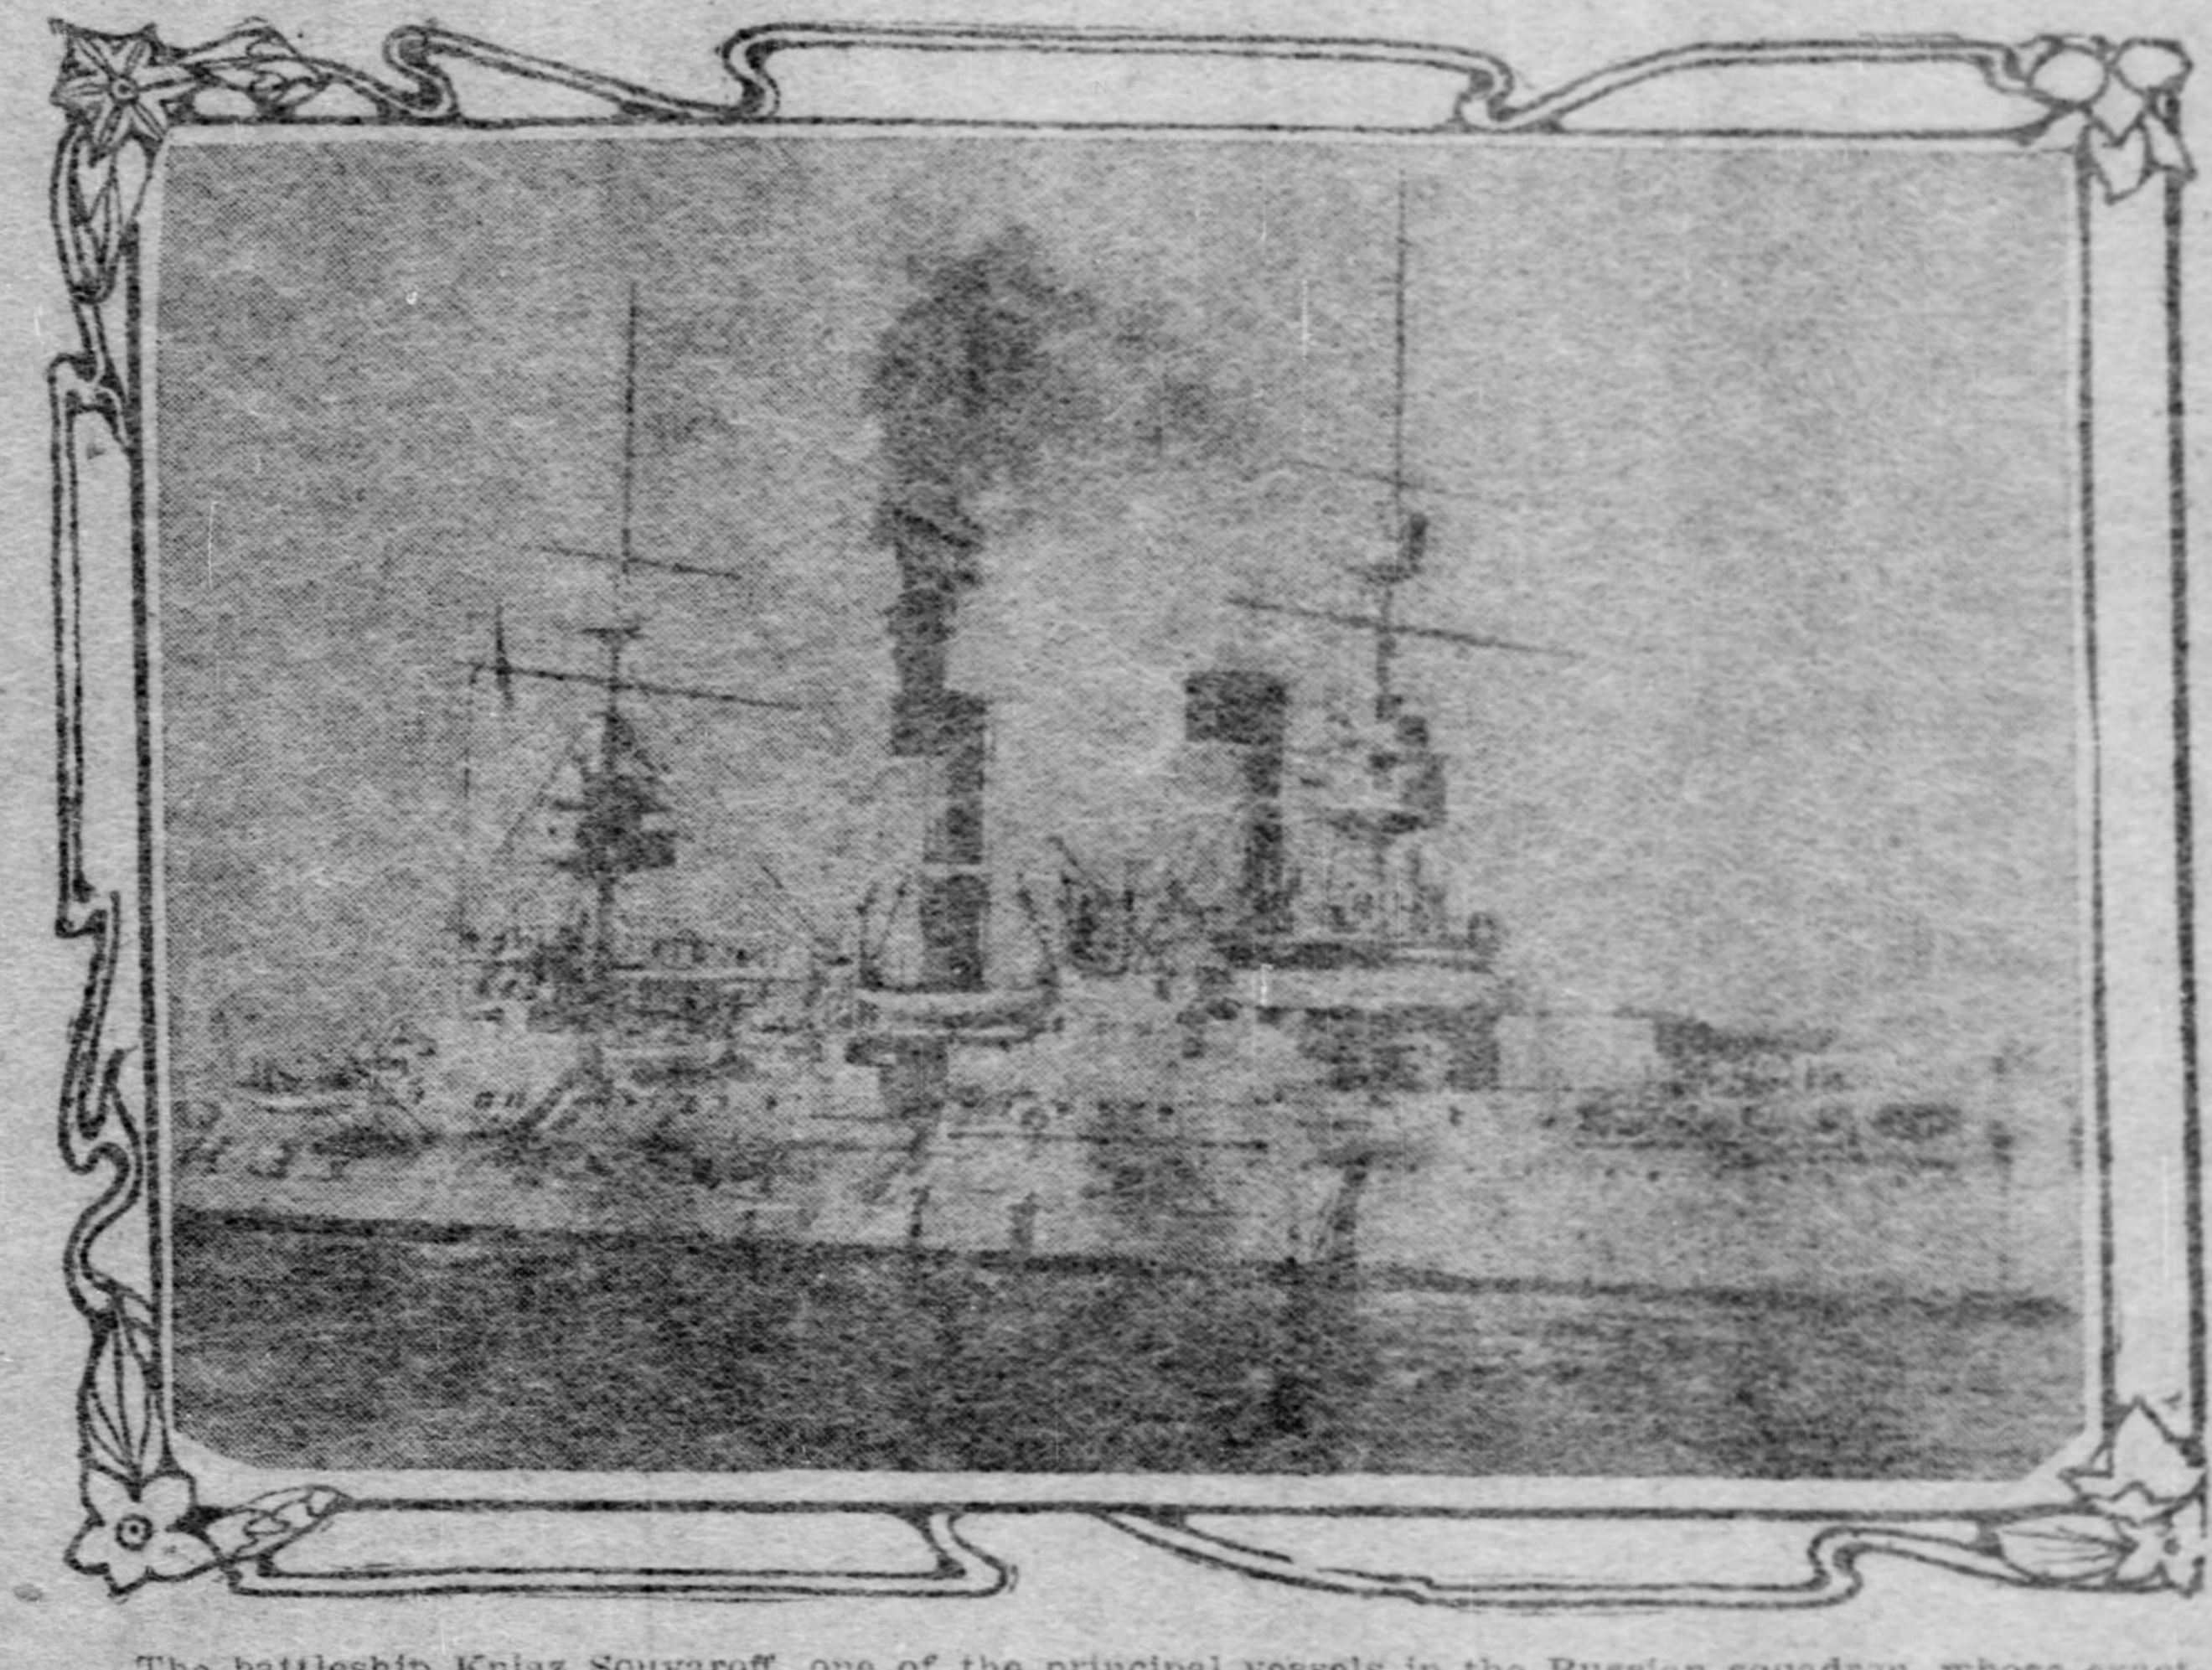
RUSSIAN WARSHIP NOW IN FAR EASTERN WATERS



The battleship Kniaz Souvaroff, one of the principal vessels in the Russian squadron, whose exact whereabouts is not known, only part of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet having been sighted at Singapore.

TO SEE MIKADO AND URGE PEACE

The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy Plans to Represent Pittsburgh Peace Society.

WILL SAIL ON JUNE 24

If present plans carry and the war in the far east is not settled beforehand, the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy will go to Japan in the early part of July and endeavor to see the mikado on behalf of the Pittsburgh Peace society in an effort to interest the ruler of that country in bringing the war to a close.

Dr. Levy stated last night that one purpose of the trip was to take recreation in fields which offer new material for thought as well as change of scene. He will also carefully study the religious and economic conditions of the country. When asked if his purpose was in the interests of the peace society, Dr. Levy said:

"Yes. I expect to call the attention of the society to the plan at a meeting to be held shortly, and if the society sees fit to elect me to speak for them, I shall begin negotiations through the Japanese ambassador in Washington for an audience with the mikado. However, I will not leave for Japan until the plans for the new temple are finally passed upon and every arrangement for the new building made. My first duty is to my congregation. I expect these matters will be finally adjusted in time for me to leave Pittsburgh on June 14 and sail on the steamship Manchuria from San Francisco on June 24."

The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy.

Dr. Levy is now gathering expressions on the peace movement from the distinguished men and women throughout the world, and will publish them within a few weeks. These expressions, together with any official representation vested in him by the Pittsburgh Peace society, he will lay before the mikado.

BUYS A RACE HORSE.

Miss Alice Roosevelt Purchases a Handsome Bay Filly at the Bennings Track.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(Special.)—Miss Alice Roosevelt has bought a race horse. From going often to the races at Bennings, to look on, wager a little and visit with her friends she has admired a beautiful saddle horse named Jessielyn. The mare has run several times, but has never won a race. She is, however, an ideal saddle horse, handsome and thoroughbred.

Miss Roosevelt has purchased the horse from James C. Cooley, a well-known polo player. The animal is a rich bay filly, and will make a perfect saddle horse for Miss Alice, who heretofore has shown no interest in riding.

TO TALK WITH CARNEGIE ON PEACE PALACE SITE

NEW YORK, April 9.—(Special.)—Dr. P. H. Eijkman of The Hague, Holland, who is here with his secretary, Paul Horrix, to interest wealthy Americans in his plan for a city of internationalism to be established just outside of the old Holland city, said today: "There is no acceptable site for the peace palace, given by Andrew Carnegie, except it is located in the tract mentioned. I expect soon to confer with Mr. Carnegie and will give him interesting data on the subject."

MAIN RUSSIAN FLEET MISSING

Vessels Passing Singapore Minor Ships of Second Pacific Squadron.

TOGO IS CORNERED

Russians Think He Is Between Rojestvensky and Vladivostok Naval Force.

JAPAN MIGHT TALK PEACE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SINGAPORE, April 9.—Fifty-one ships of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's second Pacific squadron passed here yesterday. The most important fighting vessels of the squadron, including the battleships Kniaz Souvaroff, Alexander II., Borodino and Orel, with their complement of cruisers, torpedo boat destroyers, etc., did not arrive and their whereabouts are totally unknown. The vessels which passed Singapore were the following:

Battleships Sissoi Veliky and Oleg; cruisers Admiral Nakhimoff, Dimitri Donskoi, Aurora, Izumrud, Jemtschug, Almaz, Russ, Anadyr, Furst Bismarck, Kaiserin Maria Theresa, Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, Kaiser Friedrich, Rion and seven torpedo boat destroyers, all sailing under the naval flag. Under the commercial flag were the volunteer steamers Voronez, Kief, Yaroslav, Tamboff, Vladimir and Orel, the Russian Navigation Company's steamers Meteor, Jupiter and Mercury, the East Asia steamship Company's steamers Korea and Kaitai, the North Baltic Company's steamer Kniaz Gortchakoff, one salvage ship and 16 colliers.

Ships in Togo's Rear.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 10.—(12:10 a. m.)—There is reason to believe that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's entrance into the China sea has been followed by orders for the cruisers Gromoboi and Bogatyr, which have been ready for some time at Vladivostok, to put to sea. Their appearance outside the roadstead of Vladivostok would constitute a potential threat against Admiral Togo's rear. Thus the Japanese admiral seems to be virtually placed between two fires.

The peace influences in the government urge that this favorable strategic position presents the physiological moment for offering officially the olive branch to Japan, reasoning that no matter how confident the Japanese government may be in Togo's victory, it cannot overlook the possibility of defeat or fail to appreciate the complete disaster which would follow the transfer of the mastery of the sea to Russia. With so much depending upon the issue, they argue, both countries have mutual interests in avoiding an actual test and it is not impossible therefore that a new movement in the direction of peace may come.

War Party's Spirits Raised.

Certainly the spirits of the war party have been raised by Rojestvensky's success in penetrating to the China sea, and the prospects of a naval battle, even with the odds against a Russian victory which would change the entire complexion of the situation, has aroused something like a flash of enthusiasm in many Russian breasts.

Some naval officers express the opinion that Rojestvensky, having now safely navigated the straits, instead of sailing north to meet the Japanese can afford to calmly await Vice Admiral Nebogatoff with his division of the squadron, who could arrive there in about three weeks.

The Russian admiralty on Sunday received a long dispatch from Singapore, but no intimation as to its contents has been given to the newspapers. The papers Sunday morning printed Singapore dispatches without comment, the Sviet being the only exception. This paper views the news from Rojestvensky as an auspicious prelude to a decisive battle, "which may show that over Rojestvensky still shines the happy star which helped him, when a lieutenant, to save the fragile Vesta in an unequal conflict with a Turkish battleship."

Baron Suyematsu's article in the London Outlook of Saturday regarding indemnity coincides with Russia's information, the amount demanded being $500,000,000.

PAINFUL SCENES IN OLD MADRID

WORKMEN RAISE BLACK FLAG

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MADRID, April 9.—It appears that underneath the foundations of the reservoir which gave way with such disastrous results yesterday were water pipes used to supply the palace and old Madrid. It is stated this was the cause of the subsidence, and not the surface of the ground, which, when tests were made, sank only 11 millimeters. The vault was built of cement, with iron girders, as were also the supporting columns. The first fall caused all the pillars to bend and the end of the iron work to stretch, resulting in a general and uniform collapse. These explanations, however, cannot be considered as final. Workmen who have been questioned say they were compelled to build rapidly with materials so defective that a disaster was bound to happen.

Many heartrending incidents and painful scenes are reported. Ten of those who were rescued alive have gone mad. A huge crowd stood around the scene throughout the night watching the attempts at rescue in the light of huge electric lamps. Crowds of workmen and women carrying black flags forced all the theaters to close last night.

King Alfonso had a telephone wire laid from the scene of the disaster to the palace and by that means was kept constantly informed. The king again visited the hospitals this morning. Some of the injured have died. One body was recovered from the ruins during the night, but none later. Several hundred workmen are engaged in clearing the debris.

During the day students and workmen paraded the streets collecting money for the families of victims of the disaster. The public is contributing freely. The governor of Madrid has prohibited a great popular demonstration of mourning which the workmen wish to organize, but he received the delegates of the Workmen's association, whom he informed that a street procession would be permitted under certain restrictions.

Carrying black banners, 5,000 workmen made a demonstration this afternoon near the scene of the reservoir disaster. The police on seizing the flags were stoned by the crowd and several on both sides were seriously injured.

FIRE CAUSES PANIC IN INDIANA THEATER

Boy Jumps Through Window and Is Fatally Hurt—Number Seriously Burned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

KOKOMO, IND., April 9.—George Armstrong, 17 years old, was fatally injured and a score of persons seriously burned tonight during a fire in the Sipe theater, which was caused by the ignition of a roll of celluloid films used in operating a moving picture machine. The machine operator yelled: "Look out everybody, the theater is afire!"

In an instant about 600 people rushed toward the exits. That more were not hurt is largely due to the excellent system of fire escapes and exits in the theater and the deportment of the house employes. Young Armstrong occupied a seat in the gallery and at the warning cry of the machine operator broke a plate glass window and jumped to the sidewalk, a distance of 40 feet. He is still unconscious, both legs are broken, and he is internally injured.

Mrs. Bert Jacobs was so affected by the shock as to require the attention of physicians for more than two hours. Her condition is serious. Vance Hunt was badly burned by the flaming films. Several others were severely burned. The theater is damaged only by smoke.

Hay Annoyed by Curious Tourists.

NERVI, ITALY, April 9.—Secretary of State Hay is living a very quiet life here. He drives out daily, the weather being fine. Mr. Hay is annoyed by curious tourists coming from Genoa to see him, and has refused interviews to all such.

IMMENSE COAL DEAL IS MADE

Pittsburgh Coal Company Secures U. S. Steel Business.

A 25-YEAR CONTRACT

Tonnage Will Range from 6,000,000 to 10,000,000 Per Year at Fair Price.

RIVER COMPANY GETS SHARE

The Pittsburgh Coal Company will supply the United States Steel corporation with all the coal the big steel concern will take from outside interests during the next 25 years.

This result was obtained through negotiations in New York last week conducted by President Francis L. Robbins, of the coal company, and the executives of the steel corporation. It is one of the largest deals involving coal supply that has ever been made.

Mr. Robbins returned to New York last night in order to look after some details in connection with the matter. In a few days these will be completed and the deal will be finished.

It is stated that the amount of coal supplied under this contract will not be less than 6,000,000 tons per annum and will average nearer to 10,000,000.

Price Will Be Profitable.

The steel corporation has some coal interests of its own outside of its coke department, but its capacity is not commensurate with the great demands for coal from its plants the country over.

The price to be paid for this coal will be at least as high as the price now prevailing. There is a profit in large operations at this point. In addition to this the immense tonnage enables the company to operate its mines to meet all its requirements with far greater economies than is possible otherwise. The cost per ton of coal is diminished in proportion to the number of tons mined.

It is stated that a portion of the coal to be supplied to the steel corporation will be furnished by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, in which the Pittsburgh Coal Company owns a controlling interest. This fact in itself is taken as the most complete argument against the truth of the reports of a sale of the control of the river company.

President Robbins said last evening that the sale reports were incorrect and that the river company will remain controlled by the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

Considered a Natural Deal.

That a deal of the kind outlined should be made between the largest bituminous coal producing interest and the largest steel concern has often been stated by business men of this district and New York who were familiar with the conditions. The Pittsburgh Coal Company alone is able to handle the enormous demands of the corporation, and the certainty of supply for the one is fully as important as the certainty of the big market for the other.

It has long been expected that the relations of the two companies would be much closer than has been the case heretofore, and it had been repeatedly rumored that the steel corporation would ultimately take over the Pittsburgh Coal Company. This plan appears to have been supplanted by the long-term contract.

HAD BOMB TO THROW AT DOWAGER EMPRESS

Woman Arrested at St. Petersburg Concealed Explosives in Luxurious Villa.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1905, by New York Herald Co.)

ST. PETERSBURG, April 9.—One of the women recently arrested with a number of other persons on suspicion of being concerned in the revolutionary conspiracy inhabitated a villa at Tsarskoe-Selo and there lived a luxurious life, keeping several carriages and horses. A quantity of explosives was found in her house. Among them was a bomb, which, according to documents discovered by the police, was to be thrown at the dowager empress when she went to the hospital, which she constantly visits. This bomb was to be thrown from a carriage.

There was another great workmen's demonstration at the Smolensk cemetery today, where revolutionary pamphlets were distributed broadcast. Cossacks dispersed the crowd. Serious disturbances by students are reported from Tamboff.

Dispatches from the Caucasus paint the railway situation there in alarming colors. The authorities, it is represented, are afraid to run trains at night lest they be wrecked. Striking section hands seize trains and travel up and down the line forcing other employes to cease work.

The Jewish quarter of Warsaw was guarded by a strong military force throughout the day. Every policeman on duty at isolated or doubtful points was guarded by two soldiers. The result of this was the first quiet Sunday here since the January disturbance.

SUSAN COOLIDGE, AUTHOR OF KATYDID STORIES, DIES

NEWPORT, R. I., April 9.—(Special.)—Miss Sarah Chauncey Woolsey, author and poet, whose pen name, Susan Coolidge, is well known to most young people, died here this afternoon, aged 70. She was a daughter of John M. Woolsey of New Haven and was a member of a family whose name has been closely associated with Yale university for many years. Her most popular works were the Katydid series, including "What Katydid," "What Katydid at School" and "What Katydidn't."

DEFENSE OF TRUST SAD WORDS, SAYS DR. HILLIS

Brooklyn Minister Refers to Speech Made by John D. Rockefeller's Son.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—In the course of his sermon in Plymouth church, Brooklyn, today the Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis referred to the gift of $100,000 made by John D. Rockefeller to the American board of foreign missions, and to Mr. Rockefeller's son. He said in part:

"The saddest words that have been written in this generation were spoken before Brown University by a young man who is to inherit one of the greatest fortunes in this country. They were spoken in defense of the trusts. Listen to them: 'The American beauty rose can be produced in all its splendor only by sacrificing the early buds that grow up around it. The rose has 1,000 buds, and in order to produce the American beauty the gardener goes around it with a knife and snips 999 in order that all the strength and beauty may be forced into one bloom.' In his economic argument this young man tells the working classes brutally that 999 small business men must be snuffed out of existence in order that his American beauty, the trust, may be produced. Listen to Christ: 'Let the strong bear the burdens of the weak;' and again: 'Give and it shall be given unto you.'

"These words in defense of the trusts are the most heart-breaking things in literature to those who know what is going to come in the future. Can you wonder that after that, when a man gives gifts, we have no gratitude to return."

BANK ROBBER CAUGHT, BUT WRONG MAN SHOT

Hotel Guests Arm Themselves for a Burglar, but Bullets Go Astray.

Caught in the act of attempting to rob the bank at Schoenville early yesterday morning, John Fipsky, aged 25, who claims to live in New Castle, was arrested at the point of a revolver. During the shooting that followed the discovery of the burglar, Max Freedman, a young man living in rooms over the bank, was shot in the left leg, but not seriously injured.

The bank is a frame building, conducted for the accommodation of Hungarian and Polish workers at the Schoen plant. Fipsky, who is said to have had two companions with him, had evidently been attracted to the bank earlier in the day by a quantity of paper money displayed in the window, and determined to burglarize the place.

By means of an empty flour barrel he managed to reach the window, which chanced to be unlocked. In a moment he had crept through and had leaped to the floor within. The bank is an antique structure, and as he walked his footsteps were heard by the lodgers upstairs, who gave the alarm.

Guests in the Erit house, adjoining, seized revolvers and stationed themselves at either side of the window. In the darkness and confusion Freedman, instead of the burglar, was shot. Fipsky will be arraigned this morning on a charge of attempted burglary.

OSLER CLUB FORMED.

Atlantic City Has an Organization With the Object of Retiring Old Men.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 9.—(Special.)—An Osler club, with a score of members, who are all over the age of 40, was formed here with Benjamin Bacherach, a clothing merchant, president; Dr. A. D. Cosknden, treasurer, and Lewis Hopes, secretary.

President Bacherach denied that there was any intention of chloroforming the members by lot, in accordance with the Osler theory, but its object was to popularize the Osler theory of retiring old men in favor of young men when great things are to be undertaken in science, medicine and politics.

FOUR ARE ASPHYXIATED.

Leak in a Gas Pipe in Chicago House Causes Deaths of Occupants.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Henry Monroe, his wife Anna, their 11-months-old child and a brother of Monroe, were asphyxiated by gas tonight in their home at 2858 Canal street. The body of the father and husband was found near the door with his arms outstretched, as if he had been trying to open the door when overcome. The others were found lying in bed.

A leak in a gas pipe in the kitchen was responsible for the accident.

Presbyterians Vote for Union.

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 9.—Cumberland Presbyterian headquarters today received telegraphic advices that Presbyteries at Tulare, Cal., and Bonham, Tex., have voted in favor of union with the Presbyterian church. This makes 35 votes for the proposal, which requires 38 to carry, with a number of presbyteries yet to be heard from.

NO ELECTION UNTIL FALL

Allegheny Opponents Plan to Delay Vote on the Greater City.

SCHEME TO TEST LAW

Supreme Court Not Expected to Give Opinion Until October or Later.

OPPOSITION GETS HEARING

By having the constitutionality of the Greater Pittsburgh bill tested before the supreme court of the state, the Allegheny opponents of annexation expect to delay a vote on the question, should the supreme court uphold the law, until October or later.

Members of the self-styled "public defense committee" of Allegheny, which represents the politicians of Allegheny who are fighting annexation, yesterday declared the county court would not order an election until the supreme court has passed upon the constitutionality of the Greater Pittsburgh bill just enacted by the legislature and awaiting the signature of Gov. Pennypacker.

They stated that a verdict could not be obtained from the supreme court before October, even providing both sides united in speeding the case. They say their intention in taking the matter to the supreme court is not to delay annexation past the time named in the act, which is the first of April next year, but to have the question of the validity of the measure settled finally.

Expect to Delay Vote.

Until the supreme court acts, they claim the county court will not think of having the people of the two cities take a joint vote on the proposition, for the trouble and expense of an election would be for naught if the supreme court should declare the Greater Pittsburgh law invalid.

The passage of an ordinance by the Pittsburgh councils, petitioning the county court to order an election, or the filing of a petition by 2 per cent of the registered voters of the city, is as far as they expect the movement for the union of Pittsburgh and Allegheny to go until the supreme bench is heard from.

The Allegheny opposition headed by W. C. Gill, has been promised a hearing by Gov. Pennypacker before he signs the Greater Pittsburgh bill, but no date will be set for the hearing until after the bill is signed by one of the presiding officers of the state senate and messaged to the governor. It is expected that either the lieutenant-governor or the president pro tem. of the senate will sign the bill today.

Opponents Get Hearing.

The Alleghenians will probably get their hearing the middle of the week and then the governor is expected to sign the bill without further delay although he has 30 days in which to approve or veto a bill.

Ordinarily, nobody would venture to forecast the governor's action on a legislative measure, but in this case the men who were prominent in putting the Greater Pittsburgh bill through kept the governor informed of each step. It was the governor himself who, in his message to the legislature, suggested the formation of the greater city, and he even asked certain senators and representatives to see that such a bill was presented. His suggestion was followed and every amendment proposed was submitted unofficially to him.

Just before it passed finally Gov. Pennypacker and the city solicitor of Pittsburgh, William B. Rodgers, had a long consultation, Mr. Rodgers mentioning the alterations which, he thought, would render the constitutionality of the measure unassailable, and the governor himself suggesting several emendations. Under these circumstances, it is thought the lawyers who are opposed to the bill will hardly be able to convince a man so learned in the law as the governor that the mere fact that a joint vote is provided for makes the bill unconstitutional.

Thinks Bill Will Be Signed Today.

"I believe," said Senator William E. Woods yesterday, "that the lieutenant governor or the president pro tem of the senate will sign the bill on Monday, and that after it is in the governor's hands he will not long delay the signing of it."

That the amendment to the old Greater Pittsburgh law of two years ago, simplifying the method of taking boroughs into Pittsburgh, will be passed is the general belief. Several attempts were made to straighten out this matter.

Senator Goehring introduced an amendment to the Goehring act providing that upon petition to the councils of a second-class city either by the council of a borough and the majority of the commissioners of a township, or by 5 per cent instead of 20 per cent of the registered voters of township and borough, said borough or township, contiguous to the second-class city, could be annexed, provided the councils of the city agreed and a majority of the registered voters of a borough or township voted for annexation.

"I think that amendment will go through," said Senator Goehring yesterday. "The fact that 5 per cent of the registered voters are enough to begin annexation proceedings may not be satisfactory to some representatives of boroughs, but it is generally fair, as it also considers the rights of boroughs that want to be annexed to Pittsburgh. The final decision rests with the voters, anyhow."

KAISER SENDS THANKS FOR RECEPTION IN ITALY

MESSINA, April 9.—Emperor William spent the whole of the day with his family. From the Italian battleship Dandolo, the emperor sent a wireless message to the king of Italy, thanking him for his magnificent reception. He left tonight for Corfu.

SCHOENVILLE MOB RESCUES PRISONER

Pitched Battle With Officers in Which 500 Men, Women and Children Participate.

ONE MAN IS FATALLY HURT

As the result of a riot yesterday afternoon, following an attempt on the part of detectives of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad to arrest a woman who was alleged to have stolen coal from along the tracks of the railroad at Schoenville, one man was shot in the back and may die, and three others were slightly injured, one, a railroad detective, shooting himself in the foot during the melee.

The most seriously injured is Harry Lukoschewski, aged 24, of 115 O'Hara street, Schoenville. He was shot in the back above the left kidney, supposedly by a policeman, the bullet finally passing into his stomach. He is at the McKees Rocks hospital and at a late hour last night Dr. H. B. Barnhart, resident physician, said he would probably die.

While attempting to restore order Assistant Chief of Police Edward Rider was struck on the left side of the head, near the temple, with a beer bottle and a severe gash cut in his head. Although sore pressed, Rider said last night that while he had drawn his revolver, he had not fired it. The other injured men were railroad detectives, one firing a bullet into his own foot and the other being felled with a beer bottle by a Hungarian rioter.

How the Riot Started.

The riot occurred at about 2:30 p. m., when the railroad detectives attempted to arrest Mrs. Agnes Sadna on a warrant charging her with the theft of coal. For the past two or three weeks the railroad company has lost considerable fuel and a determined effort has been made to stop the practice.

On Friday last, when a previous attempt was made to arrest the woman, she was rescued from the hands of the railroad detectives, who then determined to call the McKees Rocks police to their aid. In the meantime informations had been made in McKees Rocks against Mike Denko of 160 Orchard street, and several others, charging them with selling liquor on Sunday and without a license. When the railroad detectives called up the McKees Rocks police station yesterday and asked for aid in serving a warrant against Mrs. Sadna, Chief of Police Thomas J. Grogan, Assistant Chief Rider and Constable John Bryan of McKees Rocks borough agreed to aid them.

Armed with revolvers, the officers went to Schoenville and joined eight picked men of the railroad force. There are between 3,000 and 4,000 foreigners, mostly Hungarian millworkers, living at Schoenville.

Their boast has been that no policeman could ever arrest one of their number and get him to the police station. In some manner the foreigners were tipped off concerning the proposed visit of the officers and were lined up ready to meet them when they arrived.

In the mob were between 400 and 500 persons—men, women and children, each armed with a stick, knife or beer bottle. Among the women were several who bore young children in their arms. As the police started toward them the warlike Amazons set up a defiant cry in broken English and dared the men to come on.

One of the railroad men accepted the gage of battle and advanced. He managed to reach the side of Mrs. Sadna, whom he knew, and was about to place her under arrest when the battle began. One foreigner threw a bottle at the arresting officer and this was the signal for his companions to follow suit.

Rider noticed that a woman near him carried a child in her arms, and fearing it would be injured, sought to take it from her. His motive was misconstrued and some one let fly a bottle, which struck him in the head, almost felling him. He staggered for a moment, but quickly recovered, and whipped out his revolver. His companions followed suit, only to be met by another infuriated onslaught.

Woman Prisoner Was Rescued.

Dragging his woman prisoner by the arm and almost lifting her from the ground as he ran, the railroad detective sought to get her across a vacant lot and into the station house. He then became the center of the howling mob's attention and they sought to rescue the woman, succeeding finally.

After the battle had waged for 15 minutes Lukoschewski was shot and the mob slowly retreated. He was picked up and hurried to the hospital before the mob could be reorganized.

Late last night County Detectives Joseph Kohen and Robert L. McMillan went to McKees Rocks for a conference with the officials there. They have decided to join forces with the railroad men today, when another attempt will be made to serve the warrants and restore order. If they are unsuccessful more strenuous measures will be taken to bring the foreigners to time.

Excursionists Miss Their Train.

The Allegheny Valley railroad ran its first summer excursion to Pittsburgh yesterday and a large number of people from the valley towns came to the city. As usual, about 20 excursionists remained out sightseeing too long and missed their train. The last train on the Allegheny Valley leaves Pittsburgh at 7 p. m., and those who were left behind had to remain in the city over night. In former years the railroad accepted the return ticket from those who missed the train, but this year full fare will be asked from those who return home on Monday.

Fighting Youths Were Fined.

Harry McCollough, aged 18, of 168 South Seventeenth street, and Morgan McDonald, aged 18, of 22 South Twenty-fourth street, were each fined $25 and costs yesterday morning in the South Side police station on a charge of fighting on the streets.

Junk Brought Her Trouble.

Carrie Johnston, colored, of 55 Fulton street, was arrested on the South Side yesterday morning as a suspicious person. She carried a bundle of junk, for which she could not satisfactorily account. She was fined $10 and costs or 30 days to the workhouse.

PRESIDENT LEAVES THE BEATEN PATH

IN THE WILDS OF OKLAHOMA

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

FORT WORTH, TEX., April 9.—In a suite of rooms on the parlor floor of Hotel Worth, the executive seat of the United States government has been temporarily quartered. Official mail, intended for the eyes of President Roosevelt, is directed to this apartment and in the absence of the president, who has gone to hunt coyotes and jack rabbits over the Kiowa and Comanche reservation in Oklahoma, such mail is given attention by Secretary Loeb.

Most of this business will be acted on by the secretary and directed to various departments in Washington, where it originated. That which requires the personal supervision of the president will have to wait until Thursday, for it is not until then that communication will be had with the hunting party.

After delivering the president at Frederick, Okla., into the hands of western friends, who have undertaken to furnish him with whoesome recreation for a few days, the official escort boarded the presidential special and returned to Fort Worth. It had been expected that there would be an accumulation of mail, but for some reason the local postoffice forwarded it to Frederick. It was necessary to telegraph for the return of the mail and most of it will not arrive until tomorrow. In the meantime, the official party is enjoying a rest.

Secretary Loeb expects to receive word from the president to run the special train to Frederick on Thursday and on that day to start for western Colorado, whither the president will go to find larger game than abounds on the Red river in Oklahoma.

According to present plans, the public part of the western trip is ended. It is not expected that any stops will be made until the president's train reaches Colorado Springs. There a stay of two hours is necessary; but the time is not for speechmaking.

AGAINST SUBMARINE MINES IN HARBORS

Naval Committee Favors the Substitution of Boats for Defense.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEWPORT, R. I., April 9.—The third committee of the fortification board, of which Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas, U. S. N., is chairman, is devoting special attention to the dangers incident to the use of submarine mines, and it is learned that in the forthcoming report emphasis will be placed on the advantage of substituting submarine boats for mines in harbor defenses. Discussing this, a member said today:

"Mines cannot be relied upon in time of war. The trials given submarine mines in Narragansett bay resulted unsatisfactorily, due chiefly to the strong currents which swept through the harbor and entrances to the bay and make such defenses extremely dangerous. This is one of the important subjects that the fortification board has already taken up and will thoroughly examine during the inspection of fortifications and the land and floating defenses.

"The established fact that a number of the Russian warships were blown up by their own submarine mines and the present practice of England in discarding submarine mine defenses to a great extent in harbors where there are wide channels to defend and where the tides are strong and placing there submarine boats, has added to the sentiment in favor of replacing mines with boats."

CHILD'S SAD PLIGHT.

Sarah Klein Will Be Left at New York Institution.

Sarah Klein, the 13-year-old McKeesport girl who was refused admission into the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian society's orphan asylum in New York, will not be brought back to Pittsburgh. The child was taken east by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, probationary officer of the Allegheny county court of quarter sessions, after having been tried in the juvenile court for incorrigibility.

The girl was sent to New York because it is said the local authorities would not shelter her here, and that the home was in New York. Her plight is pitiable. At the school of the Columbian Council of Jewish Women in Center avenue last night it was said that the child's mind was affected, and it was recommended that she be taken to an institution for the care of the feeble minded. She was brought to McKeesport several years ago by her uncle.

HAS A PITTSBURGH RECORD.

Local Detective Identifies Man Connected With the Ubero Company.

Detective William Elmore returned from Boston yesterday, where he had gone to identify Ferdinand E. Borges, who was arrested there recently in connection with the investigation of crookedness into the Ubero Company.

Borges was found to have lived in Dinwiddie street, this city, in 1898 and 1899, and was arrested in the former year for collecting money by false pretense by local detectives. During the Knights Templar conclave here that year he had charge of the renting of rooms for visiting Knights and was found to have secured several hundred dollars in advance for rooms which he had no authority to collect.

College Official Is Arrested.

FORT WORTH, TEX., April 9.—Prof. T. R. Dunlap, who has been vice president of Jarvis college at Thorp Springs, Tex., today was arrested on a charge of arson. On the night of March 20, the main building of the college was burned. President Jarvis, who lives at Fort Worth, declines to make a statement.

TOUCHED A LIVE WIRE AND FELL TO DEATH

Lawrenceville Youth Instantly Killed Presumably by Electrocution—Child Eats Poison.

John Ryan, aged 18, was instantly killed last night either by an electric shock or by a fall from a telephone pole at Forty-third street and Slocum alley. The boys living in the neighborhood have a fashion of climbing this pole and jumping from it to a low building nearby. Ryan performed this feat last night and then jumped back again to the pole. As he reached it his left arm struck the wires and he went down to the ground, falling on his head.

People in the vicinity went to his assistance, but in a few minutes he was dead. The back of his head was badly injured, but Dr. W. H. Cameron, who had been summoned, said his death was caused by an electric shock. The body was carried to the home of the boy's father, John Ryan, a laborer, at 81 Forty-fourth street. The father had only moved in on Saturday, the house had not been arranged yet and the body was laid on a bench. The boy's mother fainted when she heard of the death, and although given medical attention had not been restored to consciousness late last night.

Paul Darrow, aged 4, of Pitcairn, got hold of a box of tablets yesterday that contained strychnine, which his mother was using as a remedy for heart failure. He swallowed four of them and gave one to his infant sister, aged 10 months. The boy died, but the baby escaped.

Mrs. Darrow was down stairs preparing dinner. Paul stole upstairs and remained so quiet that his mother followed and found him on the floor in convulsions. She sent for Dr. Baumgardner, but the boy died before the physician arrived.

CHARGES MISFORTUNES TO BISHOP POTTER

New York Rector Sends Sensational Letter to His Congregation.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—That there is trouble in store for Bishop Potter is believed by some persons from the character of a printed letter distributed this morning to the congregation of the Church of the Redeemer, in West Thirty-sixth street. The letter was signed by the Rev. W. Everett Johnson, rector, under the heading, "A letter from the rector of the congregation of the Church of the Redeemer."

The letter recites in detail the struggles of the church for the last 12 years, and charges its many misfortunes to Bishop Potter. That other and similar communications are to follow was generally admitted today by members of the vestry of the church. It was said that Mr. Johnson proposed to make public the fiscal condition of the diocese of New York under Bishop Potter's management.

It was further admitted by members of the vestry that Mr. Johnson's letter was made public with the approval of the officers of the church. Not alone, it is said, does Mr. Turner and other members of the vestry, lay the misfortunes of their church at the feet of the bishop, but it is averred they maintain his administration of the finances of the diocese has been anything but business like and that the true condition of these finances, with the exception of Trinity, is appalling.

MRS. KINNEY WAS AFIRE.

Pieces of Exploded Lamp Found and Her Husband Was Arrested.

James Kinney was last night locked up on suspicion of having thrown a lighted lamp at his wife. Mrs. Kinney was badly burned and might have died had not a man extinguished the flames.

The Kinneys live at 34 Junilla street. Early yesterday morning Mrs. Kinney ran out of the house, with her clothes afire. John Smith of 3509 Mahan avenue, who was passing, threw his overcoat about the woman and put out the fire. Mrs. Kinney declined to go to a hospital and was taken back to her house. The police heard of the occurrence, but could not find Kinney. Later he was found at the house and was locked up in the Center avenue police station. The pieces of a broken oil lamp, which had exploded, were found in the house. Mrs. Kinney was badly burned about the face and body.

BEST MARRIAGES NOT TO SECURE HAPPINESS

Adler Says Woman Asserts Independence in Asking Divorce, Act Impious.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Advocating social reforms almost as revolutionary in character as the marriage tenure proposed some time ago by the novelist, George Meredith, Prof. Felix Adler today lectured on "Marriage and Divorce," before the Society for Ethical Culture, in the New Century drawing-rooms. In part, Prof. Adler said:

"The stronghold of the home lies in the thought of its permanency, and every divorce granted weakens the expectation of this stability. In one phase the change in modern times is to be commended, for the woman asserts her independence and shows that her heart must be consulted; yet there is an impiety in this attitude, inasmuch as a couple will withdraw from its own society and proclaim its right to enter into bonds of matrimony regardless of any social demand.

"The divorce movement is the effect of this individualism. When a couple marries solely for their own happiness, one will dissolve the bond as soon as this end falls of realization. The best and truest marriages result when the parties enter into them, not for personal happiness, but with a desire to reach the social end.

"A father cannot cast off a profligate son; there is no such thing as disowning him for we hear of that only in novels. Likewise there is no such thing as disowning a wife, however grave her offense might be. She may be exiled for life, but the mental relation should never cease, even when the intimate relation does."

JUDGE DUNNE WILL TRY TO ARBITRATE STRIKE

To Be One of His First Official Acts on Assuming Office Today.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 9.—A determined effort to settle by arbitration the strike of the garment workers and the teamsters employed by Montgomery, Ward & Co. is being made.

Judge Edward F. Dunne, who will assume the office of mayor of Chicago tomorrow, stated tonight that one of his first official acts would be to endeavor to bring about an amicable adjustment of the difficulty. Mayor-elect Dunne's idea is to get both sides to the controversy together and appoint a committee to arbitrate the trouble.

While peace plans were being considered today the local unions of the express drivers throughout the city met and decided to refuse tomorrow to handle any goods belonging to the firm of Montgomery, Ward & Co. This means that the trouble of the big store will be doubled tomorrow, when they endeavor to transfer their goods to the different railroad freight sheds in the city. The employers tonight, however, declare that they will have enough non-union help on hand in the morning to take care of all the wagons that will be needed.

Financial aid was extended to the strikers today by the Chicago Federation of Labor. The central body decided to appropriate $2,500 a week for the garment workers while the strike is on. This makes a total of $5,000 that the strikers will receive from outside sources.

LEARNED BAD HABITS BY FINDING POCKETBOOK

"Victim" Who Spent the Money Offers to Return Empty Wallet for Small Consideration.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—To lose $7,600 in a railroad train, and then, after 17 years, to receive a letter from the finder accusing him by implication of teaching a humble person bad habits, all of which was preliminary to an offer to return the empty pocketbook for several dollars, is the experience of Henry Stedeker, veteran member of the Metropolitan Turf association.

Mr. Stedeker has been a bookmaker in the "big ring" for many years. As he explained it tonight: "I was on my way to the track one day from Jerome park in 1888. I had in my inside pocket a leather pocketbook which contained $7,600. In the car, a man paid me $300 he owed me and I took out the book to insert the bills. In the hurry and excitement of leaving the train I forgot the book, jumped up and of course it rolled to the car floor. That was the last I ever heard of it until today, when I received a letter signed Carl Widhassers.

"Of course I have got over grieving for the loss of that money," continued Mr. Stedeker, "but when that fellow blames me individually for teaching him bad habits by losing the money, I think it is carrying things too far. But if he will bring that pocketbook back to me I will give him a couple of dollars for it, just as a souvenir. I won't have him arrested."

Students Hear Eva Booth.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 9.—Commander Miss Eva Booth of the Salvation Army lectured before 2,000 students of Cornell university tonight as the conclusion of a "Red Crusade," conducted with nine meetings in the city today. The lecture was given at the invitation of President J. G. Schurman and Miss Booth was introduced by Former Ambassador Andrew D. White.

Quaker City Police Chief Here.

Superintendent of Police John Taylor of Philadelphia is at the Lincoln hotel. He arrived in the city Saturday night with Frank Howe, manager of the Garrick theater of Philadelphia, and both men are interested in a theatrical enterprise. During the day Superintendent Taylor spent several hours with Superintendent of Detectives Thomas A. McQuaide.

Ralph Peters Goes to New Home.

Ralph Peters, who was last week elected president of the Long Island railroad, went east with his family last night. Mr. Peters' private car was attached to the New York special, which left at 10 p. m. Mr. Peters was formerly general superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west. The family will reside in the east.

ANOTHER WHEAT TRAGEDY IS IMMINENT AT CHICAGO

J. Ogden Armour Seems to Have the Better of the Argument With John W. Gates—Great Consignments of Grain Coming to Market.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 9.—Events are shaping rapidly for another wheat tragedy like that which cost Joseph Leiter millions of dollars in 1898. Then it was Leiter vs. P. D. Armour, and the great packer won. Now it is John W. Gates and his crowd against J. Ogden Armour, and Mr. Armour looks to have the better of the argument.

From every city, hamlet and farm in the west contract wheat in small consignments has been rolling into Chicago for a fortnight. The aggregate is beginning to assume dangerous proportions to those who have bought the grain for delivery May 31. Every private elevator in Chicago and the northwest is winnowing contract wheat out of grain that in its original composition falls below grade.

Millers cannot afford to grind contract wheat into flour. The premium paid for it to meet the demands of the May deal is so attractive that it is going into the bins for final offer to the bull manipulators. May wheat yesterday closed 29 cents higher than July wheat, and 33 cents higher than wheat for September delivery. At one time during the week the May premium over July was nearly 26 cents. This insures a heavy profit for working out every grain of wheat in sight.

Two large steamer cargoes of wheat have already left Duluth. These cargoes were chartered "shippers option." Chicago or Buffalo, and the high prices will divert them here if the ice in the straits of Mackinac can be forced. The passage of the lower lakes is already open, and it is but a question of a few days when Minnesota wheat cargoes can be brought into Lake Michigan as well.

The firm of C. G. Gates & Co. was last week admitted to the clearing house of the Chicago board of trade to be prepared for any emergency in case of further indisposition of commission houses to act in May deal. A number of firms, whose members were also officials of the board of trade, transferred their May deals over to firms that were not. Knight & Donnelly have lately been counted the headquarters of the May deal and have handled much of its business in the pit during the last week.

There was never a deal run on the Chicago board of trade in which the details were kept so well hidden from the trade. Beliefs are as positive in some circles that the open interest does not exceed 5,000,000 bushels as in other that its exceeds 20,000,000 bushels. That it is nearer the latter figure seems most probable in view of the maintaining of the high price.

JAPANESE TWICE DEFEAT RUSSIANS

Reports to Tokyo Tell of Muscovites Being Repulsed in Two Attacks.

GENERALS TELEGRAPH CZAR

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, April 9, 5 p. m.—The following report has been received from the Manchurian army headquarters:

"April 5, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, one battalion of the enemy's infantry and six companies of cavalry came and attacked Tsulushu, 20 miles north of Changtu. They were repulsed. On the following day 24 companies of hte enemy's cavalry, with several guns, renewed the attack. They were again repulsed. The main force of the assailants retreated toward Pamiencheng. A portion stopped near Choroyo, three miles north of Tsulushu.

"Our casualties were 10. No officers were included. The enemy's loss, judging from the corpses left behind and from the number of carts carrying wounded and killed, were over 60."

ST. PETERSBURG, April 9.—Generals Linevitch and Kuropatkin, under date of April 7, telegraphed Emperor Nicholas, recording the events of the anniversary fete of the Immaculate Conception in Manchuria and the reviews of the troops there who, the generals represent, are burning with the desire to maintain the glory of Russian arms. The dispatches also conveyed further messages of devotion and loyalty to the throne. Emperor Nicholas has telegraphed suitable replies. Under date of April 8 General Linevitch reports no change in the situation.

SAYS THE PRESIDENT IS MORMONS' FRIEND

Youngest Apostle Declares at Salt Lake That Church Is Loyal to Mr. Roosevelt.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SALT LAKE, UTAH., April 9.—Byrum Mack Smith, son of President Smith and youngest of the Mormon apostles, in a sermon at the conference today paid a tribute to President Roosevelt. He said:

"In President Roosevelt we have a friend and he has friends among the Latter Day Saints, and we will be true to him and true to Old Glory, for we are true people. President Roosevelt has the courage of his convictions, and is not moved by prejudice. He will give us a square deal. We will do all we can to sustain President Roosevelt, for we are true to him and will demonstrate it in the future as we have proved it in the past."

The expected revelation was not given today, the last day of the conference. It is now believed that the church leaders intend to fight the opposition within and without the church by excommunicating Mormons who do not assert themselves and by organized retaliatory measures against Gentiles who become active in opposition to the church.

GEN. MILES SAYS DAVIS WAS NEVER HANDCUFFED

Also Gives a Reminder of the Cause for the Arrest of the Head of the Confederacy.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, April 9.—"Neither Grant nor anyone else ever handcuffed Jefferson Davis. The only manacles ever upon him were light leg irons."

So Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles disposes of the claim of Bangor soldiers that one of their comrades put irons on the wrists of the president of the confederacy.

"This attempt to make a martyr of Davis can only bring to the light many things most folks have forgotten. One of them is that Davis lived and died branded by the highest authority in the land as a murderer.

"Davis, we must remember, was arrested, not for treason, nor as a prisoner of war, nor as head of the confederacy. He was taken and held on President Johnson's proclamation declaring him to have incited, concocted and procured the murder of President Lincoln. Suppose that in the papers found in Washington was a plan for the assassination of Davis and others, indorsed in Lincoln's hand, and Lincoln was later arrested on such a charge, as Davis was. Isn't it reasonable to suppose that Lincoln would have been executed? As a fact, he would probably have been burned at a stake, just as negroes are now burned."

H. Rider Haggard in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9.—H. Rider Haggard, the English author, accompanied by Commander Booth-Tucker of the Salvation Army, arrived in Cleveland tonight, and tomorrow will visit the farm colony under the management of the Salvation Army at Mentor, O., to study the work done there. Mr. Haggard's daughter and Ransom Caygill are also of the party.

Rescued from Fire With Wheelbarrow.

BAY CITY, MICH., April 9.—In the destruction by fire today of the Bay County poorhouse the 38 inmates were thrown into a panic. Many ran out scantily clad. A paralytic weighing 200 pounds was rescued from the hospital in a wheelbarrow. The monetary loss was $7,000.

Retired Naval Officer Dead.

WILMINGTON, DEL., April 9.—Capt. Henry B. Nones, aged 75 years, a retired navy officer, died here tonight. He was appointed an assistant engineer in the navy in 1853 and served through the civil war and became a chief engineer. He retired in 1892.

Wyoming Chief Justice Dead.

CHEYENNE, WYO., April 9.—Jesse Knight, chief justice of the supreme court of Wyoming, died today. He was one of the founders of the Masonic consistory in Wyoming.

CONDEMNED NEGRO SHOOTS DEATH WATCH

Two Guards Are Wounded in Paterson, N. J., Jail—Prisoner Badly Beaten.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

PATERSON, N. J., April 9.—Arthur Laster, a negro, condemned to be hanged next Friday for the murder of Max Lowlenburg, a Main street merchant, attempted to escape at 9:30 o'clock tonight. He shot James Sutton and James Crooks, two of eight death watches, and was finally overpowered and subdued by Policemen Perry and Miller, reserve officers, who beat him into insensibility. Sutton was shot three times over the right eye and twice in the breast. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where it is said his injuries are not dangerous. Crooks was shot in the right arm. Sutton and Crooks are the death watch for both Laster and a prisoner named Miller, who is also to be hanged next Friday. Sutton was talking to Miller when Laster asked Crooks to take him to the closet. Crooks opened the cell door and walked on, supposing Laster was following. Laster, instead, hit Sutton on the head with a cudgel made from slats from his bed and then grabbed the keeper's revolver. Both keepers, after being shot, got outside the corridor cell door and locked Laster in.

The police reserves arrived, but all their efforts to get Laster to surrender peacefully failed. Shots were exchanged and finally Officers Perry and Miller rushed in and subdued him, while he attempted to shoot them.

WEST VIRGINIA EDITOR HAS WIFE ARRESTED

Forcibly Takes Child Away from Her. Cross Suits for Divorce Are Pending.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 9.—Mrs. Margaret A. Weymouth, wife of C. Lee Weymouth, editor of the Randolph Enterprise of Elkins, W. Va., was arrested here today at the request of the sheriff of Randolph county, West Virginia.

Mrs. Weymouth had in her custody her three-year-old daughter, over whom litigation is pending in the West Virginia courts. Mrs. Weymouth recently filed suit for divorce. Her husband filed a cross suit and an agreement was made between them by which the mother should have possession of the child until the court passed upon the divorce case. Yesterday Weymouth, knowing that his wife was preparing to leave Elkins with the child, went to Grafton and secured a temporary order from the court giving him possession of the child.

This morning Mrs. Weymouth left Elkins for her home in Huntington, W. Va., with the child. Her husband, learning of her flight, had her stopped here, and secured possession of the child tonight, being compelled, it is said, to forcibly take the child from the mother, while in the office of a Cumberland attorney. Mr. Weymouth left with the child for Elkins and Mrs. Weymouth went on to Huntington.

Waiting for a Job.

Thomas Maxie, a Hungarian, aged 19, was arrested late yesterday afternoon in Lappe's tannery, on Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny. He claims he had just got here from the west, where he lived with his brother, who died last month, and having no money went into the tannery to sleep. He intended, he says, to apply for a job at the tannery today.

THESE PIANOS ARE REDUCED IN PRICE

The Sacrifice Is Necessary on Account of Building Operations Which Have Been Delayed.

Persons looking for rare value in pianos cannot afford to overlook these remarkable bargains.

Extensive alterations to buildings in Oliver avenue are under way. Building operations on the Oliver avenue entrance to the warerooms of Mellor's well-known music house have been much delayed. The Mellor Company has been put to much inconvenience, as the alterations to the building are on a large scale, and it will be two or three weeks before order has been restored.

The Mellor Company makes the announcement that it is so cramped for room that it is obliged to sacrifice a number of good used pianos. Ridiculously low prices have been placed upon these in order to make them sell immediately.

Among the used upright instruments which must be closed out are several which have been reduced to $155. These include a German, a Gilbert, a Decker Bros. and an Emerson.

Several well-known upright pianos, your choice for only $185, including

Cambridge,
Thayer,
Rudolf,
Kranich & Bach,
Chauncey,
Kayton,

And at $235 the following uprights must go:

Chauncey,
Hardman,
Kingsley,
Haines Bros.,
Sterling,
Mellor,

These remarkably low prices will soon give the Mellor Company the desired room.

A number of good square pianos and organs at very tempting prices.

BLOOM TOO SOON FOR EASTER SHOW

Artificial Means Are Being Employed to Retard Growth of Spring Flowers.

CROWDS IN CONSERVATORIES

Caressed by the warm zephyrs of a premature spring, the brilliant blooms in Pittsburgh conservatories which had been watched over and cared for with tender solicitude that they might be ready for a gorgeous Easter display, have already burst into flowering beauty. This has necessitated a change in the plans of those who yearly seek to offer the lovers of plant life the rarest flowers and bulbs that nature, assisted by the ingenuity of man, can cause to blossom forth.

By dint of hard labor the growth of a large number of plants has been retarded to a slight degree, but others have bloomed despite all the efforts of skilled horticulturists to reduce the temperature of greenhouses by artificial means. As a consequence conservatories throughout the city were opened to the public yesterday, although the formal opening day will be on Easter Sunday, April 23. The forward season, however, will result in a much less pretentious display of plants this year than usual.

With warm spring breezes to lure them and with an invitation from the owners of conservatories to bring them out, the people of Pittsburgh crowded the streets and parks yesterday. Owing to the fact that the Phipps conservatory held its informal opening, 25,000 persons, it is estimated, flocked to Schenley park to enjoy the flowers, visit the library and the art galleries and wander about the broad driveways of the great pleasure ground. The crowd was the greatest seen in the park at this season of the year in four years. At the Frick conservatory, Penn and Homewood avenues, and at the conservatory of A. R. Peacock, North Highland and Wellesley avenues, great crowds were also to be seen, while Highland park was, as usual, the "Mecca" of the children.

Fine Display of Tulips.

In the Phipps conservatory the principal display was of tulips and hyacinths. Among the blooms were the Czar Peter, Prince of Waterloo, Roman, La Grandesse, and Grand lilas hyacinths. Iris plants, tulips and other early plants were also there in profusion, and scattered here and there were a few Easter lilies, although these have been kept back to some extent in anticipation of the Easter day display.

It is estimated that in two weeks there will be 50,000 flowering plants on exhibition.

At the Frick conservatory the display is one of unusual excellence. Through the efforts of David Fraser, the chief gardener, and his assistant, James McDonald, the best possible color effects have been produced. Mr. Frick accompanied Mrs. Frick and their daughter on a tour through the greenhouse yesterday afternoon. Mr. Frick, who returned from New York on Saturday, apparently took keen pleasure in watching hundreds of people passing in and out of the grounds during the day.

At the Peacock conservatory no attempt has been made to retard the growth of the plants, as the family is usually away from town from early summer until late in the fall. The flower that seems most to appeal to the artistic taste of visitors is an azalea of a salmon hue, almost pink. There are large beds of these and their color is exceedingly rich and effective. The begonias, orchids and other varieties, growing amid sprays of maiden hair fern and lilies of the valley, also present a picture of great artistic beauty.

In Allegheny Conservatories.

A flower show that will rival the exhibit of last year will be seen next week in the Phipps conservatories in West park, Allegheny. Superintendent William Hamilton announced yesterday that the doors of the conservatories would be thrown open next Sunday morning and during the week following the floral display could be seen at its best.

For weeks Superintendent Hamilton has had his men carefully attending the 7,000 plants that are expected to be clothed in all their vari-colored glory on Palm Sunday and to retain their beauty over Easter. Among the varieties the hyacinth, tulip, narcissus, azalea and Easter lily will predominate.

Many persons visited the conservatories yesterday expecting to get a glimpse of the flowers, but only parts of the greenhouse were open and none of the big flower show was to be seen. The sunshine and mild weather attracted hundreds to the North Side parks yesterday and the park squad of policemen were stationed at the lakes to safeguard the lives of scores of children who amused themselves by feeding the swans and sailing miniature craft.

TURNERS PROSPEROUS.

Annual Convention of Pittsburgh District Well Attended—Sympathy Expressed for the Russian People.

The annual convention of the Turners of the Pittsburgh district was held yesterday in the hall of the Vorwaerts Verein in Duquesne. Twenty-three associations were represented by 83 delegates. J. G. Ehmann was the chairman, John Kell vice chairman, August Bucholz secretary and Ernest Herklotz assistant secretary.

Reports by the officers showed that the district consists of 24 associations, with a membership of 4,252, among them 423 active members. Twenty-one associations own their own halls, and the district possesses property worth $577,390.

It was decided to offer a valuable prize for exhibition turning in 1906. Efforts will be made to secure a big attendance of Turners from this district at the national convention in Indianapolis in June.

Max Forker presented and the convention adopted a resolution expressing sympathy for the Russian people in their struggle against the rule of autocracy.

Struck by a Street Car.

Willie O'Connor of 3200 Center avenue was struck by a street car at Fifth avenue and Grant street last night. His head was cut and leg injured, but he was able to go home after some little attention at a nearby drug store.

An individual usually has business interests of his own that demand his best attention, and if appointed executor is apt to turn over much of the work to less competent employes. The Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street, has employes especially trained in such work who give it their best attention under the personal direction and supervision of the officers.

REPUBLICANS REFUSED TO JOIN NEW COMBINE

Citizens Councilmen Failed to Organize Opposition to Annexation Meeting Today.

Both branches of the Pittsburgh councils are scheduled to meet today, but there promises to be little business of importance transacted, as it has been decided not to introduce the ordinance petitioning the court for an election on annexation until the governor has signed the Greater Pittsburgh bill. Director Bigelow states that a special meeting will be called, as soon as the governor approves the Greater Pittsburgh bill, to introduce the ordinance. It will be referred to the finance committee, acted upon speedily, and reported back to councils. Then another special meeting of both branches of councils will be called to pass the ordinance. It is expected that the ordinance will pass both branches without opposition.

A large number of the Citizens members of both branches were organized to defeat the ordinance and probably would have succeeded in holding it up indefinitely had not the Republican amendment been adopted authorizing 2 per cent of the registered voters of the city to petition the court in case councils failed to act. Since the adoption of this amendment the councilmen opposing annexation realize that it would not benefit them in the least to prevent the passage of the ordinance, knowing that a petition outside of councils would be quickly signed.

If there is any opposition in councils at all to annexation it will come from the Citizens. A number of Citizens members, the leaders of whom were from the first 10 wards of the city, called upon the Republican leaders in common council and asked the Republicans to "go along" with them in a movement to block annexation. The Republicans flatly refused. The Citizens councilmen who made this request were among the most servile followers of the present city administration and had bitterly opposed every measure that the Republicans advocated in common council. When they asked the Republicans to help them to save their own political necks they received a prompt turn-down.

The redistricting of the greater city into wards is expected to wipe out fully two-thirds of the present Citizens members in councils. All of the downtown wards, the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Eighteenth, besides the South Side, are to be redistricted and the majority of the present Citizens representatives come from these wards. In the larger wards the administration will be compelled to form new organizations to meet the new political conditions and nearly all of the present ward leaders will find themselves hopelessly in the minority.

Homeopathic Doctors to Dine.

The Allegheny County Homeopathic Medical society will hold a banquet in the Duquesne club at 9:30 o'clock this evening on the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of Dr. Samuel Hahnemann, the founder of the homeopathic school of medicine. Dr. S. M. Rinehart of Allegheny will be the toastmaster, while the principal address will be made by Dr. Charles E. Walton of Cincinnati.

BIGELOW OPPOSES SALARY RAISES

Mayor Hays, However, Demands That His Clerks Be Paid More Money.

MANY OTHER APPLICANTS

Director Bigelow has taken steps to stamp out an epidemic of salary-raising which has broken out among the employes of his department and employes of other departments of the city government. Mayor Hays has instructed Councilman C. W. Helmold, a member of the finance committee, to have an ordinance for the increase of salaries of clerks in his office reported to councils and favorably acted upon.

Other city employes, hearing of this, took advantage of the opportunity to likewise make a demand for increase, the movement extending to the public works department. Although the mayor and Councilman Helmold are in favor of granting increases to certain employes of Mr. Bigelow's department, the director himself has set his foot down hard on the proposition, so Mr. Helmold asserts.

"Director Bigelow will not agree to any increases in salaries in his department until there is a Greater Pittsburgh," said Mr. Helmold yesterday. "Then there will be a revision of salaries all along the line. The salaries now paid officials and employes of Pittsburgh will not be commensurate with the larger city. I personally believe there will be many salaries raised after Pittsburgh and Allegheny are consolidated. Many of them were reduced by W. H. Stevenson's finance committee two or three years ago.

"I expect to see the salaries of the mayor and the directors increased after annexation, but the city charter would have to be amended to permit this, because they are now paid the maximum amounts allowed under the charter.

"The mayor has asked to have the ordinance passed increasing the salary of his chief clerk from $125 to $150 per month, and his stenographer from $75 to $100 per month. I also intend to make an effort to have the salary of James Astin, chief assistant to the superintendent of the bureau of construction, raised from $1,250 a year to $1,800, because he is deserving. He is in Director Bigelow's department, and the director is opposed to granting the increase because, he says, it will start others to ask for more money. He is opposed to increases of salaries in any department at this time and wants all salaries to remain as they are until after the Greater Pittsburgh is accomplished."

When the ordinance increasing the salaries of the clerks in the mayor's office was introduced a few months ago it was approved by the mayor. At the same time a number of other salary ordinances were introduced, and they were all shelved in the finance committee. At the mayor's suggestion Mr. Helmold had adopted in councils a resolution that no salary increases should be granted by councils until the increase had been approved by the mayor or the head of a department. The fact that the mayor has approved the request of his clerks for more salary will doubtless lead to others renewing their demands, backed by their representatives in councils, and a warm fight over the whole question is expected.

Easter - - -

Coming, as it does, at a very late period this year, it is reasonable to assume that Pittsburg will rejoice in a lovely spring day.
To enable all to comprehend what Fashion has introduced as proper for the spring of 1905, we announce,

Beginning tomorrow and continuing
through the week,

An Easter Exposition

which will illustrate, in a marked degree, the various fashions.
Our store will be in Easter dress.
The center of interest will be in the women's suit section of the second floor, and the millinery department of the third floor, West.

Everyone who is interested in correct dress is cordially invited . . .

Theodore P. Shonts talks very sensibly about the plans of the Panama canal commission. He says the members will take off their coats and go to work in order that the canal may be dug with as little delay as possible. That is the way to do it. This canal is the most gigantic engineering enterprise ever undertaken, yet it will be done piece by piece. Nothing is to be gained by sitting down to contemplate its magnitude, while everything is to be accomplished by attacking the various problems singly and bringing the results together in one harmonious whole.

Congressman Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, Pa., has just returned from Santo Domingo, impressed by the good purposes of President Morales and the necessity of the pending treaty with this country. Mr. Acheson is a man of extreme conservatism and caution. His indorsement is, therefore, important. He is not the sort of man who would plunge the country into difficulties or doubtful statesmanship. Having investigated the situation he is convinced of the wisdom of President Roosevelt's course, and takes the opportunity to say so. He is a safe man to follow.

While it is to be expected that spring will bring revolutionary plots in the Balkans with the same certainty that it brings grass and flowers, it is reported this spring that Balkan unrest is unusually prevalent. One cause for this is the occupation of Russia with its war in the far east. This is augmented by the internal disturbances in Russia and by the serious revolutionary outburst in Turkey. This sort of thing is contagious to a degree among turbulent peoples. The worst of the Russian situation is in the Balkan neighborhood and it would be no surprise if the Balkan states should soon be in a turmoil exceeding that of two years ago.

Illustration of the proverbial resourcefulness of the lawyers is afforded in the fact that all possible cases are being taken into the United States courts since Gov. Pennypacker's vetoes of the new court bills for this county. The local federal courts are less congested than the county courts. Suits filed therein have a chance to be adjudicated within reasonable time, so wherever a case can be twisted into federal jurisdiction it is taken to the United States courts. This measure of relief is neither complete nor permanent and if there is not to be an increase in the county courts there must be a radical revision of the primary machinery for enforcing laws and securing justice.

There are so few Democrats in Pennsylvania it might be expected they could dwell together in peace, but it is not so. Up in the northwest counties the near neighbors of the Democratic state chairman are saying mean things about his management of party affairs. Statistical tables are published showing the progressive increase in Republican pluralities in the state since Chairman James K. P. Hall became chairman of the executive committee. These attacks are not quite fair. It is true the Democracy in Pennsylvania has been dwindling until it is almost out of sight, but Mr. Hall is not wholly to blame. Mr. Bryan, Mr. Parker, Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Hill and Mr. Johnson have assisted in wrecking the party of Jefferson, of Jackson and of Buchanan. Mr. Hall cannot be charged with all of the vagaries of the Democratic party.

The inhabitants of India are accustomed to visits by plague and famine, but the horror of being swallowed up by an earthquake is fortunately more rare. Only meager particulars have been received of the devastation by the seismic disturbances, but it is evident it was severe. The ruling British government has been able to relieve conditions when cholera or the bubonic plague appear by enforcing strict sanitary measures, while sufferers from famine are provided with employment on public works when practicable. It is probable the authorities will meet this unusual exigency by prompt relief for the survivors, which can be better afforded by such a form of government than by one of a more representative sort, though the generosity of the American people more than balances possible delinquencies in government assistance in such cases. The last great famine in India was beyond the ability of Great Britain to cope with, and greatest relief was given by American donations which were forwarded in shiploads.

The Madrid Disaster.

While suspicions are entertained that negligence is responsible for the awful disaster following the collapse of the Madrid reservoir, Americans will hardly be able to sympathize with the popular Spanish attitude in the matter. A street riot cannot remedy what has been done, nor prevent a repetition of it. Such a demonstration can only result in further loss of life and greater sorrow.

It is probable, however, the Spanish point of view is peculiar because the Spanish jurisprudence does not promise ready justice. Under our system there is a remedy at law for the results of gross negligence. Naturally an event like the collapse of the Madrid reservoir or the burning of the steamer General Slocum is made the occasion of a demonstration of mourning for the victims and a separate movement for the punishment of the offenders. In Spain the two are combined in a manner to cause more trouble.

There can be no excuse in this day of engineering triumphs for a catastrophe like that at Madrid. The strength of materials, the requirements of foundations and the processes of construction are too well known to admit of apology for violation of primal principles. There must have been gross neglect. The guilty ought to suffer, but it is the height of folly to incite a riot in behalf of the victims that must inevitably result in the killing and wounding of many others.

A World Capital.

There are two sides to almost every question, and the proposition to have a world capital at The Hague is no exception. The project will find advocates and it will meet opposition. While one element will commend it as worthy of the best efforts, another will denounce it as chimerical.

On the whole there is much to commend in Dr. P. H. Eijkman's plan to organize, in connection with the peace tribunal, a great international institution devoted to the solution of great problems common to humanity everywhere. In the cable dispatches pedagogy and hygiene are specifically mentioned. Presumably hygiene as used is intended to include sanitation. Assuredly much good can come from international collaboration upon the best methods of teaching fundamental truths and upon the best methods for securing the public health.

It is fitting that if such work is undertaken, Holland should be considered as the location of the institution, as it has been chosen as the site for the palace of peace. Holland was first among the nations to proclaim religious freedom and to tolerate residence and opinions of diverse races. It was the pioneer in that great movement that has led steadily toward the unification of the nations. It was appropriately selected for the meeting of the first great peace congress and finally as the location of the permanent tribunal for the arbitration of international disputes. For these reasons the proposition coming from that country for extension into wider fields is worthy of careful consideration.

Fads in Schools.

Modern leaders in education who have been fighting conservatism to secure the introduction of new methods in school teaching are likely to find that a reactionary influence is forming on the assumption that the radical school has gone too far. The amplification of the public school course has steadily continued until in many places it now includes a liberal industrial education, including sewing, cooking and singing for girls, and kindergartens are provided for those who were once considered too young to go to school at all.

Some of the prejudice against changes in methods of instruction is due to a failure to understand new designations for familiar modes of mental discipline. Much that is considered play by the undiscerning is really diversified work which produces rest to the mind. There is no doubt of the danger of carrying theories too far and there are indications that a halt will be called. In New York city Superintendent Maxawell is facing a protest of the school board against "new fangled theories" and they claim that by curtailing them he can provide for the instruction of a greater number of pupils in the elementary studies who now spend only a part of the time at school for the lack of buildings.

No doubt a sudden expansion of school buildings was required a few years ago to meet the demands of those who insisted that each child should have a certain number of cubic feet of air. Since that enlargement began few cities and towns have been able to keep up with the demands for larger, better buildings. When to this sanitary regulation is added the greater diversity in the curriculum it makes a complicated problem. It would not be surprising, therefore, to see a return to greater simplicity in education, for systems have been advancing with greater rapidity than the willingness of the community to provide for them.

Regulation or Control.

Obviously President Spencer of the Southern railway has voiced the sentiments of the railroad managers in his address to the Pittsburgh Traffic club, for he is being widely indorsed. Mr. Spencer stands deservedly high in the traffic world because he is a practical man who understands the details of his business as well as its larger features. Yet he has not made entirely clear the objection of the railroads to the Townsend bill.

Mr. Spencer accepts the recommendation of President Roosevelt for "regulation" of rates, but avers the Townsend bill aims at "control," which is not to be thought of. The distinction is too fine for the ordinary layman. Regulation is a farce unless the power is vested somewhere to declare what constitutes a reasonable rate where an existing charge has been officially declared to be unreasonable. If this power of correction is control, then control is desired by the American public and demanded by the president in his message of last December.

In as far as Mr. Spencer has indicated his objection, or his idea of the proper process, it is that the government should confine itself to prosecution of offenses and not enter the field of correcting abuses by official order. In other words he would welcome the enactment of laws imposing severe penalties for overcharges, for discriminations, for undue allowances to private lines, or other abuses, but he objects to giving any tribunal the power to say what shall be done to avoid giving offense. If that is precisely what he means, it will need considerable explanation and argument to convince the public that such a measure of "control" is inimical to the interests of the railroads, their security holders, or their patrons.

Coming Naval Battle.

Appearance of a portion of Admiral Rojestvensky's second Pacific squadron off Singapore has naturally excited the liveliest anticipations of a great naval battle. It is said the Russian admiral sent false information to St. Petersburg concerning his course in order to deceive the Japanese. In addition to being a high compliment to the Japanese secret service this indicates a higher degree of strategy in Rojestvensky than in those other Russian officers who preceded him in the zone of action.

Some mystery surrounds the Russian designs, since the heaviest vessels of Rojestvensky's command did not pass Singapore on Saturday. More mystery attaches to the Japanese designs. The whereabouts of Admirals Togo and Kamimura are merely the subjects of conjecture. It is possible one of them may be near the Russian squadron, or that one of them may be in the vicinity of Vladivostok. It is equally possible the main Japanese naval force may be lingering near the southern passage, which, it is said, Rojestvensky advised his government he would use.

Wherever the Japanese navy may be, it may be taken for granted it is alert and ready for the work to be done. It is highly probable it is so disposed that it may easily be communicated with from Tokyo and speedily mobilized by wireless orders. On this assumption a naval battle may be expected within three weeks. It may come much sooner. It will occur at the time and place to be chosen as most advantageous by the Japanese commanders and the world will be somewhat disappointed if it does not result in another Japanese victory.

Labor for the Canal.

The impossibility of digging the Panama canal by white labor is generally admitted on account of the unhealthfulness of the climate and this fact is likely to give the new commission some trouble. There had been talk of drawing on the islands of the West Indies for men and also of seeking them in South America. But good help is scarce in the South American republics, so that the managers of rubber plantations have had to depend somewhat on imported laborers. The suggestion is now made that Japanese laborers be brought for the work and some authorities think that the Chinese could be brought into the canal zone without violating the exclusion act. These yellow men are adapted to the peculiarities of the climate and the rate of mortality would not be so large as if the work were attempted by Americans.

Probably objections will be raised to importing either the Japanese or Chinese for this purpose, and much will depend on the decision as to the exact status of the territory where the work is to be done. There is no question that the land is under United States control, and in this view Commissioner Sargent thinks that the Chinese exclusion act would bar celestial workmen and the alien contract law would exclude the Japanese. The alien law is applicable to the territory "now subject to the jurisdiction" of the United States, and as it was passed in March, 1903, the claim is made that the canal zone was not then subject to our jurisdiction. It is on the word "now" that the dispute will hinge. In the meantime the alien contract law is not being observed in the Panama canal territory. If it is decided to use Chinese laborers, it is claimed that they might use the fact that they had been admitted to a territory under control of the United States to demand that they be allowed to proceed to the United States itself.

This is only one of the many problems facing the canal builders, but they will no doubt be equal to the emergency.

James Knox Polk Hall has become persona non grata to some of the Democratic workers in the northwest counties because the minority vote has been diminishing in the state.

Gov. Hoch of Kansas as a newspaper editor has refused money for a Standard Oil advertisement. Carry the news to Dr. Gladden, it will gladden his heart.

Congressman Ernest F. Acheson has been talking with President Morales and knows more about the Dominican situation than some of the senators.

It may become necessary to bring the Panama railroad before the interstate commerce commission.

President Spencer of the Southern welcomes regulation but condemns control. The distinction is hardly clear to the layman.

Nan Patterson's third trial is to be called today. It ought to be speedily finished this time.

Texas bade a fond farewell to the president after he had given it the advice to learn to shoot.

As usual, in the springtime the Balkan young man's fancy lightly turns to revolution.

Admiral Rojestvensky shows determination to do his painful duty.

Now the big game will have to rustle to evade the president's aim.

Pittsburgh tenements are beginning to yield their harvest.

April has as many moods for this year as ever before.

Couldn't Settle Out of Court.

Judge Sylvester Dana, who was for some years judge of the police court in Concord, N. H., always endeavored to smooth over any little difference between persons brought before him. On one occasion the charge was for a technical assault, and it came out in the course of the evidence that the parties were neighbors and had been on the best of terms for some years.

"It is a great pity," said the judge, "that old friends, as you seem to have been, should appear before me in such a way. Surely this is a case which might be settled out of court?"

"It can't be done, judge," answered the plaintiff, moodily. "I thought of that myself, but the cur won't fight."—Boston Herald.

Purifying Water.

Copper is bad for the human anatomy in any amount, however small, and its cheapness cannot compensate for the evil it may produce when introduced into the drinking water of a community. To guard the water supply at its source and throughout its length is a preventitive of impurities, provided always there are always enough reservoirs to store it and keep it pure after it reaches its destination. It may cost a little more money but it is free from the danger of metallic or any other kind of poisoning.—Baltimore American.

Twice Eaten Venison.

Leo V. Fester, a wheelwright at Camp Stotsenberg, accompanied by two natives, while out hunting between the post and Bambang river, approached within 10 yards of a monster python 27 feet long. Fester emptied the contents of his carbine into it and killed it. After cutting it open there was found inside a deer about two years old with horns about four inches long, and only dead a few hours. Two natives later carried the deer home for food.—Manila American.

Vardaman and the Negro.

If the negroes are as bad as he paints them, Gov. Vardaman undoubtedly has reason to desire a great influx of white men to help bear the white men's burden and keep the negroes down on the lines of his policy. But the northern white men will not seek the job. When Mississippi adopts a policy of lifting the negroes up rather than keeping them down her boomers may perhaps begin to have success. —Chicago Record-Herald.

Chicago's Troubles Begun.

The troubles of Chicago's mayor-elect have begun. The voters wanted immediate ownership, and Mr. Dunne told them to go along and vote for him and they should have it. That was a good way to get himself elected, and was certainly a much smoother road to travel than to undertake to tell the voters just how he was going to give them immediate municipal ownership.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Reducing the Cotton Acreage.

The organization of the Southern Cotton association is effective from the Rio Grande to the James, and the pledges of its great membership will be sacredly observed. There are enough of such acreage production pledges to reduce the cotton acreage of individual members of the organization at least 30 per cent in the aggregate, it is said, and this represents the bulk of the south's cotton acreage.—Atlanta Constitution.

Big Herd of Buffaloes.

Ranch 101 in the Ponca reservation has purchased from a half-breed Indian at Misoula, Mont., a herd of 20 full-blooded buffaloes and will maintain them for breeding purposes. Probably the largest full-blood buffalo in the United States is now on the ranch. It was purchased from Pawnee Bill, and when in good flesh last summer weighed 2,200 pounds.—Kansas City Journal.

Filial Aid.

Eli Ruelle today won the nomination for highway commissioner at the Portage township caucus against three opponents. Seventeen of Ruelle's sons peddled tickets industriously for their father, and Ruelle won out handily on a combination platform of good roads and no race suicide. —Detroit Tribune.

The Crime of 1905.

On April 16 the mints of Mexico will be closed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Future generations of Mexicans may refer to this as "the crime of 1905."—Atlanta Constitution.

Quicker Methods.

They are now carrying powder and cartridges in the holds of excursion steamers plying in the vicinity of New York. The old system of killing off passengers with iron-stuffed life-preservers was sure, but apparently too slow.—Washington Post.

Keeping Them Distinct.

It is Gen. Chaffee's conclusion that we should not try to make the bayonet at once a weapon of offense and an agricultural implement. In other words, we should keep our swords and our ploughshares distinct.—Boston Transcript.

System Didn't Work.

Col. Watterson has been to Monte Carlo and the things he is saying about gambling seem to indicate that his system didn't work.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Awakening.

He comes, the great Revivalist!
He comes, the long desired, long missed!
He comes with clear, inspiring call
But not to packed and teeming hall
Where crowds repentant meet;
He calls us other-whither far,
Where babbling streams and wild woods are,
And where no more dull grays are seen,
But clad in robes of shimmering green,
The wealds smile fair and sweet.

At his reviving touch awake
The bare black copse and thorny brake,
In dainty sheen the hedgerows sprout,
Frail flowers fling odors all about
And deck the barren sod;
His "Glory Song's" triumphant notes
Are thrilled from myriad throbbing throats.
They ring into the high faint blue
As if to burst heaven's portals through
To reach the throne of God.

He comes! All Nature welcomes here
The great revival of the year,
Old earth grows young, the days grow long.
The woods are all athrob with song,
And hearts now tuned to love;
Here folson is where late was dearth,
For silence, melody and mirth
Till in our hearts we deem we know
The fair and smiling earth below
Has changed to heaven above.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By Frank A. Parker.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—Nowhere in the world do the charitable people take better care of the unfortunate members of the community than right here in New York, the city supposed to be given wholly to the worship of the god of mammon. This fact is brought forcibly to one's attention just now by the many appeals for funds that are being made at the close of a hard winter that has taxed the resources of the charitable associations to the utmost. Moreover, these appeals are heard and the money is pouring in from all quarters to put the asylums and homes on their feet and prepare them to get together the funds that will be necessary for next winter's campaign against want and neglect.

During the past week there have been held a number of benefits to raise funds for some of the charitable institutions, and many others are announced to be held in the weeks to come. Somehow people seems to be more charitably inclined when the trees begin to bloom and the flowers to show up among the green, and spring charity benefits receive the heartiest support. Then the fact that during Lent one may do many things, otherwise proscribed, when they are done in the name of charity, and society fusses about and makes up in good deeds for much of the thoughtlessness of others during the gay season just past. But whatever the reason, the benefits are coming close and fast, and not one of the many charitable institutions will have been left out by the time Easter Sunday comes around.

End of the Winter Campaign.

Although the nights are still cold enough to cause some suffering should one attempt to sleep in the parks or on the beach at Coney Island, as many do during the heated term, there is no longer the call for the aid of those charities which are busy all winter long looking after the poor of the tenements and the streets. The bread line at Herald square is no longer a nightly attraction, and there are fewer demands made upon the free lodging houses than a few weeks ago. There is less coal to purchase, less of a demand for hot, strong coffee to begin a day's campaign in search of work and no calls at all for heavy clothing to bar out the cold winds. Apparently there are fewer idle men, too, or perhaps the floaters who infest the Bowery in winter have started on their annual tour of the country. New York is good enough for these tourists in the winter, but when summer comes they feel "the call of the wild," and strike out for the dusty roads.

Benefit for Stony Wold Sanitarium.

While the "syndicate" managers are giving their annual benefits for the actors' funds, Mrs. Fiske throws open the Manhattan theater for charities that are more general. Not that she would not do the same for the actors, if necessary, but she probably figures that she is out of the fold since the syndicate has taken possession of the earth and the fullness thereof, and they should attend to the charities of their bailiwick. Not long ago Mrs. Fiske gave an afternoon benefit for the home for friendless dogs, which cares for all the strays that can be gathered up in the city, even furnishing them a summer home. It was a financial success, and every dog in the home would bark a welcome to her if she should make them a visit. On Monday afternoon she will give a special matinee for the benefit of the Stony Wold sanitarium. There will be two one-act plays written by Mrs. Fiske and one act of "Hedda Gabler."

Drives for Crippled Children.

One of the most pleasing charities in the city is the organization called the Crippled Children's Driving Fund. The women who are managing this organization make it a point to give a drive through Central park to every crippled child in the city, including not alone those in the various hospitals, but also those who live in the tenements, and to whom such pleasures are almost annual events. These drives began a week ago, when about 30 youngsters from the lower East and West Sides and Greenwich village were driven through the park and given a substantial luncheon before they were returned to their homes. Since then, on different days, children from the Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled, and those from the Laura Franklin hospital were given outings. These drives will be continued from now until the first of November, and during the extreme heat of the summer arrangements will be made for the more pressing needs of the children.

Floating Hotels Gain Popularity.

With the opening of spring the floating hotels of John Arbuckle are growing in popularity. His latest venture can hardly be called a charity, as a sufficient fee is charged to make the vessel pay more than expenses. It is not Mr. Arbuckle's intention, of course, to make money out of the venture, but he believes that there is a class of young men and women who come between the very poor and those who are able to afford many of the luxuries supposed to be only for the well-to-do. These he is trying to reach, and he wants them to feel that they are not accepting something for which they do not pay full price. He has, therefore, invested his money and made it possible for them to purchase such luxuries without overtaxing their incomes.

Night Trips Yet to Come.

Not until the sun begins to make uncomfortable sleeping in the close tenement rooms will the nightly trips of the Arbuckle steamers designed simply for a night on the water begin. Hundreds of people took advantage of these trips last year, and they are certain to be as popular this summer. Certainly much more comfort can be found in a berth on one of these steamers than on the roofs of the tenements or on the fire escapes, and certainly there is less likelihood of "falling out of bed." Still there will remain thousands of homeless men who will be satisfied with the cool sands of the beach at Coney or even with the grass in the parks, which is permitted by the police during the very hot nights.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By Erasmus Wilson.

O woman! lovely woman! Nature made thee
To temper man. We had been brutes without you.
—Otway.

Whenever you call on woman to halt and think a bit, or to talk it over, she is inclined to go up in the air and, maybe, declare that you are trying to rob her of her rights and privileges.

This is because woman is not philosophical. And it is just as well that she is not, because her normal duties in life require her to act upon impulse rather than upon deliberation.

As has been said by the prophets, perhaps a woman's reason for the existence of a thing is simply because it is. The fact of its existence is enough for her. And then her arguments mainly consist of assertion, and when these fail she carries her point through sympathy or tears.

But she is all right, all the same. And Thomas Otway struck it about right when he said that nature made her to temper men, not to tempt them, as the printer sometimes causes the types to say, for we would have been brutes without her.

That she sometimes tries to get over the fence and trespass on man's domain is not greatly to be wondered at, for didn't her mother, and our mother, Eve, neb in where she had no business, thereby causing us to have to hustle and make our way in the world instead of living like other animals or brutes, as Otway puts it?

* * *

In spite of the fact that woman is generally all right it becomes necessary to check her up occasionally, or to call her down when she gets too gay, so to speak, for she is naturally inclined to be extravagant in her notions, as well as in her tastes.

This, however, compensates in measure the disposition of man to live a humdrum, careless sort of life.

Our bachelor friends may rise up and resent the statement that if woman were not as she is in taste and disposition man would rapidly degenerate into a lazy, indifferent sort of animal.

And if man were not what he is, woman would "fly the coop" and disappear among the clouds, so ethereal and effervescent is she.

After all, it is better that things should continue on as nature arranged them in the beginning, much better than to allow bachelors, male or female, to run things.

Has it ever occurred to you that nature made no provisions for bachelors? The general and specific order was that everything that lives should bring forth after its kind.

Do those not invite disastrous failures who fly in the face of nature's laws? Are they not in rebellion against Mother Nature, and will she not chastise them? She would not be a good mother if she allow her children to do as they please, particularly when they choose to be disobedient.

* * *

A correspondent asks if this isn't a very small matter to make so much fuss about, and then proceeds with a full half-column of stuff, and pretty hot stuff, in which she scalds the men severely.

Others have ventured to suggest a change of topic for Monday's column, following the suggestion with a few blasts for or against the bachelor girl.

And then the bachelor girl comes along with a demand for the cessation of hostilities, usually charging that she is being unfairly treated.

The charge of unfairness will not stand. No word of abuse, nor of unfair criticism has been allowed to appear, nor any of the mean things that have been written by representatives of both sides. By mean things is meant things that may irritate and cause ill feeling.

So far the masculine bachelor has played the part of an interested looker-on. Some of the shots fired in his direction may have gone to the spot, but not a shot in return. He proposes to let them fight it out and if there are any left when the battle is over, he may get busy and do what he can to restore peace and good order in the new Eden, the Eden which is to be when women have fixed things to suit themselves.

Mr. Quiet Observer:—

There may be no new thing under the sun, but there are new conditions of the old things. Even those whose brains move most slowly will acknowledge that "times are changed." The former boundaries of "woman's sphere" have both broadened and narrowed, so that the same sphere requires an entirely new survey before its field may be definitely described.

Furthermore, does not the term "womanly" mean an inherent quality more than environment? Doesn't it mean what you are, more than what you do? You'd be rather flatly contradicted if you stated that a man who conducts a successful millinery establishment cannot possess as much manliness as the man on the battlefield or in the stock market.

A woman who keeps books, or operates a typewriter, or conducts a business enterprise, may have as much womanliness as the woman who bakes bread, or keeps house, or leads society a dance. It's in the woman, not in her occupation!

To my mind, the girl who earns her own living in store, office, kitchen, or any other place and does it successfully when necessary, possesses far more womanliness of character than the selfish creature, helpless because too lazy to stir, depending on the efforts of father or brother or any other male relative she can trump up claim to, when her dependence is a burden.

It speaks well for the man who thus supports the women of his family, sacrificing his own comfort and health, perhaps, to do so, and surely it brings out the manliness of his character; but at the expense of the womanliness of the women so supported.

If the man is in good circumstance, or is wealthy, it is an entirely different matter, of course, and his generous support may enable the woman thus aided to enter a social or philanthropic field where they are a thousand times more useful than in business, to earn a living.

But why do we complain about each other, and call names? We are what the times have made us. You'll find far more peace of mind and pleasure in life if you good-naturedly and patiently forge to the front in the line of progress, than if you lag in the rear carping at those ahead.

About the marriage question applied to business women: That's an individual matter, isn't it, in this country, with both men and women? And, being so, what have the authorities to say about it? We will do as we please anyway.
A BUSINESS WOMAN.

POOR WOMAN.

Woman dare not curl her hair,
Neither make her face more fair,
Dare not cultivate the pink
In her cheeks, lest man may think
Less of her than he does now.
(Little that would be, I vow.)

And if woman dress in style
Man is watching all the while,
Every mode to criticise,
Unless 'tis the plainest guise;
No comment upon that dress,
But, "That's an old maid, I guess."

Women dare not gossip, though
Men may tell what their wives know;
It is woman's gossip still
When rehearsed at man's sweet will;
At his leisure, without haste,
'Tis embellished to his taste.

Woman may cook, mend and sew,
Serve her lord and children, grow
Either young or old, as she
Worketh out her destiny:
But she dare not waste a kiss
On a woman, folly—this.

EDITORS BUSY

Items from State Sanctums.

This has been a busy week for ye editor and the Republican is a day late as a result. We have been editor, foreman, pressman, typo and devil all at once and have had all sorts of trouble. One whole day this week we sat perched upon a high stool picking nonpareil type. We worked a little harder than we have worked for many a day, and as the hour of quitting had a nice string of solid nonpareil to our credit. That evening someone in looking around the office noticed the bright new type, and wondering, no doubt, whether it was solid or not, picked up a handful, and the result was terrifying. It is really surprising how much "pi" an unexperienced person can make in so short a time. The next day we did most of our former day's work over again, and this time placed the type where it could not be found by curious visitors. This accident, coupled with the absence of our foreman, who took a week off to get married, has kept us very busy.—Punxsutawney Republican.

Many "Real Daughters."

A presentation to the "real daughters" of the Keystone chapter of the United States Daughters of 1812, made the meeting of yesterday a memorable event in the history of the society. The demolition of the old building on the site of the new four-story structure which Attorney A. C. Hagan will erect in East Main street, was completed today. It was originally a log house, and is supposed to have been built not later than 1785. Constable Charles M. Fee says that his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas M. NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

WILL FIGHT FOR EMPTY HONORS

Democrats of Washington County Promise Lively Contest at Primaries.

CANDIDATES NAMED IN OHIO

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 9.—The Democrats of Washington county promise a big fight in the coming primaries over the nomination of two candidates for county commissioner. Six candidates have announced—Bert M. McCartney, McDonald; W. A. Furlong, Roscoe; J. L. May, West Washington; J. D. Pollock, Hanover township; Capt. J. B. Wilson, Monongahela, and W. H. Ecker, Washington. No Republican candidates have officially announced, but it is thought that the incumbents, S. F. Scott and J. E. McClay, will again be candidates.

BELLEFONTE, April 9.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention will be held here April 18, with the primaries next Saturday. Candidates in the field are as follows: For sheriff, Henry Kline; county treasurer, Isaac Underwood, H. M. Allison and L. E. Swartz; county commissioners, John G. Bailey, Abram V. Miller, H. E. Zimmerman and Jacob Woodring; recorder, Harry Hewitt and Cyrus T. Hall; register, E. C. Tuten and W. T. Wrye; auditor, H. B. Ponthus and H. D. Musser; county chairman, H. C. Quigley; delegate to state convention, Harry Keller.

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 9.—(Special.)—Semi-official returns from every precinct of the Republican county primaries held yesterday show that M. N. Duvall has carried the county for state senator. Those nominated were: Representative, Avery Jones; probate judge, J. R. McCleary; recorder, Charles Myers; sheriff, D. F. Vorhes; coroner, George Campbell. Sheriff Gilson captured the county organization, which will oppose Judge J. A. Mansfield for congress.

TORONTO, O., April 9.—(Special.)—The largest vote ever known was polled here yesterday at the Republican primaries. J. S. Casey for mayor had 63 plurality. The other nominees are: James Hallie, S. Lowe and Gert Chaine for council; John Wellington, marshal; D. O. Ault, clerk; Anson Bray, treasurer; Daniel Nenkel, R. M. Freney and W. B. Shuster, board of public affairs.

CANTON, O., April 9.—(Special.)—Following the Republican county primaries yesterday, J. J. Grant, candidate to succeed Congressman Kennedy from the Eighteenth district, says he has 62 out of 87 central committeemen in Stark county, insuring him the county delegation in the convention. This fight will also settle the postoffice contests in Canton and Alliance. Following is a list of the candidates nominated yesterday: Common pleas judge, Ralph S. Ambler; probate judge, C. C. Bow; state senator, Robert A. Pollock; state representatives, James A. Welker and F. A. Hailes; county treasurer, Harry Pollock; county prosecutor, C. C. Upham; sheriff, Frank Wilson; county commissioner, James C. Burnheimer; infirmary director, I. H. Smith; coroner, Harry A. March.

DRAYLOADS OF LIQUOR IN JUSTICE'S OFFICE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., April 9.—Justice A. B. Boughner's office is piled high with barrels and boxes of wine, whisky and beer that were found by the wagonload in Italian stores raided by Prosecuting Attorney C. W. Cramer and Sheriff Barker tonight.

The stores were those of Emelio Garbarino, "John Doe," N. Mastere and Lewis Latterina. The Italians are all in jail with the exception of Garbario, who furnished bond. The man known as "John Doe" unsuccessfully attempted to stab Attorney Cramer, who raided the place alone, the attempt being made while the two were in the cellar, the Italian having first extinguished the light.

The Italians had several hundred dollars about them, concealed for the most part in handkerchiefs tied about their legs. More than a dozen drayloads of liquor were seized altogether. Morgantown is a prohibition town.

Minister Critically Injured.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., April 9.—(Special.)—While returning from Asbury chapel, where he had preached, the Rev. S. H. Greenlee, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Chester, W. Va., was this afternoon thrown from his bicycle, cutting a deep gash in his forehead and rendering him unconscious. The accident happened at 4 o'clock and he was still unconscious five hours later. Physicians say his condition is critical.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

ALTOONA—The Portage iron works after being idle for several years, will resume this morning, employing several hundred men.

ALTOONA—Robert G. Morgan, a Pittsburgh division brakeman living at Derry, slipped and fell under the wheels of his train yesterday and was killed.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA.—It is thought that by the first of July the work of eliminating the curves over the Cumberland Valley railroad near Mason-Dixon line will be complete. Since the business increased by the transfer here from the Baltimore & Ohio, the straightening of the road became a necessity.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA.—The preliminary hearing of Attorney J. B. Clifford and his son Paul, one of whom shot Jacob Turner, was held Saturday and the two men were held for the grand jury. Nearly all of the witnesses said that Turner fell at the time the elder Clifford shot with his rifle.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—At a meeting of the members of the Youngstown Iron Sheet and Tube Relief association Saturday night these five directors were elected for three years: George D. Gessamann, F. C. Kraus, George Borts, O. R. Jones and F. A. Bowen. The annual outing of the association will be held at Conneaut lake July 1.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The interurban cars as well as the local electric cars now run through the city at a rate of six miles an hour. The fact that a Warren special almost ran down a child caused a police order to compel the motormen to respect the speed ordinance.

DEAL ON FOR FARMS NEAR ALIQUIPPA PARK

Intended Purchaser Rumored to Be the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, April 9.—More details have been announced in the deal in progress for the purchase of six farms between West Economy and Aliquippa park.

The purchaser, rumored to be the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, is represented by Attorney Robert Ritchie of Ambridge. The farms contain about 100 acres each, and are said to be held at $1,500 to $2,500 an acre. The deal thus involves more than $1,000,000. The land lies between the Ohio river and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad for two miles, and is about half a mile in width. The farms wanted belong to the Ritchie heirs, J. H. Douds, the Douds heirs, the McDonald heirs and two farms of the Bennett brothers.

Attorney Ritchie refuses to say whom he represents in the negotiations. It is said that hand money has already been paid, and that the completion of the transaction is assured.

CHIEF FIRE FIGHTER OF NEW CASTLE

FRANK J. J. CONNERY.

NEW CASTLE, April 9.—(Special.)—Frank J. J. Connery, who has just been chosen head of the fire department, is entering his third term. Chief Connery was born in Pittsburgh August 31, 1856. He has been connected with the department continuously since July 3, 1876, passing successively through all positions until becoming chief.

REV. ANSON PHELPS STOKES PRAISES BROTHER'S FIANCEE

Declares Poor East Side Settlement Worker an Ideal Woman—The Family Is Pleased.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—That the family regard the coming marriage of J. Graham Phelps Stokes, the New York millionaire, and Miss Rose Harriet Pastor, the poor East Side settlement worker, with favor, was vouched for today by the Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, secretary of Yale university, who preached at the morning service in Houston hall, University of Pennsylvania.

When seen after the service the Rev. Mr. Stokes at first begged to be excused from discussing the matter, but when pressed to say something of Miss Pastor, he replied:

"Miss Pastor is an ideal woman, loving, true, tender hearted, gentle and intellectual. She is a noble woman and has done noble work. The family is very much pleased with the match. It is an ideal one in all respects."

Large Class to Graduate.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 9.—(Special.)—The graduating exercises at the Canonsburg High school will be held on the evening of Thursday, May 25. Class day exercises will be held May 12. The class is the largest in the history of the school, numbering 25.

Brought Here for Treatment.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 9.—(Special.)—James Lucas, son of G. B. Lucas, of Gretna, a small town 10 miles northwest of Washington, was injured yesterday by a mad dog, which was killed. Young Lucas was taken to Pittsburgh for treatment.

PASTOR ASKS TO RESIGN BECAUSE OF COLLAPSE

Park Avenue Presbyterian Congregation Startled by Announcement That Minister Is Physically Unable to Further Serve His People.

Without previous knowledge or surmise, the large congregation of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church was notified yesterday morning by Mr. Carpenter, clerk of the session, that the pastor, the Rev. H. B. Hummell, desired to sever his connection with the church, owing to failing health, and sought the congregation to petition the May session of presbytery to relieve him of his charge.

The Rev. Mr. Hummell preached last Sunday, but only with great difficulty because of his great physical weakness. On Wednesday of last week his physician pronounced him a very sick man and ordered him to seek absolute rest for at least a year. Since then he has been confined to his bed.

Yesterday the Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant, former pastor for 20 years, occupied the pulpit after Mr. Carpenter had made his announcement. Dr. Chalfant also spoke of the serious illness of the pastor and gave the impression that his condition was most critical.

The morning service was followed by a meeting of the session and there seemed little doubt that the church will concur with the expressed wish of the Rev. Mr. Hummell and petition presbytery with deep and sincere regret for a dissolution of the relations between them. The Park avenue church at its annual meeting, which will be held on Monday evening, April 17, will have completed the forty-sixth year of its history. Of that period the Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant was its pastor for over a score of years. He was followed scarcely three years ago by the Rev. H. B. Hummell, who has been successful in his work and has gained the deep affection and sincere admiration of his people.

CONDEMNED MAN WOULD BE A REAL "HAMLET"

Prays He May Walk the Earth After Death—Wishes to Haunt "Real Criminals."

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, April 9.—Martin Rasmus, the condemned murderer, who is to be executed on May 4, and who, until a few days ago did not realize that all hope of escaping the gallows is past, now prays that he may be able to return to earth to haunt the men whom he says have sworn away his life to shield the real criminals.

"I am ready to die; I cannot escape," he says, "but I pray the Good Creator to let me return to earth again and haunt the men who swore my life away. I am innocent, and they know I am. Four men are guilty of Henry Ortwine's death. He was drunk and I was taking him home when four men attacked us. I had made some enemies at the polls that day. I knew they had it in for me, and I fled and left Ortwine to his fate.

"I am innocent, but my last wish on earth is to be able to return and haunt them day and night for the rest of their lives."

Youngstown Men Against Shaffer.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 9.—(Special.)—President Theodore J. Shaffer is not the popular man that he was in the past among the Amalgamated Association men of this city. While elsewhere in this district he is being urged to become a candidate for the presidency of the association again, there is little sentiment of that kind expressed here. The cause is the failure of the strike at the American Steel Hoop Company's plants and his attitude in connection with it.

THINKS HE IS A MURDERER.

Slav Arrested Supposed to Be Wanted for Crime Done in Butler.

Paul Maulervitch, alias Tony Lies, was arrested on Saturday night on the South Side, on suspicion of being wanted for a murder committed in Butler in January. Other Slavs pointed out the man to a policeman as a fugitive from justice. At the police station Policeman Charles McAfee identified him from a description as being wanted in Butler.

Although there is absolutely nothing known against the man, he was sentenced to the workhouse yesterday as a suspicious person, but is detained at the police station.

Gasoline Stove Exploded.

A small gasoline stove exploded in the house of Elsie Warren, 113 Craig street, Allegheny, last evening, and caused $300 damage to the furniture and clothing. The blaze was extinguished by firemen.

Men Arrested for Stone Fighting.

While stone fighting in Forty-fifth street last evening, Steve Barkowitz, Steve Matset, Steve Saylich and Louis Rendage were arrested and locked in No. 5 police station. The men all board in Forty-fifth street.

SUPERSTITION FAILS SEARCHERS FOR BODY

Remains of a Boy Who Jumped Into Beaver River Are Accidentally Found.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW BRIGHTON, April 9.—The body of George E. Dugan, aged 19, of Bridgewater, who leaped into the Beaver river and was drowned two weeks ago, supposing that an officer was trying to arrest him, was found this morning floating in the river a mile below where he was drowned. A continued search had been made with grappling hooks, 100 pounds of dynamite had been exploded in the river, several superstitious methods of locating a drowned person's body had been employed, and a professional diver was engaged.

A spiritualist said the body had lodged between two planks in the New Brighton dam and last Sunday money was raised and a diver secured. Five thousand people watched him work; but the body was not found. In the meantime a loaf of bread with a lighted candle on it was floated down the river at night, but it did not stop over the body as expected.

John Aley accidentally found the body at 9 o'clock this morning while rowing in a skiff. Coroner J. R. Gormley had the remains taken to Anderson's morgue in Beaver. The funeral will be held from the Christian church, Beaver, tomorrow. Dugan lived in Bridgewater with his mother.

Negroes Assault a Policeman.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 9.—(Special.)—Policeman Clark Enoch was assaulted by four negroes late last night and seriously injured. Enoch had ordered them to move from a corner. He recognized two of his assailants as "Slick" Grayson and James Rankin, warrants for whose arrest have been sworn out. The men had not been captured tonight.

Dr. D. F. McGill Very Low.

There was no change last night in the condition of the Rev. Dr. D. F. McGill, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny, who is critically ill at the family residence in Chartiers street. Dr. McGill is afflicted with heart trouble and was very weak yesterday. The attending physicians are almost constantly with him, but hold out little hope of his recovery.

Town Marshal Is Killed.

DIAMOND, Ind., April 9.—Town Marshal Albert Byers tonight was shot and killed by Jesse Dones, a saloon keeper. Dones escaped. Byers recently enforced an order against gambling and slot machines. The men met in front of the saloon tonight. They quarreled and Dones shot Byers through the breast.

Alleged Wife-Beater Fined.

William Homa of 102 McKean street, South Side, was fined $25 and costs in the South Side police station yesterday morning on a charge of wife beating.

STRONG CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED SHAFFER

WILLIAM G. YOUNG.

NEW CASTLE, April 9.—(Special.)—William G. Young, president of Pride of New Castle lodge of the Amalgamated association, is a formidable candidate for the presidency of the national organization, to succeed President Shaffer. He will take his seat as a member of council, representing the Fifth ward.

WILL START FIVE MILLS AT WHITAKER PLANT TODAY

Notices of the Court Injunction Are Served on the Amalgamated Members.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., April 9.—According to information given tonight by the management of the Whitaker mill of the Whitaker-Glessner company, five mills will start in full Monday morning. When asked if the large number of men landed in the mill Saturday were skilled workmen President Whitaker answered: "Wait and see."

The issuance of the temporary injunction and the subsequent arrest of Mr. Whitaker and 10 guards has complicated the situation and neither side knows what move to make next. Whether the imported men are skilled workmen and will be able to keep the mills running is doubted by the strikers. Vice President William M. Gibson of the Amalgamated came here from Pittsburgh yesterday to confer with Vice President Larkins and others. No definite course has been mapped out by the strikers, further than pushing the case against the president and guards. Additional persons were arrested late last night, some of whom will receive hearings on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Summons, together with copies of Judge Thayer Melvin's order granting a temporary injunction, were served on the defendants today in the case of the Whitaker-Glessner company vs. Fred Williams and others. The summons are returnable May 1, when a hearing will be held to determine whether or not the injunction will be made permanent.

Millionaire Helb Dies.

YORK, PA., April 9.—(Special.)—Frederick Helb, a millionaire who amassed his fortune in brewing, tanning and making flour, died at his home in Shrewsbury, this county, at the age of 70 years. In addition to his large business interests, he owned many farms in this county and in Maryland. He was the father of Theodore Helb, a millionaire brewer of this city.

Body of Child Is Found.

GREENSBURG, April 9.—(Special.)—Coroner Charles A. Wynn investigated a case at Murraysville tonight. The body of a child wrapped in a bag was found today near the stone wall of a residence a mile from that town. The child had evidently been dead for several weeks.

Office of Controller of Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pa., April 4, 1905.

NOTICE is hereby given that the commissioners of Allegheny county, commonwealth of Pennsylvania, will receive until 12 o'clock, noon, Monday, April 24, 1905, sealed proposals for the permanent improvement of certain public roads or highways in said county, known as the Washington pike, Mt. Lebanon road, Castle Shannon road, Imperial and Clinton road, Pitcairn road, Three Degree road, Lovedale road, Coraopolis and Carnot road, Narrow Run road and Dinsmore road, according to the surveys, plans, profiles and estimates on file in the office of the county road engineer, the said surveys, plans, profiles and estimates, together with a copy of the contract specifications and bond to be entered into by the party or parties to whom the contract may be awarded, are on file in the office of F. W. Patterson, county road engineer, room No. 29, court house, Pittsburgh, Pa., and are open for the inspection and examination of all persons interested.

The proposals or bids for said proposed improvement must be filed in the office of the county controller, court house, Pittsburgh, Pa., and must be addressed to the county commissioners, who will open the same on Monday, twenty-fourth day of April, at 12 o'clock, m., 1905, and the contracts will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders in compliance with the provisions of an act of assembly, approved the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1895, entitled "An act providing for the permanent improvement of certain public roads and highways," etc. Each proposal must be accompanied by a bond with two sureties, probated before said commissioners, or before some person having authority to administer oaths, or the bonds of a security trust company authorized to do business in the county of Allegheny, in the sum of twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars. Bids must be submitted for each road separately.

The commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

R. J. CUNNINGHAM,
County Controller.

Department of Public Works,
City of Allegheny, Pa.,
April 5, 1905.

SEALED PROPOSALS—Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received in the office of the city controller until 9:45 o'clock a. m., on Monday, April 17, 1905, for doing the following work:

For the construction and erection of two (2) melting tanks, one (1) sand drum and two (2) stacks for the asphalt repair plant of the bureau of highways and sewers.

Plans and specifications can be seen and all information obtained at the office of the superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a bond with two sureties, probated before the city controller or a bond of a surety trust company which has complied with the ordinance of councils for furnishing bonds for city contracts, bonds to be in the sum of one-half the estimated cost of said work.

The mayor and the director of the department of public works reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Proposals will be opened publicly in the office of the mayor at 10 o'clock a. m., on Monday, April 17, 1905.

JAMES G. WYMAN,
Mayor.

ARTEMAS PITCAIRN DIES SUDDENLY

Well-Known Figure in Plate Glass Industry Is Victim of Pneumonia.

HAD BEEN ILL BUT A WEEK.

Artemas Pitcairn, aged 56, vice president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, died at 9:45 o'clock last night at his home, 5017 Forbes street. Mr. Pitcairn had been ill but a week. Last Sunday night he suffered a chill, and during the week pneumonia developed, which was the immediate cause of his death.

In the plate glass industry Mr. Pitcairn was one of the best-known men in the country. He became identified with the glass business in Western Pennsylvania soon after the organization of the plants at Tarentum and Creighton. After the organization of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company he became prominently identified with the enlarged corporation, and in the councils of the men who make for the glass industry in this country his advice and suggestions were always sought.

Mr. Pitcairn was born in Columbiana county, O. His parents were Robert and Jean Pitcairn, who moved with their family to Pittsburgh when Artemas was quite young. The deceased received his education in the public schools and a private institution in this city, and in the early seventies went to Oil City as general agent of the United Pipe Line Company, and registrar of the National Transit Company. He remained in Oil City for a number of years, coming to Tarentum to enter the employ of the glass company then operating at that place and at Creighton. He witnessed the manifold changes which have taken place in the plate glass industry in recent years, and largely contributed to many of the most important innovations.

Mr. Pitcairn was a member of the Church of the New Jerusalem. He is survived by his widow and six children, three sons and three daughters. The children are Robert of Charleroi, John, Arthur, Caroline, Fanny and Jean, all of whom were present at their father's deathbed. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Capt. E. G. Johnson.

Capt. E. G. Johnson, aged about 55, for several years a resident of Allegheny, died suddenly Saturday night at Indianapolis, where he had gone on business. Capt. Johnson was a native of Eastern Pennsylvania and was an officer in the Union navy during the Civil war. Several years ago he was married to a daughter of Joseph J. Stein of the North Side. Mrs. Johnson is at her father's home at 920 Middle street, and was informed yesterday of her husband's death. Capt. Johnson was engaged in promoting land improvement companies and was en route from the south when stricken with pleurisy at Indianapolis. Col. Thomas G. Sample of Allegheny received a letter from Capt. Johnson several days ago. The latter said he expected soon to go to Panama, where he was to be employed in some capacity on the canal contract. During the year 1904 he was third vice president of the Allegheny War Veterans' association, and when in the city took an active interest in Grand Army affairs. The body will likely be taken to the family home in Baltimore, Md.

N. C. Gilson.

More than 200 firemen escorted the body of N. C. Gilson of North Braddock to the grave yesterday morning. He was vice president of the North Braddock Volunteer Fire department. The organization was formed nearly five years ago and he is the first member to die. The North Braddock firemen were joined by delegations from Wilmerding, Turtle Creek and Pitcairn, the last named town sending 50 men. Mr. Gilson was a member of the Pitcairn department before moving to North Braddock. The funeral services were held in the Brinton Avenue United Presbyterian church and the pastor, the Rev. R. C. Betts, officiated. At the close of the services the firemen, who had remained on parade outside the church, marched up one aisle and out the other viewing the remains in passing. The burial was in Braddock cemetery. Mr. Gilson was 43 years old and leaves a widow and eight children.

Mrs. Mary A. Oskin.

Mrs. Mary A. Oskin, widow of Zachary Oskin, died yesterday from pneumonia at her home in Washington avenue, Braddock. She was born at Green Springs, now the site of Kennywood park, 52 years ago. Her husband, who was a pioneer hotelkeeper in Braddock, died 13 years ago. Mrs. Oskin was one of the original members of St. Thomas' Roman Catholic church and is survived by eight children: Cecelia, William, Jessie, Kathryn, Charles, Alice, Raymond and John, all of Braddock. The following brothers and sisters also survive: William F. Fullery of Homestead, Mrs. Sarah Dunne of East Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Margaret McCauley of Braddock.

Dr. John Gordon Stewart.

Dr. John Gordon Stewart, a well-known physician of Pitcairn, died at Mercy hospital yesterday following an operation. Dr. Stewart was born in Springdale, Armstrong county, in 1851. He was a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore, Md., and was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church, a member of the Masonic lodge of Wilmerding and a director of the First National bank of Pitcairn. He is survived by his widow (nee Agnes Cooper) and four children, Bruce, Mildred, Jean and Melrose.

Edward M. Aiken.

Edward M. Aiken, aged 58, died of pneumonia yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at his residence, 706 Aiken avenue, after an illness of 10 days. He was a member of the firm of Aiken & Co., having offices in the Empire building. He was born in East Liberty July 15, 1846. He was an elder of the Shadyside Presbyterian church. He is survived by his widow, whose maiden name was Harriet Lewis, and by two children, Herman L. Aiken and Mrs. N. A. Weed, both of Pittsburgh.

Obituary Notes.

Robert Bennett, a well-known citizen of Sharon, died Saturday night, aged 69 years.

LIVES OF 40 PEOPLE ENDANGERED BY FIRE

Incendiary Blaze Had About Closed the Only Avenue of Escape.

The lives of 40 persons were put in jeopardy early yesterday morning by a fire that started in the store occupied by John Ondek at 408 Preble avenue, Allegheny. The timely discovery of an unusual light in the building by Lieut. Nicholas Kelsh prevented what would have been a catastrophe, as there is but one exit from the three floors of the building, and that is through the store. The flames were rapidly finding a way back to the narrow passage, and in a few minutes would have cut off the only avenue of escape.

Lieut. Kelsh was at Preble avenue and Ontario street at 1:30 when he noticed an unfamaliar light in Ondek's grocery. When Policemen Sill and Sullivan arrived an investigation was made, and while the officers discussed the probable cause of the strange illumination a flame shot up from under the counter. The door was kicked in, and while Kelsh mounted to the upper floors to warn the inmates, the two policemen fought the flames. The blaze was soon extinguished. In their fright the 40 or more foreigners who live in the rookery scrambled out into the street clad only in nightclothes.

Supt. John Glenn and Detective John King went through the storeroom carefully yesterday, and declare the fire was the work of an incendiary. Under the counter a lighted candle had been placed, and at its base lay a bundle of oil-soaked paper. The entire floor had been saturated with the combustible fluid.

PRESS CLUB WILL NOT BE BENIFITED BY "BOHEMIA"

Officers Issue Statement That They Are Not Interested in the Proposed Institution.

President J. M. Hazlett and Secretary C. M. Armor of the Pittsburgh Press club are out in a signed statement disavowing the club's connection with an institution known as "Bohemia." The statement says:

Information has reached the Pittsburgh Press club that solicitors working in behalf of "Bohemia," a home for incapacitated newspaper men, are in the city, seeking subscriptions for the establishment and endowment of the institution. "Bohemia" is not in any way an institution in which the Pittsburgh Press club is interested. When its launching was brought before the International League of Press clubs the delegates from this club opposed its indorsement and the club has since refused to countenance it in any way. It does not approve the basis on which the home has been placed and it cannot countenance the methods after which its interests are being furthered. The Pittsburgh Press club, mindful of the consideration with which it has been treated in the past by the business and professional men of the community, and deeply appreciative of the support it has enjoyed at their hands, desires to take this means of saying that it will not profit in any way, directly or indirectly, from responses to appeals in behalf of "Bohemia."

Other propositions of a similar nature, the club has been led to believe, are being made to the people of Pittsburgh, on the ground, or invited inference, that newspaper men will be benefited by them. The club has nothing to do with any such schemes, and it asks its friends not to entertain them in the belief that it, or such newspaper men as may not be included in its membership, will profit in any way. Solicitors and agents in any capacity for the Pittsburgh Press club will carry at all times credentials that will leave no doubt as to their authority. No such solicitors, agents or credentials exist at this time. The club, its officers and its members are always ready to supply information concering those who may come forward in their behalf, whether honestly or otherwise.

He had lived in Sharon for 41 years, moving there from England.

Joseph M. Henderson, aged 54, a real estate dealer of this city, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his home, Jancey and Greenwood streets, East End. The funeral will be from his late residence at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Susan Snyder, aged 55, daughter of the late Jacob and Susan Snyder, died Saturday at the residence of her sister, Mrs. George Goodboy, Fair Haven, Pa. Funeral services will be held at the residence tomorrow at 11 a. m.

David R. Magaw, formerly of New Brighton and lately a real estate dealer of Allegheny, died yesterday at 1 p. m. at his residence, 130 Carroll street, Allegheny. The funeral services will be at the residence on Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Jacob B. Hann, a pioneer, died Saturday at Sharon. He was born in Sussex county, N. J., in 1822. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Drusie Crawford of Kansas City. One brother, James, and one sister, Mrs. Jane Trout of Hickory township, Mercer county, also survive.

Mrs. Alma Genre, aged 41, died at her home in Wilmerding yesterday. She was a pioneer resident of Wilmerding. Her husband, Dominick Genre, is a well known lumber dealer. Mrs. Genre was born in Gottenburg, Sweden, and came to this country in 1884. She was a member of the Lutheran church. Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Victor and Alphonse, of Wilmerding.

Think Judges' Bill Will Pass.

Col. Silas Hunter and Walter S. Palmer of Mercer county, L. O. McLane of Crawford county and C. M. Wood of Erie, members of the legislature, went to Harrisburg at 9 o'clock last night. Colonel Hunter said he believes the judges' retiring bill, which is one of the most important measures before the legislature, will be among the bills passed before adjournment this week.

CAR HITS TRAIN.

Motorman and Passengers Are Bruised and the Vehicle Is Smashed in Braddock Collision.

One man was badly bruised and six other persons, passengers on car No. 1018 on the Second avenue division, were shaken up and bruised in a collision at the Eighth street crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Braddock about 11 o'clock last night. The motorman, Thomas Mulcare, aged 30, of Second avenue, Glenwood, was running for the crossing, but the safety switch at that point failed to work and the car dashed into an eastbound fast freight train.

The traction car narrowly missed hitting the tender of the engine, and the first car of the train knocked the entire front end from the car. Mulcare was unable to escape and was struck by parts of the wrecked platform. The passengers were Nicholas Glasser, M. J. McMahon, Thomas McDonough, all of Braddock, and Miss Carrie Everett and the Misses Margaret and Jennie Mayer, all of Homestead.

Mulcare was taken to his home. The passengers were able to go home without assistance.

Indigestion?

I offer all Stomach Sufferers a Full Dollar's Worth of My Remedy Free to Try.

I can afford to offer a full dollar's worth free because mine is no ordinary remedy. Ordinary remedies treat symptoms. My remedy treats the causes that produce the symptoms. Symptom treatment must be kept up forever—as long as the cause is there. My treatment may be stopped as soon as it has removed the cause, for that is always the end of trouble.

Stomach trouble is not really a sickness, but a symptom. It is a symptom that a certain set of nerves is ailing. Not the voluntary nerves that enable you to walk and talk and act—but the automatic stomach nerves over which your mind has no control.

I have not room here to explain how these tender, tiny nerves control and operate the stomach. How worry breaks them down and causes indigestion. How misuse wears them out and causes dyspepsia. How neglect may bring on kidney, heart, and other troubles through sympathy. I have not room to explain how these nerves may be reached and strengthened and vitalized and made well by a remedy I spent thirty years in perfecting—now known by Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I have not room to explain how this remedy, by removing the cause, puts a certain end to indigestion, belching, heartburn, insomnia, nervousness, dyspepsia. All of these things are fully explained in the book I will send you when you write.

In more than a million homes my remedy is known. It has cured stomach troubles not once, but repeatedly—over and over again. Yet you may not have heard of it—or hearing may have delayed or doubted. So I make this offer to you, a stranger, that every possible excuse for doubt may be removed. Send me no money—make me no promise—take no risk. Simply write and ask. If you have not tried my remedy, I will send you an order on your druggist for a full dollar bottle—not a sample, but the regular standard bottle he keeps constantly on his shelves. The druggist will require no conditions. He will accept my order as cheerfully as though your dollar laid before him. He will send the bill to me.

Will you accept this opportunity to learn at my expense absolutely, how to be rid forever of all forms of stomach trouble—to be rid not only of the trouble, but of the very cause which produced it? Write today.

For a free order for a full dollar bottle you must address Dr. Shoop, Box A 568, Racine, Wis. State which book you want.

CENTRAL BOARD TO VOTE $5,000

Money Will Be Used in Fixing Up Friendship Park for Pittsburgh High School Boys.

REPAIRS MUCH NEEDED

The Pittsburgh High school athletes will soon receive a present from the central board of education in the shape of an appropriation, which will be used towards remodeling Friendship park.

George W. Gosser, a member of the central board who is also chairman of the athletic committee, said yesterday he felt confident the board will vote to expend $5,000 to be used in making repairs and installing necessary adjuncts to the park. All the money appropriated will be needed in making the contemplated improvements.

The park at present is in poor shape. It is planned to build a new high fence of good material, and to fix the present grandstand and erect new bleachers. The playing field will be enlarged and graded, making it perfectly level.

The most necessary improvement, in the eyes of the boys, is the installation of shower baths. The boys have never enjoyed the benefits of a shower bath at the park. There is one old spigot that sends down ice-cold water, and because of its severity in football weather, it is never used.

With good shower baths and other minor necessities at the park the athletes will turn out in larger number to try for places on the different athletic teams. The High school athletics are far from being self-sustaining, and aid must always come from the central board.

DUNLAP'S GOOD SHOT PUT.

Michigan Athlete Throws 16 Pound Weight 45 Feet 1 Inch.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., April 9.—(Special.)—In the annual interclass indoor meet at the University of Michigan last night Dunlap, the shot putter, made a new record for himself by hurling the 16-pound ball a distance of 45 feet 1 inch. His feat was the most brilliant event of the evening, and demonstrated the fact that Michigan will make a good fight for the shot put at the conference meet next June. Summaries:

Shot put—Won by Dunlap; Ackerman, second. Distance, 45 feet 1 inch.

40-yard dash—Won by Hugg; Runney, second. Time, :04 4-5.

40-yard low hurdles—Won by Shaw; Post, second. Time, :05 3-5.

40-yard high hurdles—Won by Post; Shaw, second. Time, :05 3-5.

880-yard run—Won by McKinney; Demmler, second. Time, 2:06 3-5.

High jump—Howard and Henning tied for first place. Height, 5 feet 9 inches.

440-yard run—Won by Magoffin; Demmler, second. Time, :53¾.

Mile run—Won by Minor; Dull, second. Time, 4:35.

Pole vault—Hendrie and Wheeler tied for first. Height, 10 feet.

LOGAN HAS LITTLE BETTER OF FORBES, EX-CHAMPION

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—(Special.)—Phil Logan of this city had a little the better of Harry Forbes of Chicago, the former bantamweight champion, in a fast clever, six-round bout at the National A. C. last night. Forbes proved decidedly clever as a boxer, especially on the defense, when he blocked many of Logan's leads in the neatest manner possible. Logan, however, after the opening round, when he scarcely touched Forbes, found a way to get past Harry's guard. Logan was especially effective with right-hand swings under Forbes' heart, and these blows took considerable steam out of the Chicagoan. For the first four rounds honors were even. In the last two rounds, however, Logan mixed it up with his opponent and his superior quickness enabled him to get a victory over Forbes.

Des Moines Gets It Hard.

DES MOINES, IA., April 9.—(Special.)—Comiskey's group of money-making tourists wound up a memorable barn-storming tour this afternoon by administering an impressive defeat to the Des Moines Western leaguers in the presence of a record-breaking Sunday crowd, which numbered more than 5,000 people. Score by innings:

YANIGANS BUNT THE BALL AND DEFEAT PADUCAHITES

They Send Leather Around Platt's Feet and Enjoy Themselves—Score, 7 to 2.

DEPART FOR LOUISVILLE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PADUCAH, KY., April 9.—There is more joy in Paducah over one run from the Pirates than over 99 bingles from Punk "Kitty" league twirlers. Fifteen hundred Paduchans, augmented by several hundred rooters who came on a river excursion from Cairo to witness the game, almost lifted the roof off the new stand with their noisy acclamations when Howard's wild throw to first in the seventh inning allowed O'Hara to come in from second. Vahrenhorst took second on the play and scored on Taylor's clean single.

At no other time during the game did the Paducahans ever come close. The Yanigans bunted the ball on Platt until the Paducahans looked on with amazement. In the first Howard singled, a throw to catch him napping went wild, and he moved around to third, whence he tallied on McBride's bunt. Platt again threw bad to first to peg McBride and he went around to third, coming in on Peitz's bunt and out at first. In the third Wagner was safe on Perry's fumble, sprinted around to third on Howard's sacrifice, and scored on McBride's bunt and out at first.

In the fifth Wagner beat out an infield hit and scored on singles by Howard and McBride. In the eighth Howard led off with a bunt, McBride ditto, and Peitz sacrificed. Lee hit to Taylor who fumbled and booted the ball, and both the runners crossed the plate.

At 10 o'clock tonight the Yanigans entered a sleeper and at once departed for Louisville, where they will join the regulars. The stay here has been delightful. Score:

LATE NEWS FROM COLLEGE AND SCHOOL

There is trouble brewing in local prep. school circles. It was intimated yesterday that Pittsburgh High school will refuse to play East Liberty academy in baseball this season, because the blue and white, it is alleged, does not conform to the High school eligibility rules. These schools have had trouble in past years over eligibility rules.

Lafayette College beat the Montreal Eastern league club Saturday at Easton 7 to 1. The professionals were outbatted and outfielded.

Hogenson, Chicago's star sprinter this year, surprised his teammates when he ran the 100 yard dash in the western record time of :09 4-5, made by Clyde Blair May 30, 1903. A strong wind at his back materially aided the maroon, but, notwithstanding this assistance, the time made is regarded as phenomenal for this season of the year. Wilkins, the pole vaulter, also performed well, crossing the bar at the height of 11 feet 3 inches, and Parry threw the discus 113 feet.

Pennsylvania cut off two practically sure runs for Georgetown in the first inning by a remarkable double play in which Brady, Myers, Fennell, Hare and Schuler figured by putting out Larkin at the plate and McGettigan at third. Pennsylvania had several chances to score during the game, but was shut out through the very fine pitching of Ayer, who struck out Brady and Schuler in the second inning after the bases had been filled on a bunt and two bases on balls. He also struck out two in the ninth with a man on second and one in the seventh with a man on second.

Princeton prep. school defeated La Salle Saturday on the prep. school diamond 6 to 1. Reiter, a brother of "Bosy" Reiter, the famous Princeton halfback, pitched a fine game for the preps., striking out 12 men and allowing only four hits.

Herb. Byram pitched the last five innings against Tufts and showed fine control, striking out four men and allowing only two safe hits. Helm, the freshman center fielder, played the best game for Princeton, cutting off two hard drives that looked like home runs.

The University of Chicago nine defeated River Forest at Marshall field Saturday in a 10-inning game 7 to 6. The contest was close and exciting, and it was not until two men were down in the extra inning that the winning run was made.

Pennsylvania and Princeton will meet in a dual wrestling contest at Princeton Friday night. The Princeton and Pennsylvania wrestlers are more evenly matched than would be supposed from the result of Friday's bouts, in which Penn was shut out.

Varsity—Stroke, E. T. Foote; No. 7, W. F. Lee; No. 6, Fernow; No. 5, G. W. Foote; No. 4, Dods; No. 3, Stowell; No. 2, Barton; bow, Boesch (captain); coxswain, Taylor. Stroke, Adams; No. 7, Newton, No. 6, Barnhart; No. 5, Johnson; No. 4, Goodier; No. 3, Chapman; No. 2, Powers; bow, Studervant; coxswain, Rankin.

Four-oared—Stroke, C. A. Lee; No. 3, Hooper; No. 2, Roats; bow, Fisher. Stroke, Newberry; No. 3, Sailor; No. 2, Newman; bow, King.

Freshman—Stroke, Cox; No. 7, Bromley; No. 6, Swinney; No. 5, Dulaney; No. 4, Corman; No. 3, Gavett; No. 2, Gracey; bow, Welch; coxswain, Slocum. Stroke, Carman; No. 7, Kuschke; No. 6, Burkhart; No. 5, Goodwillie; No. 4, Baker; No. 3, Brahmer; No. 2, Vandeveer; bow, Coan; coxswain, Humphreys. Stroke, Holt; No. 7, Earl; No. 6, Needham; No. 5, Hansen; No. 4, Austin; No. 3, Focke; No. 2, Allen; bow, Remsen; coxswain, Mulligan. Stroke, Andersen; No. 7, Bear; No. 6, Bierma; No. 5, Sturgis; No. 4, Clark; No. 3, Lewis; No. 2, Eberhardt; bow, Whitehead; coxswain, Elsworth.

Hugo Bezdek, fullback on the University of Chicago football team, against whom charges of professionalism were preferred last December by the authorities of the University of Illinois, will be exonerated. New evidence in the case, which has come to light recently through men connected with the fight game in Chicago, seems to make any decision but that of clearing the accused athlete out of the question.

CRANE, THE CHAMPION, LOSES TO CHARLES SANDS

BOSTON, April 9.—Joshua Crane of this city, the national court tennis champion, today met defeat at the hands of Charles E. Sands of New York in the final match of the singles national championship tournament at the Boston Tennis and Racquet club.

The New York man took three out of the four stubbornly contested sets, the score being 6-4, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

NEW YORK PLAYERS ARRESTED FOR SUNDAY BREAKING

NEW YORK, April 9.—At the opening of a game of baseball on the grounds of the Catholic protectory, between the New York National team and the Emeralds of the protectory, Neal of the New Yorks was placed under arrest on a technical charge of violating the Sabbath law. Two of the players of the Emerald team were also arrested, and all three were bailed in a nominal sum at the police station. They will appear in the police court tomorrow for a hearing. The game was won by New York, 10 to 5.

Jackson Sold to Atlanta.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9.—Pitcher Charles Jackson, who had been signed for 1905 from the Texas league, by the Cleveland American league team, has been sold to Atlanta, Ga., of the Southern league. Too many other seasoned pitchers is the reason given by the management of the club for not retaining Jackson on the salary list.

Hartford Goes to Bethany.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 9.—(Special.)—Jesse L. Hartford, the crack Canonsburg pitcher, has gone to Bethany, W. Va., and entered college. He has agreed to remain at the institution 10 weeks. He will probably pitch for the Canonsburg Independent team the coming summer.

York Signs Pitcher Matthews.

YORK, PA., April 9.—(Special.)—William Matthews, who last year was a pitcher for the Buffalo team of the Eastern league, has signed a contract to play on the York baseball team.

Vanderbilt's Marigold a Winner.

PARIS, April 9.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Marigold, ridden by Ransch, the American jockey, won the Blangy stakes at Long Champs today.

CROWD WATCHES HORSES ON BEECHWOOD BOULEVARD

WHAT THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS ARE DOING

Lee Lywellen, the former University of West Virginia baseball captain, will play with the Pittsburgh Collegians this summer. Lywellen, who is an outfielder, is one of the best hitters West Virginia ever had. Tom Uptegraff of Shadyside, who will captain the collegians, will have many good players to pick his team from. Those who do the best work this spring will be selected. "Spear" O'Leary of Indiana Normal will do the catching.

Manager Heckert of York has signed George Magoon, the ex-National league player, to fill the position of shortstop. The York team is now complete and the players will arrive this week and begin practice.

Two of the officials of the Johnstown club went "gum-shoeing" Saturday night, with the result that one of them landed Joe Martin of Altoona, the crack utility man who was with Washington and St. Louis in the American league two years ago and who played last season with Columbus of the American association. Several months ago Martin was traded by Columbus to Colorado Springs of the Western league, but he refused to go there and will report in Johnstown on Wednesday. Manager Atherton has not yet reported the success of his mission, but he is said to be in the east endeavoring to land a star player of one of the big leagues.

A number of the Johnstown players will report today. Ferry, the elongated twirler who was with Minneapolis last season, will drop in from Buffalo, and Shaw, who caught for the Bisons, the champions of the Eastern league, will come from Uhrichsville, O. Good from Leetsdale, Sweeney from McDonald, Badel and Lobert from Pittsburgh, Lipp from Baltimore, Sandherr from Lehighton, Hagen from Philadelphia, Miller from Cleveland, McConnell from Franklin, Tenn., Morgan from the East End and Nallin and Martin from Altoona are expected to arrive not later than Tuesday evening.

The most extensive deal in Tri-State circles this season is that effected by Coatesville and Lebanon. Coatesville has given a cash consideration and Bobby Rothermel to Lebanon in exchange for Mauch, shortstop; McDonald, first baseman; Mack, second baseman; Sweeney, catcher; Myers, pitcher, and Tibbetts, outfielder. Manager Stecher of Coatesville is hustling to get together a good team.

Vic King of Millvale has signed with Dayton.

It is rumored in Central league circles that Charles Maag, the Wheeling shortstop, will jump to Altoona.

Gun Club is Organized.

SHARON, PA., April 9.—The Perkins Gun club reorganized last night by electing Warren Taylor, president; Thomas Wallis, vice president, and James Carver, secretary and treasurer. Weekly clay pigeon shoots will be held during the season.

Few Steppers Are Out, but Sport Is All That Can Be Asked for So Early.

NOT MUCH BRUSHING DONE

A big crowd lined up along the speedway of the Beechwood boulevard yesterday to see some of Pittsburgh's fast ones step a little. It was thought that the bright day would bring out the horsemen in number, but there was very little doing in the brush line. Harry Darlington, who had with him W. Scott Steele, drove a pair of blacks that pole in 2:25. One is by Director and the other by Direct, and they are as alike as two peas. They showed quite a fast move and went as if something fast may be looked for here.

O. H. Allerton had out Baron Williams by Allerton, and moved nicely. In the speedway Jonas McClintock with Philip E. (2:15), held everything safe. W. L. Smith's roan pacer Gypsy Boy, Jr., to a cart hooked up with him several times, but it was no use. Henry Rea's gray, Amity Ed. (2:14¼), looked good. George Baum's Raymond B., which goes around 2:15, and William Lon's Milbert, which was first five times, three times second, twice third, and only once out of the money in 11 starts, were handsome blacks that filled the eye.

Dave G. McDonald had several out during the afternoon from his big stable, one being the Sweet Marie. J. M. Porter's Dr. Burns, a gray pacer, was also noticed.

230 MEN TRAINING.

Harvard Track Candidates Break Record for Number at Work.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., April 9.—(Special.)—Harvard's track squad has reached the phenomenal proportions of 230 men. Never in all the Crimson's history has she had so many candidates for the field and Coach Garcelon is beginning to think that he may yet defeat Yale this year. During the past week 75 new men have reported and the interest appears to grow. The candidates are divided approximately as follows: Mile and two-mile, 57; half-mile, 30; quarter-mile, 30; sprints, 50; hurdles, 17; high jump, 12; broad jump, 26; pole vault, 10; hammer throw, 8; shot-ut, 5.

During the past week Trainer Lathrop has so systematized his work that individual attention may be paid to each candidate. In the past men have always run in bunches. In the future they will run separately as far as possible, and by following each one individually the coaches expect to get a better idea of the true value of their men.

White Sox Beat Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—(Special.)—Ten thousand persons watched the White Stockings trounce the Columbus American association team here today for the second time. It was the final game of the training trip and more people saw the Sox play here than have watched them in all other cities together. Score by innings:

Chicago ....0 0 2 0 0 0 0 2 1—5
Columbus ....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2

TWO LEAGUES AFTER KEEFE

Record of Pittsburgh Umpire Over Whom South Atlantic and Western Are Fighting.

John Keefe.

John Keefe, the well-known Pittsburgh umpire, has been notified by the president of the South Atlantic league that he must work for him this year, while similar word comes to him from the Western league. Keefe thinks the South Atlantic will get him, as he promised to enter that organization prior to receiving word that he was wanted to return to the Western.

Keefe started into baseball, playing shortstop on the Holy Ghost college nine, now Pittsburgh college, in 1889-90. He umpired in the Allegheny County league in 1891-92-93, and the next year umpired on the independent circuit. He worked the game between Uniontown and Tarentum for the championship, which was won by Uniontown. He started with the Inter-State the following year, but when it went up he joined the Iron and Oil league and finished the season with it. In 1896 he went to the Southern league, but it disbanded early in the season and he came to the Inter-State, which had been placed on its feet again. He stayed in the Inter-State the rest of that year also '97 and '98. The next years he worked in the New York State league, then he was in the Southern league two years, going to the Western league last year. He was never released, which fact he speaks of with pride.

Keefe is the originator of the battery announcement before the games. He started this practice in the Allegheny County league. He also patented an indicator.

TENNESSEE OAKS ON TODAY'S CARD

Event Is for Three-Year-Old Fillies and Will Be Run at Memphis Track.

LADY SAVOY THE FIRST CHOICE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 9.—The Tennessee Oaks at one mile for 3-year-old fillies, a sister event to the Tennessee Derby, and as much of a classic in this neck of the woods, will absorb interest tomorrow at Montgomery park. The following six carded in the over-night entries are all apt to go:

Angeleta, M. Henry; Druid, Hildebrand; Lady Savoy, Buchanan; Miss Inez, H. Phillips; Sis Lee, J. McIntyre; Miss Jordan, C. Kelly.

Present indications point to Lady Savoy as the choice of the speculators. While her appearance tomorrow will mark her debut of the season, her last year's form was so excellent that with the preparatory work which she has received for tomorrow's event makes her look on paper the best of a lot that is far from bad.

In Angeleta, Barney Shrieber has one that will carry his colors dangerously near the winner, no matter which one it may eventually be. Charley Ellison will pin his faith to Miss Inez. While possessing a tidy flight of speed over the shorter distances, this daughter of a former Oaks winner, Lady Inez, has never shown a disposition to stick out a distance, and is usually found wanting when the finish comes at the end.

The east is represented in A. L. Aste's Druid. She looks like the outsider with no look-in for any part of the purse.

NEWARK'S ERRORS COSTLY.

Eastern Leaguers Lose to Athletics Through Misplays.

NEWARK, N. J., April 9.—(Special.)—The Newark Eastern league baseball team appeared on its home ground for the first time this year this afternoon, having for opponents the Athletics of the American league. Costly errors by Catchers Shea and Lattimer, each counting for a run, lost the game for Newark. The locals outbatted Mack's men two to one. The score:

JACK DOYLE SIGNS WITH TOLEDO CLUB

TOLEDO, O., April 9.—Jack Doyle of last year's Philadelphia National league club has been signed to play first base for Toledo. President Grillo bought his release and Doyle accepted the terms offered. He will join the club at once.

Toledo was anxious to sign Ned Calhoun of Allegheny. President Grillo last week sent Calhoun two telegrams and a personal letter, but the Alleghenian declined to leave Harrisburg.

Local Players Interested.

The selection of Cincinnati as the place to hold the next open tournament of the Western Golf association brings the event so near Pittsburgh that players here will have more than usual interest in it. The dates assigned are June 29 and 30.

CHILD LABOR LAW WILL BE PASSED

Makes a Complete Change in the Present System of State Factory Inspection.

BILLS CROWD CALENDARS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, PA., April 9.

The hopes of the Pennsylvania child labor association to improve the condition of the women and children in the factories and workshops in this state are almost certain to be realized within 30 days. A bill having this for its purpose has been passed by the senate and will be taken up for third reading and final passage tomorrow in the house of representatives.

The bill has been amended to make 10 hours a legal day's work to satisfy the opposition, and there no longer seems to be any doubt of its passage. It was drafted by the state factory department with the approval of Gov. Pennypacker, who is almost sure to sign it. The bill raises the age limit from 13 to 14 years and makes a complete change in the present system of state factory inspection.

Both the senate and the house have plenty of work ahead of them before the final adjournment Thursday noon; the calendars are crowded with bills that must be gotten out of the way. The majority of them are appropriation bills that can be disposed of in short order, but it will be necessary to spend considerable time calling the roll in both bodies on amendments made to bills by the other. The floor leaders are trying to arrange the work of both bodies so that it may not be necessary to hold an all-night session Wednesday.

Gov. Pennypacker now has on his desk 75 bills, many of which will not be disposed of until after the close of the session. He will have 30 days after Thursday in which to get rid of the mass of legislation which will be left with him. Most of these bills are appropriation measures on which it will not be necessary to give a hearing. He will give public hearings on the Greater Pittsburgh bill and the three bills known as the Philadelphia "rippers."

Two of the "ripper" bills are now in his hands and the third will be sent him as soon as the senate concurs in the house amendments. Among the bills now in his hands are those giving to cities the right of eminent domain, authorizing boroughs to manufacture gas and the state highway department bill amending the good roads act of 1903.

Both bodies will reconvene at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for the consideration of general business. The order of business in the house will be senate bills on third reading and final passage and senate bills. The judges' retirement bill, which is on the house postponed calendar for second reading, will probably be called up tomorrow night. Those having it in charge claim to have enough votes to pass the bill, which has already passed the senate.

There are 17 house bills on the house postponed calendar which probably will have to be dropped. Among them are the bank tax bills, the Riley bill to abolish capital punishment, the bill prohibiting the adulteration of milk and cream, and the bill permitting owners or lessees of coal lands to enter collieries being operated upon adjoining lands to ascertain whether the owners have been or are trespassing upon their lands.

There are a large number of senate bills for third reading on the house calendar that probably will be acted upon tomorrow. Among them are the bills appropriating $375,000 to deepen and improve the Delaware river channel and creating the department of state charitable institutions. The senate bill for the licensing and regulating of dispensaries by the state board of charities is also on the house calendar.

The senate bill fixing the salary of the attorney general at $12,000 and increasing the salaries of his assistants is on the house postponed calendar for third reading and may not be taken up until Tuesday. This bill passed the senate more than one month ago and it has since been tied up in the house because of the opposition of the country members. Much of this opposition has been withdrawn and there is little doubt of its passage. The house will hold three sessions on Tuesday and a morning and afternoon session on Wednesday.

Among the numerous house bills on the senate calendar for third reading are those appropriating $20,000 for a statue of Senator Quay in the state capitol park; providing for the construction of sidewalks along turnpikes in townships of the first-class; regulating the taking of carp with gigs and spears, and regulating public pool rooms, billiard rooms, bowling saloons and 10-pin alleys.

HONORED BY CATHOLICS.

Week of Prayer in Churches and Schools for the Late Adrian Iselin, Millionaire.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., April 9.—(Special.)—Rarely has an outsider been honored by the Roman Catholic church as highly as Adrian Iselin, the millionaire banker who died last week. Since his death prayers have been offered for him daily in the churches and schools his family helped to build, and today it was announced that a large marble statue emblazoned with a background of gold is to be put in St. Gabriel's church, the handsome $250,000 edifice built by his wife, as a tribute to his generosity.

Father Kellner, pastor of St. Gabriel's church, invited the congregation to contribute to the fund and also to pray for Mr. Iselin because he had done so much for the cause of religion and given New Rochelle Catholic parochial schools for their children.

Off the Streets for Six Months.

Jim Katz, a negro of Tunnel street, whom the police say never works but lives by his wits and loafs about the streets night and day, was fined $100 and costs, with the alternative of six months to the workhouse, yesterday.

Disorderly Negroes Fined.

Herbert Brooks, Lizzie Cook, Susie Allen and Maud Taylor, all negroes, were fined $25 and costs each yesterday for disorderly conduct in a house in Shore alley.

DATE ARRANGED FOR REHEARSALS

Director Arthur Claassen Will Assemble Big Saengerfest Chorus on May 21.

SINGERS ARE BEING TRIED OUT

On Sunday, May 21, the first big rehearsal for the Pittsburgh saengerfest will be held in Allegheny Turner hall under the direction of Prof. Arthur Claassen of Brooklyn, the fest director for the Pittsburgh gathering of the singers next June. Prof. Claassen will have over 700 voices in the great chorus which is being organized among the leading local German organizations. The date for the rehearsal was announced yesterday at the meeting of the singers of Allegheny in Arion hall, and was received with enthusiasm when it was stated that Prof. Claassen would arrive in Pittsburgh some time before the date for the meeting of the big chorus in order to acquaint himself with the preparations which are being made for the saengerfest.

Three chorus rehearsals were held yesterday, and all the societies either held meetings or heard reports from their committees which have the matter in charge.

In Arion hall 60 German tenors and bassos reported to Prof. John Dauberger and practiced three hours. It was a strenuous afternoon, and Prof. Dauberger accomplished much in whipping his class into shape. If any of the singers were suffering the lassitude of spring fever, they soon recovered under the Crestorean leadership of the energetic professor. He pulled up his cuffs, clinched his fists and went after the chorus like one of old Frederick's drill sergeants. He stamped his feet and brought out the bass, and with a few mesmeric gestures sent the notes of the tenors up to the proper height. Some at first went clear out of sight, but they came back to earth without damage, and galloped over the scale again.

Then, as if to dispel any doubt as to the enthusiasm of his singers, Prof. Dauberger asked them to join in and sing "Die Wacht Am Rhein." They got together with a vengeance and made the hall ring with that stirring old hymn which makes every son of the Fatherland feel his blood run faster.

"Patriotism," says the professor, "is the parent of melody—and a successful saengerfest."

The Millvale Germans gathered in the hall of the Franz Abt Liederkranz and filled the hills of Girty's run with sweet echoes. The West Enders and the singers from McKees Rocks held their rehearsal in the West End Maennerchor hall in Steuben street. Prof. John S. Vogel directed the Millvale chorus and the West End singers joined under the baton of Prof. Nicholas Hipp.

The Arion Singing society of Brooklyn, with 200 members, will come to Pittsburgh in a special train and will take a leading part in the saengerfest. Invitations have been sent out to all the singing societies in Allegheny county, asking them to take part in the street parade.

DESPONDENT DAUGHTER OF BANKER KILLS HERSELF

Miss Mary Gallaway Shoots Herself in a New York Hotel—Has Been Ill Seven Years.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—Miss Mary Gallaway, daughter of Robert M. Gallaway, president of the Merchants National bank and a director in many railway companies, killed herself in her room in the Hotel Seville here today.

Miss Gallaway had suffered from dyspepsia for seven years and was attended by two trained nurses. One of these was engaged hanging some clothes in a wardrobe when she heard the sound of a shot, and turning to the bed saw Miss Gallaway, who had been sitting propped up with pillows, fall over. She had shot herself through the mouth, dying almost instantly. Miss Gallaway was 31 years old.

Despondency due to long continued illness is believed to have been the cause of the suicide.

MATRIMONIAL PROMOTER.

Justice Settles Breach of Promise Suit, Marries Couple and Buys Wedding Dinner.

SHARON, April 9.—(Special.)—Justice of the Peace Peter Cook of South Sharon proved himself a Good Samaritan yesterday when he patched up a lovers' quarrel and then married the two young people. On Wednesday Sarah Kloss entered suit against Martin Hartman, charging him with breach of promise. Hartman was arrested and brought before the justice yesterday.

The justice offered to furnish the couple a license at his own expense if they would marry. Both agreed. The license was received from Mercer and after they were made husband and wife the justice gave them the money for their wedding dinner.

PROTECTION FOR WOMEN.

Pittsburgh Police Magistrates Impose Heavy Penalties Upon Ungallant Men.

John Alex, a Hungarian of 13 Acorn street, was sent to the workhouse for three months in default of a fine of $100 and costs yesterday morning. Alex, it is claimed, abused his wife because she refused to support him in idleness and give him all the money she made by taking in boarders.

W. C. Williams of 3032 Penn avenue was fined $15 and costs yesterday morning. It was charged that he had threatened to shoot his sister-in-law Saturday afternoon.

John Seveater of 147 Battery alley was sent to the workhouse for 90 days without the alternative of a fine yesterday morning. The charge against him was wife beating.

Threatened the Bartender.

A. Litwinski of Tustin street was fined $50 and costs or three months to the workhouse yesterday. It was alleged he created trouble in a saloon on Forbes street and threatened to hit the bartender with a piece of iron he carries in his pocket.

Promptly Paid the Fine.

Ethel Lawrence of 438 Third avenue was accused of stealing $65 from a man, and when she was assessed $10 and costs yesterday promptly paid it. Robert Boyce was fined the same sum on a charge of stealing a ham at the Diamond market.

Are Linnekin's Prices for Cleaning and Dyeing Higher Than Others?

Farms.

FOR SALE—CHEAP.

Come and see, examine and be convinced. One farm containing 180 acres, 100 acres of which is clear, dry bottom land, free from stone, will make excellent meadow; located in the valley of Laurel Hill creek, on R. R., 87 miles east of Pittsburgh, and underlaid with Somerset county smokeless coal, and adjoins the property of the Usina Coal Mining Co.

Also 175 acres of excellent grazing land, well watered, located high and well suited for a summer resort; has enough timber on it to more than pay for it.

Also another tract of land, containing 37 acres, adjoining it; has on it four never-failing springs; one mile from R. R. station.

Also a tract of land of 200 acres, on main line of B. & O. R. R.; Laurel Hill creek passes through it, on which are a number of excellent manufacturing locations, such as steel plants and rolling mills; this tract is strictly level and the abundance of pure water on it makes it one of the most desirable locations for manufacturing in the state; it is also elegant farming land.

Will sell in 10-acre lots for gardening if desired, or will donate sufficient amount of land for steel plant.

On tract No. 1 there is abundance of potters' clay of best quality for manufacturing brick and tile, and right on R. R. Box 16, Ursina.

ED WITTISH, 424 FIFTH AVE., PITTSBURGH, PA., offers 79 acres, good house, barn, spring house, smoke house, wagon shed, chicken house; buildings slate roofed, excellent condition. LEGAL NOTICES.

TRUSTEE'S SALE IN BANKRUPTCY.
The undersigned, trustee in bankruptcy of the ENCAUSTIC METAL COMPANY, BANKRUPT, No. 2734, in bankruptcy, will offer at public sale ON THE PREMISES, on SATURDAY, April 29, 1905, at 2 O'CLOCK P. M., the following described piece of real estate:

Being those certain three lots or pieces of ground situate in the borough of Versailles, county of Allegheny, state of Pennsylvania, being lots numbered 1, 2 and 3, in Versailles park plan of lots, recorded in plan book, vol. 14, page 94; and together bounded and described as follows:

Beginning on the northeast corner of First avenue and Juniper street; thence eastwardly along Juniper street 98.76 feet to a 15-foot alley; thence along said alley northwardly 103.47 feet to the south line of Washington avenue; thence along said avenue westwardly 72.40 feet to First avenue aforesaid; and thence by same southwardly 91.22 feet to the place of beginning. Being the same lots or pieces of ground deeded by J. S. Patterson to the Encaustic Metal Company, by deed dated December 23, 1903, and recorded in the recorder's office of Allegheny county. Having thereon erected a main building 54 feet by 90 feet, three stories high, of brick and stone, with one extension 20x30 feet; also a laboratory 20x28 feet, built of brick and stone. Attached to said buildings are one engine and boiler, one steam pump, one large tank for water supply, heat system of pipes, radiators, etc.; five large iron pots in laboratory, one motor for electricity, and electric wiring and pipes and pipe connections for natural gas.

ALSO, AT THE SAME TIME AND PLACE will be offered personal property belonging to the bankrupt corporation, consisting of stock of iron in factory, 39,725 feet of stamped iron ceiling sheets, the list price of which is $2,829.08; also stock in laboratory, paints, oils and colors; also about 15,000 feet of white pine lumber, and 20,000 feet of other lumber, and eight kegs of nails; also the property in shop and office consisting of tools, three desks, chairs, drawing tables, typewriter, fire hose, one large standard scale, six fire extinguishers, and 16 trucks; also two very valuable patents for manufacture of encaustic metal for interior fittings, issued during 1900, and being patents No. 640,593 and No. 641,227. The above property is to be sold by order of court divested of all liens.

TERMS OF SALE.
Twenty-five per cent of purchase money to be paid in cash at the time of sale, to be forfeited and paid as stipulated damages if the purchaser fails to comply with terms of sale; and the balance upon final confirmation of sale by the United States court, which confirmation will be applied for as soon as possible after the sale. An inventory of the personal property can be seen at the office of the undersigned.

NEW EDIFICE WAS DEDICATED

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Held Three Services in Its Structure Yesterday.

MESSAGE FROM MRS. EDDY

First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Clyde street, was dedicated yesterday, three services being necessary to accommodate all those who attended. To add to the interest of the event was a greeting received from the Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of Christian Science. It was as follows:

Pleasant View,
Concord, N. H., April 5, 1905.
First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pittsburgh, Pa.

My beloved brethren: I congratulate you upon erecting the first church edifice of our denomination that has gone up in the Keystone State, a state whose metropolis is the "city of brotherly love," so called. May this dear church Militant, accept my tender counsel, in these words of the scripture, to be engrafted in church and state:

"Let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city. If a man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. By thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. Love thy neighbor as thyself."

"Christ suffered for us, leaving us an example, that we should follow his steps; who when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to Him that judgeth righteously. Consider Him that endured such contradiction of sinners against Himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds."

Yours in Christ,
MARY BAKER EDDY.

Reply by Congregation.

The following reply was telegraphed to Mrs. Eddy in response to her greeting:

Pittsburgh, April 9, 1905.
Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, Pleasant View, Concord, N. H.

Beloved leader: Your tender, loving words of greeting and wise counsel have served to lift our thought above the contemplation of the material edifice and to make this occasion one of greater import than the dedication of that which is merely temporal. You bid us look within, to strive for the dedication and consecration of that which belongs wholly to God, to upbuild that "temple not made with hands," whose corner stone is Christ. We rejoice in thanking you and earnestly pray that the deep significance of this occasion may leave its impress upon all who have been privileged to participate in this demonstration of love and unity. Gratefully your followers,
FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, OF PITTSBURGH, PA.

The new church edifice was crowded at the morning service, which began at 11 o'clock. After the organ prelude and hymn there was a scripture lesson and readings from Science and Health, the text book of Christian Science. This was followed by silent prayer and the audible repetition of the Lord's prayer with its spiritual interpretation as given in the Christian Science text book. Mrs. J. E. Patton then rendered a solo, after which Mrs. Warrington Warwick, the second reader, read the history of the church organization. She read in part as follows:

History of the Church.

Our leader, Mary Baker G. Eddy, tells us in "Retrospection and Introspection": "Mere historic incidents and personal events are frivolous and of no moment, unless they illustrate the ethics of truth. To this end, but only to this end, such narrations may be admissible and advisable; but if spiritual conclusions are separated from their premises, the nexus is lost, and the argument, with its rightful conclusions, becomes correspondingly obscure." So let us today, as we turn briefly a backward glance and review, in a fragmentary way, the history of our church, see in this happy hour a realization of the promise, "And I will direct all his ways; . . . saith the Lord of hosts." (Isaiah xlv:13.)

The individual experiences of every heart that has helped to establish this church and build this beautiful temple which we today dedicate bears testimony to these words from "Science and Health, With Key to Scriptures," by Mary Baker G. Eddy, and which are written on our wall: "Divine love always has met and always will meet every human need." This church had its outward, material beginning April 28, 1895, when 24 persons met in a small room in the building now known as the Pittsburgh academy, at Ross and Diamond streets, and held a Christian Science service. This service was made possible from the fact that Mrs. Eddy had but recently ordained the Bible and "Science and Health, With Key to Scriptures" pastor over the Mother church, and instituted the present form of service with a male and a female reader, one to read the Bible and one to read "Science and Health, With Key to Scriptures," and were termed first and second readers. The Lesson Quarterlies for their subjects followed the International Sunday School topics.

The following Friday evening, in the same place, a testimonial meeting was held with about the same number in attendance. July 10 following an organization was perfected under the name of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Pittsburgh, Pa. The material environment was unattractive, but the delight in the study and reading of the word drew to the place seekers after truth. Coincident with the establishment of this service there came a demand for the healing through Christian Science. Faithful students gave themselves to the work of meeting this demand, and many of the sin sick, as well as those "with divers diseases," were healed by the word of truth.

One year later a larger room in the same building became the church home, and so continued until the autumn of 1899, when a chapel on Fifth avenue, Oakland, was leased, decorated and suitably furnished. From this chapel the church moved to this edifice January 1, 1905. The growing need for a reading room and a center from which to distribute Christian Science literature led to the leasing of two rooms for this purpose in March, 1897. This reading room has been a potent factor in the history of this church, not only in numerical accessions to the membership, but in the individual growth in the consciousness of its members. In the early days of this church a children's Sunday school was established, beginning with one scholar. Its growth was at first slow, and did not show much gain until our advent into the chapel in Oakland. From that date its growth has been most gratifying. The entire glass work of this building is the loving gift of the Sunday school.

Had an Humble Start.

Three years from the organization of this church a building fund was established. Its first amount, $70, seems, as we look back to it today, most humble. Small as it was it represented personal sacrifice. Its donors had little of this world's goods, but were "rich toward God." We have the promise in the third chapter of Malachi, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of prove Te now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mrs. Eddy, in "Science and Health," page 79, tells us, "Giving does not impoverish us in the service of our Maker, neither does withholding enrich us."

In the summer of 1904 the site of this building was purchased and paid for. The building fund grew apace, and on April 14, 1904, ground was broken for the erection of this edifice. The cornerstone was laid June 16 with a simple ceremony.

The present membership of this church is 265.

The entire cost of this edifice, including the ground, was $83,500. This entire amount was practically raised by the members of the church and congregation. No contributions have been personally solicited, and but little has been received from outside the congregation. The giving has been entirely voluntary. Gratitude to God and a love for humanity, that it, too, might know the healing truth, has been the impelling motive in this giving.

Today, while we "praise God from whom all blessings flow," and our hearts go out lovingly to our leader, Mrs. Eddy, whose labors for the cause of humanity have been our inspiration and guide, let us dedicate ourselves to renewed efforts to lead more Christly lives, to strive for a deeper understanding of the "life that is truth and the truth that is life."

In our textbook we read, "All students of Christian Science who start with its letter and think to succeed without the spirit will either make shipwreck of their faith or be turned sadly awry. They must not only seek, but strive, to enter the narrow path of life, for 'wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat.'" May we heed this admonition of our leader, and let it never be written over the doorway of this temple, "Ichabod, the glory is departed from Israel."

"He that hath an ear let him hear what the spirit saith unto the churches: To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it." Revelations, ii:17.

The first reader, A. Bruce Coffroth, C. S. B., spoke in part:

Activity of True Thought.

We have assembled to dedicate this beautiful structure to the worship of the Ever-living God, knowing that it stands as a symbol of that temple not made with human hands. Eternal in the heavens, reared on the foundation of love, crowned with truth, pinnacled in life, and resting upon the foundation of purity.

It is an encouraging indication that the intelligent thought of the world today is more active than ever before in the search for truth, and that many of its most diligent and progressive seekers are willing to accept the Christian Science teaching that all is "Infinite Mind and Its Infinite Manifestation," and that materiality, the seeming opposite of spirituality, is only a human concept.

Mrs. Eddy was born in New Hampshire of New England parents. She was well educated in her youth, and early displayed a taste for literature. She is naturally of a spiritual disposition, and through her entire life, has manifested a desire to serve God, and Him only.

The Christian Science church has neither creed, nor ritualism. It accepts the inspired teachings of the Bible, and especially of our Way-shower, Christ Jesus. It has adopted six tenets, based on the spiritual interpretation of the Scriptures. They are to be found in Science and Health on page 497. The last one of which is as follows: "We solemnly promise to strive, watch and pray for that Mind to be in us, which was also in Christ Jesus; to love one another, and to be meek, merciful, just and pure."

If mankind will adopt and practice this inspired promise, Heaven which the Bible teaches is within us, will be visible through the gloom of our material darkness, and we will bask in the glory of the presence of the Light which is God. Discord and sorrow will pass away, and we will live in the consciousness that peace and joy reign eternally.

Mr. Coffroth's remarks were followed by another hymn and the benediction.

The afternoon and evening services were duplicates of the morning exercises.

A number of visiting Scientists from neighboring states, as well as from various parts of Pennsylvania, were present at the services. Visitors from Philadelphia and New York were in evidence and may be heard from at the final meeting held in connection with the dedicatory services this evening, at which time many telegrams and letters of congratulation which have been received from various churches and individuals throughout the United States as well as some from abroad will be read.

IMPORTANCE AND VALUE OF PERSONAL EQUATION

The Rev. W. W. Youngson Holds That No Two Mortals See, Think, Look or Act Alike.

"The Importance and Value of the Personal Equation in Human Life," was the sermon theme of the Rev. William Wallace Youngson, pastor of the Crafton Methodist Episcopal church last evening. He said in part:

One of the most fascinating scenes in all the writings of Shakespeare is found in his incomparable "Merchant of Venice." It is located in the home of Portia in Belmont. According to her father's will, Portia was to have nothing to say as to her marriage. That was to be determined by lot. Three caskets were to be prepared—one of gold, one of silver and one of lead. Suitors were privileged to come from all parts of the world, and he who was fortunate enough to choose the casket containing the likeness of Portia would be declared the successful suitor and Portia would become his wife.

There is a casket scene in every life. Every young man and woman coming to the threshold of life must make a choice between the worldly, moral and Christian life—between the life of ease and luxurious living; the life of dependence upon others, concerned only in having a nominal position; and the life of drudgery and toil, where, regardless of the name or financial condition of parents, the young man determines to stand upon his own feet, carve out his own way and make his own way through the world. Only those who choose the leaden casket of the Christian life and who assume their share of the world's work have any realization of genuine happiness.

Polonius said to his son Laertes: "The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail and you are stayed for; my blessings on thee and these few precepts in thy memory." We must bring old Polonius up to date and make a twentieth century educator out of him. Education is not packing a few precepts in the memory, but drawing out of the child the powers and faculties which God and nature have put into the child. The first main thing in life then is to find out the line of least resistance. Misfits are fatal. David in Saul's armor would have been a failure. A theological seminary would have cancelled Thomas A. Edison.

How pathetic the wrecks of men who have chosen the wrong profession. In astronomy there is the personal equation. By that is meant the difference in time required for the knowledge of a given fact to pass from the eye to the brain center of two astronomers. In all calculations allowance must be made for this difference. Broadly considered the personal equation is found in every phase of human life. No two of us see alike, think alike, look alike, act alike. Therein lies the charm of this world. Now, every man is mighty only as he is himself. Be true to the personal equation. There is an exorable law running all through the world of nature and the spiritual world. He who fails to use any faculty or talent with which he has been endowed, the time comes when he fails to have the power to exercise that faculty or that talent. It is the great law of atrophy which underlies much of the wretchedness and failure in the world.

Women Observe Rally Day.

Gymnasium rally day was observed yesterday afternoon in the South Side branch of the Young Women's Christian association, 1705 Carson street. Special music and exercises were provided and an address on "The Christian Athlete" was delivered by Miss Bertha A. Turner.

MONTHLY MAGAZINES ARE NOW BEING HARD PRESSED

Sunday Gazette Is Taking the Initiative in Wresting Literary Honors from More Pretentious Journals.

Monthly magazines are being closely pressed for literary honors these days. The great Sunday journals, with their magazine features, bid fair to push them from the pedestal which they have so long occupied, and in this pushing process The Sunday Gazette is well up to the front, for if there is any one thing that The Sunday Gazette strives for it is push and progress. There is a wealth of rare fiction for readers of The Gazette of yesterday. Some of the very best writers of the day are numbered among the contributors, the contributions including their very latest and best work. There are articles on scientific subjects well calculated to meet with the approval of a certain class of readers, while the news columns are up to their well-known high standard.

Troubles in the far east again have assumed an acute stage. The two big naval fleets of Russia and Japan are almost within striking distance of each other, and a decisive water conflict is hourly expected. The United States government has notified Admiral Train to preserve strict neutrality in Philippine waters. Large detachments of Japanese are reported marching through Manchuria. Developments show that thousands of people perished in the earthquake in India.

Eight workmen were killed by a premature blast in a Virginia quarry. President Roosevelt concluded his fourth day in Texas with a rousing demonstration in Fort Worth. The navy department has accepted the bid of the American and British Manufacturing Company for 86 guns. Two convicted murderers planned to kill a jailer and escape in West Virginia, but were betrayed by another prisoner. A clumsy allusion to Miss Helen Gould raised a storm of protest at a Methodist Episcopal conference. Gov. Herrick of Ohio has issued a warrant for the extradition of L. Patterson Smith and wife. Stanley Francis, alleged promoter of the Storey Cotton Company, is endeavoring to obtain his release from jail. Russell Sage's friends believe that the aged financier's wealth will exceed $100,000,000. The Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong has joined the list of protestants against John D. Rockefeller's gift. The Pittsburgh speech of President Spencer of the Southern Railway Company has been indorsed by the official heads of other companies. South American governments have made an appeal to Secretary Taft to break the discrimination on the Panama railroad, which favors Europe against the United States.

Congressman Acheson, while in the West Indies, talked with the president of Santo Domingo and found him determined on reform. President George F. Baer, in a speech to employes, pointed out the difficulties which must be faced by the managers of coal interests. Gov. Pennypacker vetoed three bills and approved as many.

A bond issue for the removal of the "hump" and the purchase of the South Side water plant will be submitted before annexation. Director Bigelow has arranged for the city to entertain the members of the rivers and harbors committee of congress for three days. New Christian Science church in Clyde street was dedicated. A campaign of education will be inaugurated to make Greater Pittsburgh a certainty. D. A. R. women commended School Controller A. C. Lattimer of Allegheny for his efforts to disabuse the minds of pupils that George Washington and his mother were unlettered. Several persons were injured in a fire in a crowded tenement. Guests at the Seventh Avenue hotel were scared by a small blaze.

The Pirates had hard work beating Indianapolis 3 to 1. The report that the Hart-Johnson fight was fixed is laughed at by San Francisco sports. Competent critics have decided that the young players on the Pittsburgh ball team will make good in fast company. The race for the bowling honors in the county league is again a tie between the Brunswick and Unity teams. Manager Risher announced his lineup for the Homestead team, which will be one of the best the town has ever had.

The New York stock market was active and reactionary, closing lower. The weekly bank statement was even less unfavorable than had been expected. In Pittsburgh Crucible preferred was strong and the Coal stocks steady. The wheat market has been weakened by a decreased demand for flour. Negotiations for the proposed southern iron merger are again called off.

LET ROCKEFELLER HAVE A CHANCE

Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young Pleads to Allow Oil King "Soul-Satisfaction."

WOULD ACCEPT THE $100,000

Under the sermon title of "What Would a True Christian Do With Rockefeller's Wealth?" the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young discussed the recent gift of the oil magnate to the Congregational American board of missions before the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church last evening.

Dr. Young, in the course of his remarks, stated that he would rather face God "in the person of the manslayer who has deliberately killed his one man, than in the person of the head of that company, which, if I understand the facts, has been instrumental in taking almost the earthly all from multitudes of men." The pastor, however, declared he would give Mr. Rockefeller a chance to make some restitution and "afford himself soul-satisfaction." Taking his text, St. Luke xix. 8-9: "Behold Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him four-fold. And Jesus said, 'This day is salvation come to this house.'" Dr. Young said in part:

Could anything more wholesome happen to America than to have every pulpit a Sinai on the subject of ill-gotten and ill-spent gain? None of our business that 20,000 children slave on in cotton factories of South Carolina, the average little life ground to death in four years, those who do survive doomed to ignorance, poverty and broken bodies, and all this to fill the purses of New England capitalists? No affair of mine that 30,000 helpless lads and lassies in Pennsylvania wear their lives away and blight the future because their employers can by child labor the more heap riches unto themselves?

Robbery by Brain or Brawn.

Something for me to denounce if yon highwayman by mere physical might overpowers my neighbor and takes away his goods; but nothing for me to denounce if the highwayman is a shrewd manipulator of rebates and stocks and combinations, and through evasion or violation of the law despoils by mere mental might my neighbor, leaves him bankrupt? Is robbery by brain so far nobler than robbery by brawn? When did it become more Christian to beat a man down by a trust charter than by a club? No, dear self-appointed counsellors concerning the pulpit's proper sphere, some preachers must speak out against these things or become little more than holy bric-a-brac to adorn weddings and funerals. American life has gone to money-making and, if Christianity has nothing to say as to the way of making and spending that money, Christianity is pretty well crowded from our thought, and watching for the millenium is like waiting for a train on the Erie railroad.

I suppose no clear-headed, unbiased reader of a half dozen histories, favorable and unfavorable, describing the rise of the Standard Oil Company, would doubt that the process of crushing rival concerns by which it came to affluence was unspeakably villainous. For myself, I would rather go before God the Father tonight, in the person of the manslayer, who has deliberately killed his one man, than in the person of the head of that company, which, if I understand the facts, has been instrumental in taking almost the earthly all of multitudes of men. Albeit, God is his judge, not I or the preachers or the public, and inasmuch as these funds may not now be restored to their rightful holders, were I a member of the American board, I would vote to accept the $100,000 and, were I close enough to the distinguished donor, I would incite him to become "uppish" and by large and frequent unloadings upon religious and charitable causes show those Congregationalist ministers how willing the best people are to accept his benefactions.

Repentance of a Rich Man.

Who knows but that this aged Croesus begins to feel the shame and shallowness of a mere gold-piling life and proposes by gifts surpassing his hitherto princely munificence, to make some restitution and afford himself soul-satisfaction? That is what a true Christian should do with his wealth, and everybody ought to cheer him on. Our Zacchaeus was a rascal extorting his vast riches from the people by infamous practices; yet Jesus did not tell the poor who were offered half, to refuse the donations.

Few features of Pittsburgh's life encourage an optimistic outlook as does the great generosity of our wealthy men, a generosity largely of the sort that lets not the right hand know what the left hand doeth; a generosity made possible in most cases by the superior talent, energy and self-sacrifice of these successful men. Let us hope this Rockefeller discussion will hasten the coming of that new and nobler social aristocracy—for some upper society set we are bound to have—that aristocracy based on culture and character, a blessed relief from the vulgar, sudden-rich.

After all, the burning question with us is not, how did Rockefeller gather his $800,000,000, and what should he do with them? but rather, how have you and I amassed our $2.50 and what will we do with it? The amount matters little. The rightness or wrongness of the soul matters all. Never take a dollar you soil by the taking. Don't let your dollar own you—own your dollar. Don't keep owning it—let some worthy cause have a share; then will you begin to be truly rich. Clean and charitable with little, you may be trusted with much.

PRESIDENT'S PASTOR SPOKE.

Delivered the Principal Address at a McKeesport Church Dedication.

The First Reformed church of McKeesport was dedicated yesterday. President Roosevelt's pastor, the Rev. J. M. Schick, D. D., of Washington, D. C., delivered the principal address at both morning and evening services. The exercises were led by the pastor, the Rev. Aaron Noll. Special music was furnished.

Dr. Schick preached the dedicatory sermon in the morning, while a platform meeting, at which several local ministers of McKeesport made short addresses, was held in the afternoon. A feature of the dedication was the raising by subscription of enough funds to meet all liabilities, and the church was dedicated free of debt.

Third Death in Four Months.

WEST NEWTON, April 9.—(Special.)—Sitting down on the Baltimore & Ohio tracks near here this morning, Frank Smickler, a molder, fell asleep and was struck by the eastbound mail train, being killed instantly. This makes the third death in the family in four months. The mother died first, leaving four little children. Later the oldest son died from typhoid fever. The remaining children will be cared for by charitable people of West Newton. Smickler was 35 years old.

TWO PREACHERS' CONDUCT EXPLAINED BY M'CRORY

Tells of Impulse That Moved Peter and John in Their Stand Against the Sanhedrim.

"The Conduct of Two Preachers Explained" was the sermon topic of the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory in the Third United Presbyterian church, Diamond street, last night. Dr. McCrory spoke of the impulses that moved Peter and John; taking for his text, Acts iv:13. "And they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus," and said in part:

The conduct of Peter and John confounded that company of Saducees. What motives influenced them to set themselves against the Sanhedrim and risk their lives? There was no money in it and there did not seem to be any promise of glory or fame. They had been puzzled in like manner by another Galilean peasant, Jesus the Nazarene. These men reminded them of Him and they at once reach the conclusion that it was their association with Jesus that was telling in their conduct.

And they were right. But merely having been with Jesus does not explain their conduct. One finds several facts entering into explanation of the doing of these fearless men.

Of course there was the fact of discipleship. They were but very ordinary, everyday men, when they first met Him. These two, for example, belonged to the rude Galilean fishermen. But they believed in Him enough to become His followers. Being in his company for three years or more they were fully persuaded of His claims to the Messiahship of the Jews. They even got faint glimpses as to what the Messiahship meant, for they had seen Him on the Mount of Transfiguration and the Holy Spirit had opened the eyes of Peter at one time to see and confess "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God."

But that was not enough to fit them for such an enterprise as they are now embarked in, for it was after these years that one of these men denied with an oath that he even knew Jesus and he did it out of the fear of the consequences if he should own Him. Mere knowledge of the facts of the life of Jesus and a firm belief in those facts does not make men of such courage and character.

They had come to the firm persuasion of the atoning merit of Jesus Christ as their personal Savior. It took many of the 40 days, perhaps, that Jesus tarried with them after His resurrection, and much earnest study of the Old Testament, to make that fact clear to them that the Cross on Calvary was the real hope of the lost world, but that fact did finally grip and hold them. Peter's Pentecost sermon proves that. Everything for them and for the world centered in that cross. That was the glory of their Master and the rejoicing of their souls. We need not say the same was true of Paul and has been and is true of the followers of Jesus who risk their lives for his testimony. No man who is not overwhelmingly persuaded of that fact will ever amaze unbelievers with his witness for Christ.

They knew that He had been exalted to the right hand of the Majesty in the heavens and was on the throne of the universe. Just think of the influence such a conviction would have on such men. They were the representatives of one who was at that instant wielding all the power of this universe. This dumb show of power in the Sanhedrim was but pitiable compared with the actual authority of the Lord and should they truckle or hesitate before such miserable puppets of power? That conviction moved old Martin Luther to put to shame the courage of a dozen centuries by his glorious declaration before the powers of earth and hell, "Here I stand and can do no other; so help me God." And it will put that kind of spirit in any true soul that will utterly yield to it.

But last of all—these men had been "filled with the Holy Spirit." They had passed through the Pentecost. The baptism of fire and of the Holy Ghost had been theirs. They had not only been with Jesus but they had been endued with the very spirit and courage of Jesus. And these were the kind of men to move the world and conquer it, too. And these are the kind of men who today meet and vanquish the temptations of the world. Many men are going down before the opposing forces of evil; yielding to temptation; sitting dumb when they ought to testify, and are losing their souls for it. What they need is what these men had and they are safe and will be mighty and efficient as witnesses for the Savior.

CHURCH REDEDICATED.

Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church, North Highland Avenue, Almost Made Over and Beautified.

The rededication of the newly remodeled and decorated Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church at North Highland avenue and Kirkwood street, East End, took place yesterday. Services were held in the morning and evening, the morning service being devoted to the rededication of the church. Both the services were attended by large audiences, the church being filled to its capacity.

The Rev. John Weidley, pastor of the church, had charge of the dedication, and the dedicatory sermon was preached by the Rev. Charles Albert, D. D., of Philadelphia, editor of the publication board of the Lutheran church. Dr. Albert also delivered the sermon at the evening services.

The church has been completely remodeled at a cost of $11,000. The interior has been repainted and frescoed and a new altar erected. New pews have been placed in the church, and the beauty of the exterior greatly enhanced by the erection of a large alcove on the North Highland avenue front of the building.

SPEAKS TO NEW CHARGE.

The Rev. Edward R. Davidson Begins His Pastorate With First U. P. Church of Ingram.

The Rev. Edward R. Davidson, the newly called pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Ingram, took charge of his congregation yesterday. The Rev. Mr. Davidson was born in Sternwood, Ia. In 1891 he graduated from Monmouth college, Monmouth, Ill., and the same year entered Xenia Theological seminary, where he was graduated in 1894.

He received a call to the United Presbyterian church at Clifton, O., where he stayed until he received a call from the Ingram congregation. The Rev. Mr. Davidson fills the vacancy left by the Rev. J. E. Wishart, who resigned last October to accept a charge at Pasadena, Cal.

Fraternal Affection Punished.

Thomas Foster of Tustin street was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct yesterday and Martin Foster, his brother, who interfered in his arrest, was fined the same amount.

Negro's House Raided.

Police raided the house of Ernest White, 213 North St. Clair street, yesterday and arrested White and six visitors, all negroes. They were locked up in the East End police station.

LIVELY SCENES ATTENDED THE COMING OF "BEN-HUR"

Great Aggregation Came from Cleveland in Two Special Trains—Wonderful System at the Nixon.

There was quite a ripple of excitement at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station yesterday afternoon, when the two special trains carrying the Klaw & Erlanger "Ben-Hur" company landed here from Cleveland. One train consisted of 12 baggage cars, 10 of them full of scenery and properties, and two of them loaded with live stock—the horses and camels used in this spectacle. The other train was made up of six Pullman sleepers, four day coaches, two dining cars and one smoking car.

Some joker started a rumor in Cleveland that the hotel accommodations in Pittsburgh were limited, due to some convention going on. This naturally made the entire organization, which numbers close to 350 people, anxious regarding their comfort here. Everyone seemed to be anxious to get fixed before the other fellow.

Interesting as this was, it was not a circumstance to the way the 50 odd stage hands who were engaged to assist in unloading the scenery cars attacked them. The transfer company had more than 40 wagons in waiting, and the quickness with which they were loaded with scenery, piled mountain high, caused the onlookers to gasp. The scene trucks were rushed to the Nixon with all dispatch. There the real work began.

As wagonload after wagonload of scenery was emptied upon the stage it forced wonder as to where it would be all put. William Ayres, the master carpenter, and the directing head of all the scenic and mechanical arrangements of the Wallace spectacle, stood in the center of the stage like a marble statue, cool and collected, while hundreds of stage hands carried out his orders and juggled scenery about, dodged trunks, and stumbled over each other in the entanglement of the mass of properties.

One can scarcely form an idea of the work entailed in getting this stupendous spectacle in shape for enactment, and the equipment that goes to make it up. There is the costumer and his staff, with nearly 100 trunks to look after. He is responsible for their neatness and proper care, and is forced to overlook them every day; when one takes into consideration that over 800 sets of costumes are used an idea of the immense amount of work he has can be formed. The wig maker and his staff have over 400 wigs to keep in order; the property master and his assistants have two 60-foot baggage cars full of effects to keep in order, while the electrical adjustor, the live stock attendants and the various other departments have many things for which to be answerable.

The stage crews worked until nearly midnight getting everything in shape for this evening's performance. Two rehearsals have been held of the orchestra, likewise a complete scenic rehearsal, so the public can rest assured that as perfect a performance will be given tonight as has ever been given of the play.

HORSE HAD A LOOK IN.

Inspected Bellevue Car and Carried Off Three Window Sashes—Passengers Panic-Stricken.

The Bellevue street car system has been looked into with horse sense. It was a horse that did the "looking in," and incidentally he carried off three windows, together with their sashes and a sore head.

Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, J. A. Mulrath of 610 East Ohio street, Allegheny, was driving a $300 stepper across the Woods Run bridge en route to Bellevue, when the horse, who is said to be highly educated, took exception to the appearance of an approaching Bellevue car. As the motorman noted the indignation of the horse he stopped the car. The horse approached timidly and thrust his head through the front platform window, scattering glass over the motorman. Finding everything regular, he made similar inspection of the car proper, butting his head through two other windows, to the great excitement of the passengers, many of whom fled from the car.

Evidently the horse became further excited over the condition of the car after his last peep, for he withdrew his blood bespattered head and began to tear about in wild fashion, wrecking the $250 buggy behind him. After the situation was explained to the horse, he was led home by his owner, while the car was taken to the repair shops.

STRUCK DOWN FROM BEHIND; ROBBED OF RING AND CASH

F. J. Stevenson of Forty-seventh street reported to the police yesterday that he had been robbed of $14 and a ring on Saturday night while walking on the Allegheny Valley railroad tracks, near Forty-fifth street. He said he did not see his assailant, who struck him from behind and knocked him senseless. When he recovered his money was gone from his pocket and the ring had been taken from his finger.

COUNT TOLSTOY SAVER OF RUSSIA

Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy Believes His Teachings Would Elevate That Land.

HE IS A FOLLOWER OF CHRIST

The life and character of Count Leo Tolstoy was made the subject of the twenty-fifth lecture in the present Sunday morning series delivered yesterday by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy before the Reform Congregation Rodeph Shalom in Carnegie Music hall, Allegheny. Dr. Levy likened Tolstoy's efforts to uplift the ignorant classes of Russia to the endeavors of Christ with the people of Nazareth, and said in part:

Galilee some 2,000 years ago was proverbial for its brave and powerful mountaineers, but as reputable as was that district of Palestine for its physically brave men, so disreputable was it because of the general ignorance which prevailed throughout that region. In the cultured and refined centers of education the province of Galilee stood as the antithesis of all that represented the ancient Palestinian conceptions of education and progress. Under these circumstances we can well understand how the proverb arose, "Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Nazareth being, as is well known, in Galilee.

The people of Palestine had been so used to meet with a low type of spiritual life among the people of Galilee that it seemed impossible that one as high-minded, as devout, as self-sacrificing and as religious as was He with whom the name of Nazareth has become intimately associated, could really be produced from among the rude peasant people of Galilee. And, yet, out of that region came the young Jew whose name is revered by hundreds of millions of people and who has deservedly received the respect and the reverence of all true men and women who sympathize with His aims and who endeavor to pattern their life by Him.

Modern Form of Old Proverb.

In these days, when powerful nations have adopted for the material, moral and religious welfare of the people the various products of human intelligence, when liberty has been granted in progressive countries to all citizens or subjects, when enlightening education has become the privilege of every sane individual, it would seem natural that a proverb should be formed, "Can there any good come out of Russia?" the mighty nation of Eastern Europe which seems to have longest resisted the onward march of humane progress.

As the world-famed Jew of Nazareth was among those who made Palestine famous and through His devoted life became inscribed among the uplifters of the world, so Leo Tolstoy, the follower of this same Jew of Nazareth, has made Russia renowned and likewise made himself an uplifter of men. In his "Confessions," Tolstoy tells us that he ran the gamut of crime. There were very few of the commandments that he did not break. There were scarcely any of the moral laws that he did not infringe. And, yet, by pondering on the questions "What is life?" and asking for a solution to "Whither does it tend?" he concluded that happiness on earth could only be found by a strict and honest following of the gospel of Jesus of Nazareth. From the day of his conversion a new spirit seized him and for the past 25 years he has endeavored, as I believe, most faithfully to live the life of a humble follower of the great Jew of Nazareth.

Realizing the utter hollowness of the religious professions of Russia, seeing beneath the surface of the idolatry of the ignorant masses the utter indifference of the middle classes and the thorough hypocrisy of the nobles, he called to "Holy" Russia that if it desired to deserve the name Christian there was but one method of earning it, namely, by following to the letter the gospel of the crucified Jew whom they professed to call their savior and their God.

Pitied Peasant and Noble.

Seeing that society ignored both the law and the gospel, pitying the peasant who was robbed and derided by the noble, and pitying still more the noble who professed Christ with the lips, but who followed the devil in the heart, he endeavored to awaken Russia to a sense of its insecurity and to recall its people to the truth of the primitive gospel of social and personal righteousness.

His fame as an author, his ability as a soldier, his character as a father and a husband, need not here be elaborated, yet, to one book let me now refer, his last and in some respects his greatest, for it is inspired by the optimism that must move every prophet who desires to help humanity. In his "Resurrection," he portrays the theme by means of which his beloved peasants and his beloved fatherland may be saved; and, indeed, if the dead conscience of Russia is to be awakened, if from out of the mouldering tomb of mediaevalism there is to come a new nation, if this "whited sepulchre" of autocracy is to be the scene of a modern resurrection, the influence of a Tolstoy will be the vitalizing agent, the words of this man will sound the trumpet in clarion tones that shall awaken and uplift the degraded and debased people of Russia.

A Chest that Came in the Mayflower

Is sure to attract the attention of every New England woman and with pride in her heart she marvels that it is so strong and well preserved. This is due to the fact that it has received prompt attention when any signs of weakening were shown.

So the woman of to-day may keep her strength and preserve her good looks if she gives immediate attention to the first symptoms of any womanly weakness.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription promptly cures disease and restores strength to all women who are weakened by any womanly disease and are run down by maternal and household cares.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Stella Johnson, of 45 Brady St., Dayton, Ohio, writes: "I was troubled with severe pains every month when I wrote to you for advice. After following your directions, I am happy to say that after five years of untold suffering I have not had any pains since first using your 'Favorite Prescription.' I thank God and Dr. R. V. Pierce for the health I now enjoy. I shall urge other women who suffer as I did to use your medicine."

Take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets instead of any other laxative.

A Serious Mistake.

It is a serious thing to neglect your heart.

The moment you detect any weakness or irregularity, such as short breath after exercise, palpitation, fluttering, weak or hungry spells, pain in breast, side or shoulder, or uneasiness when lying on left side, you should take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure; it rarely ever fails to relieve all these symptoms.

If not promptly restored, chronic heart disease soon develops, and then it only remains for some sudden strain to completely exhaust the heart.

Thousands of hopeless cases have been cured, and if you do not try it, it will be the greatest mistake of your life.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Remedies I was in a very bad condition. I had stomach trouble, with severe distress after eating. My heart hurt me, and I had shortness of breath, palpitation. My pulse was irregular, and my feet, ankles and hands were swollen. Every month at regular periods I had severe pain. I wrote Dr. Miles' Medical Co., and they advised me to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Heart Cure. I soon noticed an improvement, and I continued the medicine until I was completely cured. I feel like a different person. In fact I have not felt so well for 20 years."

INDUSTRIALS BREAK AWAY FROM RAILROAD STOCKS

Order of Things in Wall Street Is Reversed by Active Speculation and Striking Advances in Manufacturing Securities.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—It was a frequent statement in Wall street within a few years, that the market for railroad stocks would break away from the malign influence of industrial stocks. Then the champion of the oft attacked industrial stocks would make comparisons between the railroad securities and would incidentally relate the ancient Roman fable of the stomach and the body, purporting to show how essential to the prosperity of the railroads was the success of various manufacturing companies, the combination of which Wall street now deals in as industrials.

The situation has been reversed at the moment. The industrials have broken away from railroads. During the week past securities of railroad stocks have remained almost stationary, while there has been an active speculation accompanied by several striking advances in a great number of the leading industrial concerns. This development was the more marked, considering the events of the week.

Reference is made to the announcement of the Union Pacific management that it proposed to ask approval and authorization from its stockholders to issue $100,000,000 new preferred stock. All that the management cares to say in explanation of the purposes of the $100,000,000 additional capital was the exceedingly vague statement that it was "especially to acquire the stocks of other companies and to finance coming requirements." Picture what a field for speculation lay in the general and vague explanation given. Here was $100,000,000 to be got ready to "acquire the stocks of other companies," backed up with the semi-official statement that, to make specific explanation at this time would interfere seriously with the plans the management had in view.

It must be admitted, however, that railroad stocks make a half-hearted and weakened response to the news. Foreign markets placed a ban immediately upon the procedure, as might have been expected in view of their attitude when Southern Pacific announced its preferred stock issue last summer. The local market could not find its bearings. There were spasmodic but ineffectual efforts to advance Atchison, New York Central and St. Paul, the properties which have been so familiarly associated with the rumored deals following the settlement of the Northern Securities litigation. At the close of the week, however, these stocks, with the exception of St. Paul, closed variably for slight fractional gains, or, as in the case of New York Central, sustained a substantial loss. In other quarters of the railroad lists the records show that no headway whatever was made. Reading, Union Pacific, Pennsylvania, Chesapeake & Ohio, New York, Ontario & Western, Rock Island, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway closed the week practically unchanged.

Doubtless the boom in industrial stocks is based on the now generally established belief that the year 1905 will be a year in general trade. The orders received by the leading concerns in different lines of business are sufficiently large to indicate that the volume of the manufacturing and distribution will compare favorably with other record years. That such conditions should exist long before any basis of estimate is made on the crops, the mainstay of our business in the United States, has the misfortune of running to extremes. There prevails either an extremely optimistic view of the future or, on the other hand, excessive caution and prudence overcome for a period the desire to embark in new enterprises or normal enlargement.

Whether this is due to crude conditions is immaterial to the point, but the fact remains that orderly progress of business is deflected to extremes more frequent than in any of the manufacturing and trading nations of Europe.

Operations in the Lower Southwest Were Not Encouraging to Operators

Operators in the lower southwest fields had little to attract their attention during the past week. Very few wells were completed and nearly all were small and inside of defined limits. The best producer drilled in is in the 30-foot district, west of Mannington, Marion county. It is the property of the Fidelity Oil Company, on the Benjamin Grubbs farm and was started four months ago, but its completion was delayed by a long fishing job. It was drilled into the sand last Saturday morning and started to flow at the rate of 30 barrels an hour. The well is on the west side of the development and opens up several locations in that direction.

Shooting the old wells in this district is still practiced to some extent and with satisfactory results during the week. The South Penn Oil Company shot its No. 2 on the C. S. Pitzer farm and increased its production to 200 barrels a day. The same kind of treatment was given the old No. 1 on the J. L. Beatty farm, and it responded by producing nearly 500 barrels the ensuing 24 hours.

On the west side of the old Fairview fifth sand development, the Carnegie Natural Gas Company met with a surprise when it drilled its test on the O. M. Haught farm into the Dunkard sand and encountered an oil producer in that formation. The Fisher Oil Company holds the oil right on the farm, and the well was turned over to that company and put to pumping, producing 90 barrels the first 24 hours. In former years the territory surrounding this well had been pretty thoroughly punctured and none of the wells found oil in the Dunkard formation. For that reason it is regarded as a freak. In the same district, the South Penn completed several light fifth sand pumpers. It has now been several months since the fifth sand has produced anything better than light wells.

Near Wylieville on State roads, Green district, Wetzel county, the Producers and Refiners Company met with something of a surprise while drilling for gas to supply its pumping station. Nothing was expected until some of the lower sand formations had been reached, but when a few feet in the Big Injun a pay streak was encountered and the well began to show oil and is estimated to be good for 15 or 20 barrels a day. The territory in the immediate vicinity of this well had not been previously tested and there is room for a pool in that locality. The fact that there is room is no indication that a pool can be developed. More promising discoveries have been made many times in the past two years, and after calling for the expenditure of a good deal of money, proved failures. In these days of scarcity of new producing territory there will be more tests drilled in that locality.

In the Littleton district, in the same county, the South Penn drilled its No. 2 on the S. J. Wetzel farm into the fifth sand and got a light producer. It has been only recently that this district has furnished any producers in the lower formation. The same company completed its No. 9 on the S. Newman farm and found a light pumper. In the Pine Grove extension, the same company drilled its test on the L. C. Sapp farm through the sand and scored a duster. In the same district, the second test on the L. W. Postalwait farm is a gasser in the stray sand.

North of Salem, in Harrison county, the South Penn drilled its No. 3 on the W. C. Johnson farm into the Gordon and the well produced 30 barrels the first 16 hours. This is the best showing made by any of the late wells in that district. In the town lot development on Salem Fork, in Ten-Mile district, the new wells are coming in light and the chances are that there will be more money lost than made in that development. There is still some new work starting in this district and it is now the most active of any of the deep sand developments.

The Yellow Creek district, in Calhoun county, continues to lead in completions and the average size of the new wells. Five wells were completed during the week and the average size was 40 barrels a day. In the Rowell's Run district, the Carter Oil Company completed its No. 3 on the Camden-Sommers farm and got a duster in the Berea grit. There is some experimental work starting in Calhoun county and there is a possibility of discovering a new pool. A new test is starting in the Cow Run sand development, at the mouth of Big Root creek, on the Little Kanawha river. The last well completed in this district is on the McConaghy farm and is now down to three barrels a day.

There is a marked falling off in development work on the Ohio side. The old fields have been very fully developed and there is nothing in sight that gives the assurance of a new pool of any considerable dimensions. The only discovery of the week to attract any attention was made by the Southern Oil Company, the oil producing branch of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company, when it drilled its test on the W. E. Moore farm into the Big Lime and developed a well that is producing 75 barrels a day. This well is one and one-half miles southeast of Jerusalem, Monroe county, and in advance of any Big Lime producers. The size of the well is gratifying and the only thing that causes any speculation is the surrounding territory. There is room for a Big Lime pool in that locality. The Southern Company holds leases on several farms in the immediate vicinity and has made a location for a second test on the W. E. Moore farm. Other parties have made locations and the work of testing the territory will not be long delayed.

In the Macksburg field, Washington county, wells that were started with a view to developing producers in the Gordon are coming in dusters. Two tests were drilled below the point where the Gordon should have been encountered during the week and failed to find the formation. Some eight or ten wells in this and other districts, have been drilled down and none but the first found oil in paying quantities.

In Aleppo township, Greene county, Pa., the Wheeling Gas Company, after drilling its deep test on the Benson heirs' farm to a depth of 5,333 feet, has abandoned the hole, with a part of a string of tools. After passing through the regular sand formations nothing was found except a little sand, and no oil, at a depth of 4,000 feet.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK IN THE LOCAL MARKETS

General Business Was Improved, but Some Lines Were Notably Dull.

The past week in the local markets has been one of better business in some lines and extremely poor business in others. The grocery trade has been a little slow, particularly in the flour line. Flour marked down a trifle did not seem any more attractive to the buyer than it was a couple of weeks ago. The fore part of the week was notable for the extreme depression, but the flurry in May wheat strengthened the market considerably and Saturday the product was very firm. Advices from the northwest, however, are to the effect that the business is in a bad way. There is practically no export trade and home buyers refuse to get into the market under the impression that a heavy break is due.

Sugar firmed up considerably during the week and an advance in the eastern market made it all the firmer here, although local dealers did not follow the rise. Beans were one of the interesting items. The corner in them has been effectually broken.

In the green goods line there was a heavy business. The price of cabbage dropped greatly during the week, while dealers were working off a lot of lower grade stock. This has mostly been got rid of now and the price has advanced. Quotations, which were down to $8 and $10 a ton, have advanced to $10 and $20 a ton in the yards.

Butter is likely to advance again today, the market having been growing firmer all week. Cheese is also very firm and eggs have held their own well. Prospects for a good week's business this week seem to be most excellent.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain Saturday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 4 cars oats, 9 cars hay, 1 car oats and corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 14 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car rye; Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars oats, 6 cars hay.

The week just closed has been dull in the hay and grain line, owing to heavy receipts. However, conditions began to improve toward the latter part of the week. Sellers reported a better inquiry for goods and indications point to a better market this week.

MISS BABCOCK'S BODY FOUND.

Well-Known Church Worker of New Hampshire a Victim of Exhaustion.

MILFORD, N. H., April 9.—The body of Miss Susan P. Babcock, the daughter of the Rev. Dr. D. C. Babcock, pastor of the Methodist church here, who disappeared from her home on Sunday last, was found today in the meadows about a mile and a half from the parsonage. The body was viewed by the medical referee, who pronounced death to have resulted from exhaustion.

Miss Babcock, who was 40 years of age, was well known in church circles and was formerly secretary of the Methodist Home Missionary society for New Hampshire. She had long suffered from a nervous trouble and is believed to have wandered from home while temporarily insane.

GREAT FIELD FOR IRON AND COAL

A RIVAL OF PITTSBURGH

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9.

Attention has been attracted to the mineral resources of Alabama by the announcement of the completion of the plans for a consolidation of the coal and iron properties of the south into a new corporation with $125,000,000 capital, made by Col. T. G. Bush, president of the Alabama Consolidated Coal and Iron Company. In the new company will be the Alabama Consolidated Coal and Iron Company, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company and the Republic Iron and Steel Company. According to government experts Birmingham is fast looming up as a formidable rival of Pittsburgh as an iron and steel producing center.

The United States geological survey has already issued a number of works relating to the mineral resources of this field and is now engaged in completing a typographical resurvey and geologic map of the entire district, both of coal and iron in the Warrior, Cahaba and Coosa fields. This work has been under way for a year and will require about two years longer, as the Birmingham district comprises about 6,000 square miles.

The Outlook Is Bright.

"A preliminary paper on the Warrior group is now on the press, and also a preliminary report on the extreme extension of iron ore in Alabama," said Prof. C. W. Hayes of the geological survey. He continued:

After the completion of the work we shall issue a series of geologic folios and detailed papers on the mineral resources of the district. There is no section of the United States in which the outlook for the coal and iron business is more satisfactory than in what is known as the Birmingham district, Alabama. Foundry iron can be made in this district more cheaply, perhaps, than anywhere else in the world. This is due to the prodigality of nature which seems to have deposited in that region all the essentials for the conversion of the ore into pig iron—coal, limestone and iron ore. The ore, the fuel and the flux are all found within rifle shot of each other. Here we find the ore, the fuel and the flux at the very doors of the furnace, a condition that cannot be excelled anywhere else in the country. When one considers the long journey taken by the ores of the Great Lakes to reach the smelting works of the innumerable furnaces around Pittsburgh, one realizes the advantages that lay at the doors of the operators in the Birmingham district.

The ores found in Alabama are dissimilar to the Bessemer ores of the lake regions, owing to the high rate of phosphates in their composition and for some time they were not used in the manufacture of steel. But this has been changed, for by the employment of the open hearth process this iron is converted into steel quite as good, if, indeed, not better, than Bessemer.

Excellent Coking Coal.

The coal found in the Birmingham district is the ideal coal for iron furnaces because of its conversion into excellent coke. It is better for coking than steaming purposes, and better for coking and steaming purposes than for domestic uses.

The report of this bureau for the year 1903, the latest figures obtainable, show that Alabama occupies the third position among the states as a producer of iron ore, with a total production of 3,684,960 long tons, its total output being 3 per cent greater than during the previous year. Pennsylvania, which ranks so high in its manufactures of iron and steel, produced during the year 1903 only 644,559 tons of ore which was a decline of 22 per cent from the figures of 1902. This decline was due almost entirely to the diminished output of the Cornwall ore hills, to which Pennsylvania was indebted for its position as a prominent producer for a number of years.

In coal, the total production of Alabama in 1903 was 11,654,324 short tons of a spot value aggregating $14,246,798. This was a gain of 12.6 per cent in quantity and 14.7 per cent in value over the previous year. Pennsylvania, of course, ranks far ahead of all the states in coal production, her output last year in bituminous coal being 103,117,178 tons, valued at $121,752,759. Alabama remains the fifth state in point of production and is outranked only by Pennsylvania, Illinois, West Virginia and Ohio.

MRS. ROOSEVELT RETURNS.

White House Once More Echoes With the Laughter of Children—Kermit Failed to Get an Alligator.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9.—(Special.)—Once more the corridors and rooms of the White House are echoing with the merriment and laughter of children, for Mrs. Roosevelt and the youngsters all came back this morning from their recent outing in the south. Tanned and ruddy, they arrived at an early hour this morning glad to be home again, but showing unmistakably the benefits derived from their recent jaunt.

Mrs. Roosevelt is looking particularly well after entire freedom from all domestic and social cares, and will, no doubt, soon inaugurate a plan for a series of spring entertainments to be given at the White House. The young people are reported to have enjoyed the outing immensely, although Kermit was disappointed in not being able to "get" an alligator.

NEGRO BAPTIZES ITALIAN.

White Man Is Then Received as a Member of an African Baptist Church.

BROWNSVILLE, April 9.—The strange spectacle of a white man being baptized by a negro clergyman for admission into an African Baptist church drew hundreds to the bank of the Monongahela river near the Brownsville brewery this afternoon. The candidate was Antonio Dominco, an Italian 18 years old, who had been converted at a revival meeting.

A throng of negroes and Italians watched him as he walked into the stream accompanied by the Rev. Frank Wilson, pastor of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist church of Brownsville. Following his immersion he was received into the church.

It is believed to be the only instance on record of a white man joining a colored church.

PLATT HOLDING HIS OWN.

No Perceptible Change Noted in the Condition of the Connecticut Senator.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 9.—No perceptible change has taken place in the condition of United States Senator Orville H. Platt in the past 24 hours. This means, in the opinion of Dr. W. J. Ford, that the senator is holding his own against the rather serious aspect of the recurrent attack of bronchial pneumonia.

During last night Senator Platt had six hours of sleep made up of half-hour naps.

PRAIRIE FIRE ALARMED SHADYSIDE RESIDENTS

Two Acres of Shrubbery Consumed—Old Hussey Mansion Was in Danger.

Residents of the fashionable section of Shadyside enjoyed all the excitement of a prairie fire yesterday afternoon. Largely owing to the fact that Pittsburgh has a good fire-fighting service, none of inhabitants of Shadyside was compelled to sleep in a tent on Squirrel Hill last night.

A spark from a locomotive on the Pennsylvania railroad dropped among dry shrubbery on the large bank overlooking Shadyside station on which the old Hussey mansion is located. In a few minutes the fire had burned its way almost to the house. Efforts to put out the flames with garden hose and buckets proved futile and an alarm was sent in to the fire department. The fire had burned over nearly two acres and was threatening the old mansion when the firemen arrived. After half an hour's work the flames were extinguished.

The Hussey mansion is vacant at present.

SOUGHT HIM AT MORGUE AND FOUND HIM AT HOME

Mrs. McPherson Didn't Engage Diver to Search River for Husband, and, Returning, Meets Him.

Worried over the finding of a note on the Seventh street bridge late Saturday night signed with the name of her husband, Charles McPherson, announcing that he was about to commit suicide by drowning himself in the Allegheny river, Mrs. Ella McPherson of 1325 Federal street, Allegheny, made inquiries for his remains at the morgue yesterday morning.

A suggestion was made that Mrs. McPherson engage a diver. She went home to think it over and found her husband awaiting her. Mrs. McPherson states that he acted strangely, and after a short talk, again left the house without announcing his destination.

Mrs. McPherson, who lives with her mother, said yesterday afternoon that he had not provided for her for several months. They have been married five years. McPherson was for a time an agent for the Western Pennsylvania Humane society.

Saturday he was appointed a deputy constable in the office of Alderman David McKelvey of Allegheny. McPherson called upon his wife Saturday night, when, it is said, an argument arose and he left the house. A half hour later the note announcing his suicide was found upon the bridge.

MR. JONES WAS AT HOME WHEN BUCKHANNON CALLED

Thomas Buckhannon of Flora street and George Jones of Perry street, negroes, were arrested yesterday and locked up in the Center avenue police station. Buckhannon, it is alleged, fired several shots from a revolver at Jones, when the latter called at his home and asked if Mrs. Jones was there.
